Acknowledgment

This book has been prepared in close cooperation with experts in the area of software agents and collaborative commerce from 16 universities and four companies over eight countries or regions. The editors would like to thank all the chapter authors, in particular Michael Weiss, Yun Wan, Wen-Shan Lin, Tim Chou, Raymund J. Lin, Zengchang Qin, Joseph Barjis, Samuel Chong, Golenur Begum Huq, Robyn Lawson, Yee Ming Chen, Pei-Ni Huang, Z. Luo, M. Wang, W.K. Cheung, J. Liu, F. Tong, C.J. Tan, Kun Chang Lee, Namho Lee, Pinata Winoto, Tiffany Y. Tang, Kieron O’Hara, Harith Alani, Yannis Kalfoglou, Nigel Shadbolt, Soe-Tsyr Yuan, Pei-Hung Hsieh, M. Bakhouya, and J. Gaber, for their great effort in preparing the manuscripts and their insights and excellent contributions to this book.

Our thanks also go to all reviewers who provided constructive and comprehensive reviews for their assistance in improving the quality of this book. Special thanks to IGI Global, who published the book with clear guidelines over the whole editorial process. Last but not the least, we would like to thank Kristin Roth, Meg Stocking, and Jessica Thompson who provided all the help during the editorial process in the past year.

In closing, we wish to thank all of the readers for their support to this book. We hope they find this book informative and useful.

Eldon Y. Li
National Chengchi University, Taiwan and Cal Poly – San Luis Obispo, USA

Soe-Tsyr Yuan
National Chengchi University, Taiwan