Table of Contents

Foreword ........................................................................................................................... viii
Preface ................................................................................................................................. xi
Acknowledgment ................................................................................................................. xxix

Chapter I
Theories and Models of Business Firms ................................................................. 1
Introduction ......................................................................................................................... 1
Resource-Based Theory of the Firm ..................................................................................... 2
Activity-Based Theory of the Firm ....................................................................................... 3
Value Configuration of the Firm .......................................................................................... 4
The Firm as a Value Chain .................................................................................................... 4
The Firm as a Value Shop ...................................................................................................... 5
The Firm as a Value Network ............................................................................................... 8
Comparison of Value Configurations ................................................................................. 9
Business Model of the Firm ................................................................................................. 10
E-Business Models ............................................................................................................. 14
Appropriate E-Business Models for E-Strategies ............................................................. 22
Summary ............................................................................................................................. 27
References ........................................................................................................................... 29

Chapter II
Strategic Management Principles ............................................................................. 31
Introduction ......................................................................................................................... 31
Basic Principles of Strategy ............................................................................................... 32
Corporate Strategy ............................................................................................................... 34
Strategic Management ........................................................................................................ 35
Strategic Planning ............................................................................................................... 39
Measurement of Competitive Strategy .............................................................................. 40
Distinctive Nature of IT Sourcing ................................................................. 278
Sourcing Alternatives ................................................................................. 280
IT Outsourcing Decisions ......................................................................... 286
Outsourcing Performance ........................................................................... 288
Transformational Outsourcing ................................................................. 289
Global Outsourcing .................................................................................... 292
Dimensions of IT Outsourcing Strategy ..................................................... 295
Sourcing Theories ....................................................................................... 297
Theories of the Firm .................................................................................... 298
Economic Theories ..................................................................................... 300
Relational Theories .................................................................................... 301
Comparison of Theories ............................................................................ 306
Case Examples: Sourcing Strategies .......................................................... 306
Summary ...................................................................................................... 310
References .................................................................................................... 311
Endnote ........................................................................................................ 314

Chapter IX
The CIO Enabling IT Governance ................................................................. 315
Introduction ................................................................................................ 315
What is IT Governance? ............................................................................ 315
Corporate Governance .............................................................................. 317
Contracts in Governance .......................................................................... 318
Governance and Management Roles ......................................................... 323
Why is IT Governance Important? .............................................................. 323
The Outsourcing Governance Model .......................................................... 325
How to Succeed as a Client ...................................................................... 329
How to Succeed as a Vendor ..................................................................... 329
CIO Leadership and IT Governance ............................................................ 329
The CIO Position ....................................................................................... 332
Hybrid Manager ......................................................................................... 337
Roles and Responsibilities ....................................................................... 340
Leadership Behavior ............................................................................... 342
CIO’s Influence Behavior ........................................................................ 343
Work Experience ....................................................................................... 346
The New CIO Leader ............................................................................... 349
CIO Backgrounds ..................................................................................... 350
The CEO–CIO Relationship ..................................................................... 351
Summary .................................................................................................... 352
References .................................................................................................... 353

Chapter X
Business Innovation and Information Management .................................... 356
Introduction ............................................................................................... 356
Business Innovation Types ....................................................................... 357
Characteristics and Scale of Innovation ...................................................... 363
Value of IT: Levels of Business Transformation Capabilities .................... 367
Information Capabilities for Innovation ..................................................... 370
Chapter XI
Innovation Driven Knowledge Management

Introduction: Knowledge Drives Innovation ...................................................... 392
Knowledge as a Strategic Resource ................................................................. 392
Characteristics of Knowledge ........................................................................... 395
The Knowledge–Strategy Link .......................................................................... 396
Approaches to Knowledge Management .......................................................... 398
The Economic School ....................................................................................... 398
The Organizational School ................................................................................. 403
The Strategic School .......................................................................................... 409
Chief Knowledge Officer ..................................................................................... 412
IT Requirements of Knowledge Management .................................................... 416
IS/IT in Knowledge Management ....................................................................... 417
Knowledge Management Processes .................................................................... 419
Summary .............................................................................................................. 424
References .......................................................................................................... 425

Chapter XII
Business-Aligned IT Strategy Case Example: CLP Group, Hong Kong .............. 428
Introduction ........................................................................................................ 428
CLP Group Company Profile ............................................................................. 429
CLP Group Vision/Mission .................................................................................. 430
Strategic Positioning ............................................................................................ 430
CLP Group Strategy ............................................................................................. 431
CLP IT Strategy .................................................................................................... 431
CLP Strategy Map ................................................................................................ 432
CLP Financial Perspective .................................................................................... 433
CLP Customer Perspective .................................................................................. 433
CLP Internal Perspective (Core Processes) ........................................................ 435
CLP Learning and Growth Perspective Information Capital (IT Strategy) ........ 437
Commercial Benefits Delivered by CLP Group IT Strategy ................................ 454
Summary .............................................................................................................. 456
References .......................................................................................................... 457
Endnotes .............................................................................................................. 457

About the Authors ............................................................................................... 459
Index .................................................................................................................... 461