The editors would like to thank all authors who submitted chapters for this book, as well as everyone who helped with the reviewing process. The production of this book has been a challenging, interesting and rewarding experience. A total of 35 extended abstracts were received, with the authors of 30 abstracts invited to submit full chapters. After a careful reviewing process, 17 chapters were finally accepted for the book. All the submitted chapters were reviewed by at least two referees. Without the considerable hard work and dedication of the reviewers this book would not have been possible. We would also like to thank the authors for their patience and considerable efforts in revising, clarifying and responding to the editors’ and reviewers’ many queries and requests during the process of producing this book.

The editors would like to thank all of the staff at IGI Global especially Heather Probst, Jan Travers and Megan Childs for their invaluable support and assistance throughout the entire production process.
