Acknowledgment

First and foremost, we would like to acknowledge the support of Dr. Stavroula Barbounaki for her constructive and insightful comments. Early versions of chapters were read by Stavroula, and her suggestions were immensely valuable in shaping the final version. We are hugely indebted for her willingness to spend many hours reviewing the chapters of the book and enhancing its content. Dimitris in particular acknowledges Stavroula’s unselfish constant support and motivation as it has been vital for the completion of this book. Special thanks also go to Ms. Chara Papaioannou (MSc) for her editing assistance she provided us.

We would like to gratefully acknowledge Julia Mosemann, Director of Book Publications IGI Global, for her continuous encouragement, kindness, patience, and professionalism with which she supported us throughout the writing of this book. Special thanks go to the IGI publishing team for their efforts to publish our work.
