Intelligent Learning Infrastructure for Knowledge Intensive Organizations: A Semantic Web Perspective

Table of Contents

Preface ............................................................................................................. vi

Chapter I
The Corporate Learning Environment ....................................................... 1
    Jerry Klein, KnowledgeKraft, Inc., USA
    Deniz Eseryel, Syracuse University, USA

Chapter II
Enabling Technologies for the Semantic Web .........................................39
    Kevin R. Parker, Idaho State University, USA

Chapter III
Knowledge Management Technologies for E-Learning: Semantic Web and Others .................................................................57
    Jinwei Cao, University of Arizona, USA
    Dongsong Zhang, University of Maryland, Baltimore County, USA

Chapter IV
From Knowledge Management System to E-Learning Tool .................81
    Tang-Ho Lê, Université de Moncton, Canada
    Chadia Moghrabi, Université de Moncton, Canada
    John Tivendell, Université de Moncton, Canada
    Johanne Hachey, Université de Moncton, Canada
    Jean Roy, Université de Moncton, Canada
Chapter V
Knowledge Management and Knowledge Management Systems .... 105
Deniz Eseryel, Syracuse University, USA
U. Yeliz Eseryel, Welch Allyn and Syracuse University, USA
Gerald S. Edmonds, Syracuse University, USA

Chapter VI
Building Integrative Enterprise Knowledge Portals with Semantic Web Technologies ........................................................................................................... 146
Torsten Priebe, University of Regensburg, Germany

Chapter VII
Knowledge Agents: Exploiting the Community Paradigm for Collective Intelligence ........................................................................................................ 189
Achilleas Anagnostopoulos, Athens University of Economics and Business, Greece
Nikolaos Lampropoulos, Athens University of Economics and Business, Greece
Sotiris Michalakos, Athens University of Economics and Business, Greece

Chapter VIII
Intelligent Tutoring Systems for the New Learning Infrastructure ............................................................................................................................ 225
Marko Rosic, University of Split, Croatia
Vlado Glavinic, University of Zagreb, Croatia
Slavomir Stankov, University of Split, Croatia

Chapter IX
Classroom for the Semantic Web ................................................................................................................................. 251
Goran Shimic, University of Belgrade, Serbia and Montenegro
Dragan Gasevic, Simon Fraser University, Surrey, Canada
Vladan B. Devedzic, University of Belgrade, Serbia and Montenegro

Chapter X
Toward an Integrated E-Collaboration Framework for Learning Purposes .................................................................................................................... 284
Nikos Karacapilidis, University of Patras, Greece

Chapter XI
Ontology-Based Competency Management: Infrastructures for the Knowledge Intensive Learning Organization ........................................................................... 302
Miguel-Angel Sicilia, University of Alcalá, Spain
Chapter XII
From Knowledge Repository to Knowledge Space ..................... 325
  Martin Dzbor, The Open University, UK
  Enrico Motta, The Open University, UK
  Arthur Stutt, The Open University, UK

Chapter XIII
Ontologies and E-Learning: How to Teach a Classification .......... 345
  Matteo Cristani, Università di Verona, Italy

Chapter XIV
A Case Study in Supporting Distributed, Loosely-Controlled and Evolving Engineering of Ontologies .................................... 357
  York Sure, University of Karlsruhe, Germany
  Christoph Tempich, University of Karlsruhe, Germany
  Sofia Pinto, Instituto Superior Técnico, Portugal
  Steffen Staab, University of Koblenz, Germany

Chapter XV
Collaboration and Pervasiveness: Enhancing Collaborative
Learning Based on Ubiquitous Computational Services .......... 369
  Kazuhiko Shibuya, Musashino University, Japan

Chapter XVI
Case Study: Knowledge Sharing, Communities of Practice, and Organizational Change at the World Bank Group .................... 391
  Lesley Shneier, World Bank, USA
