Table of Contents

Preface ................................................................................................................................................xvii

Acknowledgment ..................................................................................................................................xxvi

Section 1
Cyber Ethics as an Issue of Virtual Philosophy

Chapter 1
Computer Ethics and Neoplatonic Virtue: A Reconsideration of Cyberethics in the Light of Plotinus’ Ethical Theory.............................................................................................................. 1
   Giannis Stamatellos, University of Copenhagen, Denmark

Chapter 2
The Tension Between Human and Cyborg Ethics ............................................................... 13
   Anne Gerdes, University of Southern Denmark, Denmark

Chapter 3
Constructivist and Constructionist Approaches to Graduate Teaching in Second Life:
Ethical Considerations and Legal Implications ........................................................... 25
   R. S. Talab, Kansas State University, USA
   Hope R. Botterbusch, Kansas State University, USA

Chapter 4
Computer Teachers’ Attitudes toward Ethical Use of Computers in Elementary Schools .......... 46
   Niyazi Özer, Inonu University, Turkey
   Celal Teyyar Uğurlu, Cumhuriyet University, Turkey
   Kadir Beycioglu, Dokuz Eylul University, Turkey

Chapter 5
Teaching Cyberethics: Value Orientations as Predictors of the Acquisition of Moral Competence in a Course on the Social Consequences of Information Technology .............................................................. 56
   Peter Holtz, Friedrich Schiller University Jena, Germany, & Johannes Kepler University, Austria
Chapter 6
Ethical Decision Making with Information Systems Students: An Exploratory Study ................................. 70
Samer Alhawari, Applied Science Private University, Jordan
Amine Nehari Talet, King Fahd University of Petroleum & Minerals, Saudi Arabia

Chapter 7
Virtue, Privacy and Self-Determination: A Plotinian Approach to the Problem of Information Privacy ......................................................................................................................... 84
Giannis Stamatellos, University of Copenhagen, Denmark

Section 2
Cyber Ethical Issues: The Case of Higher Education

Chapter 8
The Evolution of E-Learning Management Systems: An Ethical Approach .................................................. 93
Nuno Sotero Alves da Silva, De Montfort University, UK
Gonçalo Jorge Morais da Costa, De Montfort University, UK
Mary Prior, De Montfort University, UK
Simon Rogerson, De Montfort University, UK

Chapter 9
The International SOLE™ of Finnish Higher Education: A Virtual Vanishing Act ........................................ 107
David M. Hoffman, University of Jyväskylä, Finland
Jussi Välimaa, University of Jyväskylä, Finland
Taina Saarinen, University of Jyväskylä, Finland
Minna Söderqvist, Aalto University, Finland
Mika Raunio, University of Tampere, Finland
Marjaana Korhonen, University of Tampere, Finland

Chapter 10
Global Education Access Utilizing Partnerships and Networked
Global Learning Communities ........................................................................................................................... 122
Vanessa Hammler Kenon, University of Texas, USA

Chapter 11
The Significance of Network Ethics Education in Japanese Universities: A Global Citizenship
Education for Building a Moral Community in the Globalized Network Society ............................... 133
Tetsu Ueno, Oyama National College of Technology, Japan
Yasushi Maruyama, Hiroshima University, Japan

Chapter 12
Transparent Classrooms: How the Mobile Phone is Changing Educational Settings ........................... 142
Carla Ganito, Catholic University of Portugal, Portugal
Chapter 13
The Net Generation and E-Textbooks

Arlene J. Nicholas, Salve Regina University, USA
John K. Lewis, Salve Regina University, USA

Chapter 14
Web 2.0: Privacy and Integrity in the Virtual Campus

Lisa Harris, University of Southampton, UK
Lorraine Warren, University of Southampton, UK
Kelly Smith, University of Huddersfield, UK
Charlotte Carey, Birmingham City University, UK

Section 3
Digital Equity

Chapter 15
How Do Technology Application and Equity Impact Student Achievement?

Tak Cheung Chan, Kennesaw State University, USA

Chapter 16
Digital Equity in Schools: An Overview of Current Trends

Jo E. Williamson, Kennesaw State University, USA

Chapter 17
Embracing Technology and Community Engagement as a Teaching and Learning Medium in Social Justice Education

Loshini Naidoo, University of Western Sydney, Australia

Section 4
Responsible Use of Computers

Chapter 18
An Analysis of Prospective Teachers’ Digital Citizenship Behaviour Norms

Mehmet Sincar, University of Gaziantep, Turkey

Chapter 19
Cheating in Exams with Technology

Kevin Curran, University of Ulster, UK
Gary Middleton, University of Ulster, UK
Ciaran Doherty, University of Ulster, UK
Chapter 20
Teaching Online: The Handbook Dilemma in Higher Education .................................................. 243
Tor Söderström, Umeå University, Sweden

Chapter 21
Helping Students Avoid Plagiarism in Online Courses: A Design-Based Research Approach .... 256
Stephen Asunka, Regent University College of Science & Technology, Ghana

Compilation of References ............................................................................................................. 274

About the Contributors .................................................................................................................. 311

Index ............................................................................................................................................. 319