Acknowledgment

The production of this international book took numerous persons besides us editors (Helen E. Muga, and Ken D. Thomas) and we would like to extend our thanks to all of them.

Since the call for cases was put out in late 2011 we relied, among other channels, on professional and personal relationships to spread word to potential authors. To those of you that passed along our call we are deeply appreciative. We know that it certainly helped in us attaining 17 extremely high quality cases in this book. It should be noted that all the cases went through at least a double blind review, with strict technical evaluation criteria, and then editorial reviews by our Editorial Advisory Board (EAB) members. The quality of this final product would not have been where it is without the selflessness and expertise of our reviewers and EAB members. Our utmost gratitude is extended to the 13 reviewers and 7 EAB members.

There would be no book without our authors. Among the 17 chapters there are some 28 authors that collaborated to produce work with global appeal and relevance. Thank you to the authors for trusting our process and for believing in the product enough to publish your original work with us. Having this opportunity only came since IGI Global showed interest. For this we are thankful to IGI Global especially to Mr. Austin DeMarco and Ms. Hanna Abelbeck whom we had to work with directly to get to this stage. Thank you both for your absolute patience and assistance, we could not have done this without you.

It is an absolute privilege to have someone as esteemed at Dr. Cliff Davidson – a known intellect of sustainability and sustainable development – write the Foreword to this book. Thank you, sir.

Finally, we are absolutely grateful for the support of our affiliate institutions: Department of Engineering, University of Mount Union, Alliance, Ohio, USA; and The Honors College & Biosystems Engineering Department, Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama, USA.
