Acknowledgment

We wish to express our appreciation to colleagues who contributed chapters to this volume. The success of any edited book is a function of the quality of the individual authors. This volume represents the collective wisdom of many who voluntarily spent hundreds of hours putting together a series of chapters that provide excellent overview of the theories and practice in adolescent online social communication.

Our appreciation also goes to our reviewers who provide insightful input and suggestions. I thank all of our authors for their own expert assistance. I would also like to thank the following reviewers in particularly for their hard work, generous donation of their time, and their attention to detail:

Deanna Blackwell, University of Utah
Megan Call, University of Utah
Richard Hoffman, University of Utah
Melda N. Yildiz, William Paterson University

A special note of acknowledgment is given to Kristin M. Klinger and Julia Mosemann, editors at IGI Global, whose expertise and generous support make this project a great success. We would also like to thank the publishing team at IGI Global who has demonstrated the highest level of professionalism and integrity.

Finally, we would like to acknowledge the support from the Utah State Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice and the Center for the Advancement of Technology in Education (CATE) at University of Utah.

Robert Z. Zheng
Jason J. Burrow-Sanchez
Clifford J. Drew

April 2009