Preface ............................................................................................................................................. vi

SECTION I: TECHNOLOGY DEVELOPMENT

Chapter I. Supporting Electronic Negotiation for Intelligent Trading .......................................................... 1
Leila Alem, Ryszard Kowalczyk and Maria R. Lee
CSIRO Mathematical and Information Sciences, Australia

Chapter II. E-Commerce Software: From Analysis to Design .............. 17
Peter Rittgen, University Koblenz-Landau, Germany

Chapter III. Towards a Methodology for the Development of Web-Based Systems: Models, Methods and Activities for Conceptual Design of Large Web-Based Information Systems .......... 37
Bernhard Strauch and Robert Winter
University of St. Gallen, Switzerland

Chapter IV. Retriever: Improving Web Search Engine Results Using Clustering ............................................. 59
Anupam Joshi, University of Maryland Baltimore County, USA
Zhihua Jiang, American Management Systems, Inc., USA

Chapter V. Digital Asset Management: Concepts and Issues ........... 82
Ramesh Subramanian and Minnie Yi-Miin Yen
University of Alaska Anchorage, USA

SECTION II: MARKETING

Chapter VI. Pricing and Service Quality in Electronic Commerce .... 100
Kemal Altinkemer, Purdue University, USA
Kerem Tomak, University of Texas at Austin, USA
Chapter VII. Delivery and Tracking of Rotating Banner Advertisements on the World Wide Web: An Information System Model ............................................................................................. 116
   Subhasish Dasgupta, George Washington University, USA
   Rajesh Chandrashekaran, Fairleigh Dickinson University, USA

Chapter VIII. The On-Demand Delivery Services Model for eCommerce ............................................. 131
   Merrill Warkentin, Mississippi State University, USA
   Akhilesh Bajaj, Carnegie Mellon University, USA

SECTION III: FINANCE

Chapter IX. Electronic Payment Systems: An Empirical Investigation of Customer and Merchant Requirements ............... 151
   Pat Finnegan, University College Cork, Ireland
   John Kilmartin, Deloitte and Touche Consultants, Ireland

Chapter X. E-Commerce in the Financial Services Industry .......... 167
   Richard Holowczak
   Baruch College, City University of New York, USA

Chapter XI. E-Capital Budgeting: Managing Strategic Investments in a World of Uncertainty ................................. 182
   Parvez Ahmed, Penn State Harrisburg, USA

SECTION IV: BUSINESS STRATEGIES

Chapter XII. A Concept for the Evaluation of E-Commerce-Ability ................................................................. 199
   Ulrike Baumoel, Thomas Fugmann, Thomas Stiffel and Robert Winter
   University of St. Gallen, Switzerland

   Martin Barnett and Janice M. Burn, Edith Cowan University, Australia

Chapter XIV. Cyber Shopping and Privacy .......... 235
   Jatinder N. D. Gupta and Sushil K. Sharma
   Ball State University, USA

About the Authors ...................................................................................... 250

Index ............................................................................................................. 258