Acknowledgment

The chapters comprising this book were first presented at the DEHub and ODLAA SUMMIT: Education 2011 to 2021 – Global Challenges and Perspectives of Blended and Distance Learning held in Sydney on 15th – 18th February 2011. We are indebted to the Australian Government Department Industry, Innovation, Science, Research, and Tertiary Education for funding the Summit through the DEHub Project. We are also indebted for the collaboration and financial support from the Open and Distance Learning Association of Australia (ODLAA). Without this support, it would not have been possible to bring together over 200 delegates from 18 countries to discuss current issues facing the distance and online education sector and provide a highly successful forum for networking and contributing to the research literature of distance and online learning, resulting in this publication. Lastly, we would also like to thank all the summit participants and especially those authors who took the time to polish their work to contribute to this volume.

J. Willems
Monash University, Australia

B. Tynan
University of Southern Queensland, Australia

R. James
University of New England, Australia

June 2012