Table of Contents

Foreword.............................................................................................................................................. xvi

Preface................................................................................................................................................ xviii

Acknowledgment................................................................................................................................ xxix

Section 1

Global Issues and Perspectives in Distance and Flexible Education

Chapter 1
Maximising Technology Usage in Research Synthesis of Higher Education Professional Development Research ................................................................. 1
  Cherry Stewart, University of New England, Australia
  Stefan Horarik, University of New England, Australia
  Keith Wolodko, University of New England, Australia

Chapter 2
Equity in Distance Education ................................................................................................. 17
  J. Willems, Monash University, Australia

Chapter 3
Beyond the Boundaries: The Future for Borderless Higher Education ................................. 36
  Don Olcott Jr., University of Maryland University College, USA

Chapter 4
Transnational Distance Education: Cultural and Quality Considerations ............................ 55
  Colin Latchem, Distance Education Consultant, Australia
  Yoni Ryan, Australian Catholic University, Australia

Chapter 5
Distance Education Quality Assurance in Ghana ..................................................................... 73
  Godwin Utuka, Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand
Section 2
Case Studies of Global Responses to Distance and Flexible Education

Chapter 6
Open Universities Australia: The Evolution of Open Access and Online Education Opportunities .... 83
  Michael Crock, Open Universities Australia (OUA), Australia
  Janet Baker, Open Universities Australia (OUA), Australia
  Skye Turner-Walker, Open Universities Australia (OUA), Australia

Chapter 7
Managing Project-Based Workplace Learning at a Distance: University-Health Service Partnership in a Master’s Program ........................................... 99
  Jo Osborne, University of Tasmania, Australia

Chapter 8
Southern Skies Distance Education Academic Exchange Project: Building a Community of Practice ................................................................................................................. 107
  Carina Bossu, University of New England, Australia

Chapter 9
Cooperation between a Distance Teaching University and an On-Campus University:
The Creation of a Dual-Mode University .................................................................................. 115
  Louise Bertrand, University of Quebec, Canada

Chapter 10
eCampusAlberta: A Story of Strategic Partnership and Collaboration Success in Distance Education ........................................................................................................ 124
  Tricia Donovan, eCampusAlberta, Canada
  Janet Paterson-Weir, eCampusAlberta, Canada

Chapter 11
Distance Learning: The “Risk Mitigation” Case for Independent Governmental Performance Measures in New Zealand ........................................... 137
  Luke Strongman, Open Polytechnic of New Zealand, New Zealand
  Polly Kobeleva, Open Polytechnic of New Zealand, New Zealand

Chapter 12
Pre-Service Teacher Education for the Management of Actual and Virtual Classes .................... 152
  Ken Stevens, Memorial University of Newfoundland, Canada
Section 3
Capacity Development

Chapter 13
Supporting Teachers in Optimizing Technologies for Open Learning .................................................. 160
Diana Laurillard, University of London, UK

Chapter 14
Community of Practice or Networked Learning: A Matter of Design.................................................. 174
Wendy Fasso, Central Queensland University, Australia

Chapter 15
Shifting Mindsets Within: Self-Study of Professional Learning .............................................................. 191
Brenda Wolodko, University of New England, Australia
Cherry Stewart, University of New England, Australia
Nicole Green, University of Southern Queensland, Australia
Helen Edwards, University of New England, Australia
Margaret Brooks, University of New England, Australia
Roz Littledyke, University of New England, Australia

Chapter 16
The Casual Academic in University Distance Education: From Isolation to Integration –
A Prescription for Change.................................................................................................................. 202
Katrina Higgins, Central Queensland University, Australia
R. E. (Bobby) Harreveld, Central Queensland University, Australia

Chapter 17
An Associate Dean’s Community of Practice: Rising to the Leadership Challenges of Engaging
Distance Students using Blended Models of Learning and Teaching................................................. 212
Jill Lawrence, University of Southern Queensland, Australia
Lorelle Burton, University of Southern Queensland, Australia
Jane Summers, University of Southern Queensland, Australia
Karen Noble, University of Southern Queensland, Australia
Peter Gibbings, University of Southern Queensland, Australia

Chapter 18
The Problem of Analysis of the Temporal Dimension in e-Learning Research ......................... 223
Begoña Gros, Universitat Oberta de Catalunya, Spain

Chapter 19
Applying STREAMS to the Management of Organizational Change in Distance Education ...... 231
Eugene Willems, MENTOR Education and Business Management Solutions, Australia
Julie Willems, Monash University, Australia
Chapter 20
A Whole of University Approach to Embedding Graduate Attributes: A Reflection......................... 246
  Julie Fleming, CQUUniversity, Australia
  Robyn Donovan, CQUUniversity, Australia
  Colin Beer, CQUUniversity, Australia
  Damien Clark, CQUUniversity, Australia

Chapter 21
Epilogue: Directions for Future Research........................................................................................... 258
  B. Tynan, University of Southern Queensland, Australia
  J. Willems, Monash University, Australia

Compilation of References ................................................................................................................... 262

About the Contributors ........................................................................................................................ 286

Index.................................................................................................................................................... 295