Managing Web-Enabled Technologies in Organizations: A Global Perspective

Table of Contents

Preface ........................................................................................................................................... i

Chapter One
Web-Enabled Technologies Assessment and Management: Critical Issues .......... 1
Mehdi Khosrowpour, Pennsylvania State University, USA
Nancy Herman, Pennsylvania State University, USA

Chapter Two
Developing Applications for the Web: Exploring Differences ......................... 23
Between Traditional and World Wide Web Application Development
Nancy L. Russo
Northern Illinois University, USA

Chapter Three
Planning for Effective Web-Based Commerce Application Development .......... 36
Ming-te Lu, Lingnan University, Hong Kong
W.L. Yeung, Lingnan University, Hong Kong

Chapter Four
Managing Web Technologies Acquisition, Utilization and Organization ........... 54
Change: Understanding Sociocognitive Processual Dynamics
Mathew J. Klempa
Information Systems Consultant, USA

Chapter Five
The Five Stages of Customizing Web-Based Mass Information Systems .......... 103
Arno Scharl
University of Economics and Business Administration, Austria
Chapter Six
Viability Through Web-Enabled Technologies ................................. 122
Dirk Vriens, University of Nijmegen, The Netherlands
Paul Hendriks, University of Nijmegen, The Netherlands

Chapter Seven
World Wide Wait ................................................................. 146
Fui Hoon Nah, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, USA
Kihyun Kim, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, USA

Chapter Eight
A Matter of Necessity: Implementing Web-Based Subject Administration ..... 162
Paul Darbyshire, Victoria University of Technology, Australia
Andrew Wenn, Victoria University of Technology, Australia

Chapter Nine
Web-Based Competency and Training Management Systems ............ 191
for Distance Learning
Tammy Whalen, University of Ottawa, Canada
David Wright, University of Ottawa, Canada

Chapter Ten
Electronic Commerce in Egypt ................................................. 210
Sherif Kamel
American University in Cairo, Egypt

Chapter Eleven
Managing the Business of Web-Enabled Education and Training: ........ 233
A Framework and Case Studies for Replacing Blackboards with Browsers for Distance Learning
Mahesh S. Raisinghani, University of Dallas, USA
David Baker, Digital Think, Inc., USA

Author Biography ................................................................. 256

Index ................................................................. 259