Acknowledgment

My heart-felt thanks go to the editorial advisory board members who have graciously and generously reviewed all the chapters during the blind review process despite their busy administrative and teaching schedules. Many of them have contributed chapter(s) to this book. Their friendship and hard work are deeply appreciated. I thank IGI Global whose editorial/production team has continuously supported my work in this field. Users of this book and university libraries, thank you for considering this book as a premiere textbook or reference book. This book is just the beginning of an academic journal in K-20 education. I invite our users and fellow researchers to continue to delve into any topics concerning K-20 education.

Victor C. X. Wang
Florida Atlantic University, USA