Acknowledgment

We would like to acknowledge the assistance of the ten Editorial Advisory Board members and the 23 expert reviewers involved in the review process for all the 16 chapters of this book. Without their work and support, this book could not have been satisfactorily completed.

We sincerely thank In Lee, Professor of Information Systems at the Western Illinois University, founding Editor-in-Chief of the International Journal of E-Business Research.

Jan Travers, Erika Gallagher, Myla Merkel, and others from IGI Global, whose help and contributions throughout the whole process have been essential.

We also thank Sarolta Dibuz from Ericsson for her brilliant ideas. We are grateful for the earnest and constructive work of Tamás András Zettner, who was assisting in organizing the whole project from the beginnings.

Finally, we would like to express our gratitude to the 31 authors for their contributions and collaboration.
