Table of Contents

Preface..................................................................................................................................................xiv

Acknowledgment.................................................................................................................................xvi

Chapter 1
Chinese Pedagogy or Western Andragogy? ................................................................. 1
  Victor C. X. Wang, Florida Atlantic University, USA
  Susan Dennett, Florida Atlantic University, USA
  Valerie Bryan, Florida Atlantic University, USA

Chapter 2
Global Education in the Russian Federation ............................................................ 26
  Carsten Schmidtke, University of Arkansas, USA

Chapter 3
Europe 2020: Will Higher Education in the European Union be a Catalyst for a More Dynamic,
Prosperous Economy? ................................................................................................. 47
  Valerie A. Storey, University of Central Florida, USA
  Brendan M. Richard, University of Central Florida, USA

Chapter 4
Collaboration Not Competition: International Education Expanding Perspectives on Learning and
Workforce Articulation ....................................................................................... 64
  Cynthia J. Benton, State University of New York College at Cortland, USA
  Orvil L. White, State University of New York College at Cortland, USA
  Susan K. Stratton, State University of New York College at Cortland, USA

Chapter 5
Education in Egypt and its Role in the Global Community .................................. 83
  Azzam Abd-El Naby Ahmed, Beni Suef University, Egypt
  Maria Martinez Witte, Auburn University, USA
  James E. Witte, Auburn University, USA

Chapter 6
Critical Teaching and Learning Issues in International Education ..................... 100
  Linda Ellington, Palm Beach Atlantic University, USA
Chapter 7
Observations of the Possible Influence of Andragogy on the Economies of World Nations .......... 115
  John A. Henschke, Lindenwood University, USA

Chapter 8
Implications for Recruiting International Students to the University of North Carolina System ...... 139
  Cheryl McFadden, East Carolina University, USA
  Cathy Maahs-Fladung, Utah State University, USA
  William Mallett, East Carolina University, USA
  Liyao Zhao, East Carolina University, USA

Chapter 9
Using Technology to Address Workforce Readiness Skills ....................................................... 154
  Thomas G. Reio Jr., Florida International University, USA
  Chaundra L. Whitehead, Florida International University, USA

Chapter 10
The Roles of Professional Organizations in School Library Education ........................................ 170
  Lesley S. J. Farmer, California State University, USA

Chapter 11
An Investigation of the Relationship of Motivation, Attitudes and Environment: Two Hong Kong
ESL Learners’ Experience................................................................................................................... 194
  Helen, Yeh Wai Man, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University (CPCE), China

Chapter 12
A Comparative Study on Undergraduate Computer Science Education between China and the United States ...................................................................................................................................... 208
  Eric P. Jiang, University of San Diego, USA

Chapter 13
Open, Flexible and Participatory Pedagogy in the Era of Globalisation: Technology, Open
Education and International E-Learning.......................................................................................... 224
  Catherine McLoughlin, Australian Catholic University, Australia

Chapter 14
  Olutoyin Mejiani, Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile-Ife, Nigeria

Compilation of References ............................................................................................................. 256

About the Contributors ................................................................................................................. 280

Index .......................................................................................................................................... 286