I must first and foremost thank, once again, the members of the Editorial Advisory Board. This intrepid volunteer group helped me solicit proposals, select them, and then review the chapters. This book would not exist without their hard work.

Kudos to the Mansfield Library Interlibrary Loan Department at the University of Montana, as always. ILL is a writer’s best friend!

Thanks also to Austin DeMarco and the other staff at IGI Global for all their assistance in getting this book published.

Finally, my immense appreciation and love to my husband, Eric, and children, Lorelei and Edwin, for their patience and support.
