I had a plan to write such a monograph several years ago when I was editing another book about trust modeling and management in digital environments in 2009. Most contents in this book are based on work conducted at the Nokia Research Center, Helsinki, Aalto University, Finland, and Xidian University, China. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the Nokia Research Center for initiating my research on trust modeling and management. I would like to extend my gratitude to Prof. Raimo Kantola, Aalto University, for his support with writing the book. This work is also sponsored by the Fundamental Research Funds for the Central Universities under Grant K5051201032 and the initial grant of Chinese Educational Ministry for researchers returned from abroad.

This project began in May 2011 and ended in December 2012. Some contents of the book are based on my cooperation with a number of previous colleagues and students: Ms. Yu Chen, Ms. Yue Shen, Prof. Valtteri Niemi, Prof. Raimo Kantola, Dr. Silke Holtmanns, Prof. Christian Prehofer, Prof. Peng Zhang, Prof. Robert H. Deng, Prof. Yan Dong, Dr. Conghui Liu, and Dr. Piotr Cofta. My sincere thanks to all of them!

I would like to thank IGI Global for inviting me to develop this book and the editorial assistants whose efficient and cheerful assistance throughout the project made it an enjoyable experience.

I was fortunate in having great support and encouragement from my family. I feel deeply indebted to my husband, Peng, for his endless care in both my life and work, which has been a great source of inspiration in the completion of this book. Actually, it was he who motivated me to develop a book by myself in order to summarize my perspectives on usable and autonomic trust management. Last but not the least, my love and thanks to my son, Kuan, who is always the source of my happiness and my strength to overcome challenges in the life. The book is for my loves: Peng and Kuan.
