Online Education for Lifelong Learning

Table of Contents

Foreword............................................................................................................. vii
Preface............................................................................................................... xi

Section I:
Introduction

Chapter I
Online Education for Lifelong Learning:
A Silent Revolution .............................................................................................. 1
Yukiko Inoue, University of Guam, Guam

Section II:
Development and Implementation of Online Lifelong Learning

Chapter II
Can You Hear Us Now?
Stances Towards Interaction and Rapport................................................. 29
Susan J. Wegmann, University of Central Florida, USA
Joyce K. McCauley, Sam Houston State University, USA
Chapter III
Online Learning and Lifelong Learning:
Implications for Transforming Teaching and Learning.......................... 51
   Glenn Finger, Gold Coast Campus Griffith University, Australia

Chapter IV
Technology, Lifelong Learning, and Effective Foreign Language
Instruction Under the Memory Efficient Approach ............................ 73
   P. Toyoko Kang, University of Guam, Guam

Section III:
Learning Theories and Online Applications for Lifelong Learning

Chapter V
Constructivism Online:
Vygotskian Applications for 21st Century Learning in Higher Education ........................................................................... 99
   Candace Kaye, New Mexico State University, USA
   Erica Volkers, Central New Mexico Community College, USA

Chapter VI
A Theoretical Model for Designing Online Education in Support of Lifelong Learning ....................................................................... 122
   Lawrence A. Tomei, Robert Morris University, USA

Chapter VII
Self-Regulation and Online Learning:
Theoretical Issues and Practical Challenges to Support
Lifelong Learning .......................................................................... 146
   Julia M. Matuga, Bowling Green State University, USA

Section IV:
Tech-Knowledge and Communication Technologies for Lifelong Learning

Chapter VIII
Building Powerful Online Synchronous Communications:
A Framework for Lifelong Learning in Distance Education ................. 170
   Volkan T. Yizer, Anadolu University, Turkey
   Gulsun Kurubacak, Anadolu University, Turkey
Chapter IX
Tech-Knowledge:
How Children and Early Childhood Education Teachers Develop Knowledge Through Technology ........................................ 187
Satomi Izumi-Taylor, University of Memphis, USA
Ann F. Lovelace, University of Memphis, USA

Chapter X
Building Online Knowledge Societies for Lifelong Learning:
The Democratic University-Community Partnerships in Turkey ........... 208
Gulsun Kurubacak, Anadolu University, Turkey

Section V:
Case Studies in Online Education for Lifelong Learning

Chapter XI
Promoting Lifelong Learning Online:
A Case Study of a Professional Development Experience .................... 229
Danilo M. Baylen, Florida Gulf Coast University, USA
Joan Glacken, Florida Gulf Coast University, USA

Chapter XII
“Life in the Round” and the History of Libraries in Micronesia .......... 253
Nicholas J. Goetzfridt, University of Guam, Guam

Chapter XIII
A Case Study of the Adult Learner’s Perception of Instructional Quality in Web-Based Online Courses ................................ 271
Terry T. Kidd, University of Houston-Downtown, USA
Holim Song, Texas Southern University, USA

Chapter XIV
Lifelong Learning and Online Education:
A New Framework for the Competence of Tomorrow’s Educators ......... 292
Mariantj Karatza, Bank of Cyprus, Greece
Argiris Tzikopoulos, University of Athens, Greece
Niki Phillips, Bank of Cyprus, Greece

About the Authors ................................................................................. 315
Index ....................................................................................................... 321