These chapters represent a wide diversity of viewpoints, carefully crafted to stimulate thinking and challenge perspectives. Our thanks go to the chapter authors, all of whom were valuable and collegial contributors to this project. We sincerely appreciate the sponsorship and assistance of everyone at the IGP Press. We are also indebted to G. Russell Barber, Frank Ghannadian, Samuel Juett, James Hunt, Spero Peppas, Mary Saunders, and Steven Simon, our colleagues from Mercer University who truly supported this project.

Finally, we thank Bob, Jonathan, and Larry for their encouragement—and our canine children for their companionship—as we worked our way through the process of editing hundreds of pages of manuscripts.

We hope you will find the result worthwhile.
