The Convergence of Broadband, Broadcast, and Cellular Network Technologies book would not exist without the effort of many people whose names may not appear on the cover of the book. However, their hard work, cooperation, friendship, and understanding were very important to the preparation and production of the book.

The editors would like to sincerely thank the entire team at IGI Global for their support and help in the publication of this book. In particular, we wish to thank Austin M. DeMarco the Managing Editor – Book Development. His patience was amazing and appreciated, while his guidance was always timely, useful, and valued.

Prof. John Murphy deserves special attention, as he very generously provided his time and expertise to help in writing the foreword. As the success of this book depends on the high quality chapters submitted, the editors wish to express their deep appreciation to the authors of each chapter for their significant contribution. Without their insights and expertise, this book would not be possible.

As in general the work associated with the chapter review is underestimated and forgotten, we would like to thank the team of reviewers for their generous commitment of time and effort they have put into the reviewing process and for providing their expertise to ensure a high-quality review process. We also thank the Editorial Advisory Board members for their implication in this project.

Last but not least, we would like to thank our families for being the “center of gravity” and for their continuous support along the way. In particular, Gabriel-Miro would like to thank his dear parents, Dora and Ivo, for being an immense source of inspirations throughout his life. His special gratitude is for his wife, Cristina, for her immense love, patience, and support. His lovely kids: his smart son, Daniel-Sasha, and beautiful daughter, Alexandra, for making him such a proud dad and making his life worth living. Ramona would like to thank her wonderful and loving parents, Maria and Vasile, for providing her the opportunity to study and be where she is today. Their unconditional love and care is a source of inspiration in everything that she is doing. Her special gratitude goes to her dear brother, Ionut, and his lovely wife, Andreea. She also owes a special thank you to Kumar for his continued patience and support, which were essential to this project.
