Table of Contents

Preface .................................................................................................................................................. xiv

Acknowledgment ................................................................................................................................... xx

Section 1
Revolutionary Innovation through Embracing Diversity’s Potential

Chapter 1
Engineering Justice ................................................................................................................................... 1
Joe Grimes, California Polytechnic State University, USA
Mark Grimes, University of California – Santa Barbara, USA

Chapter 2
Innovation through Diversity: We Aren’t Post-Politics................................................................. 24
Samantha Szczur, Eastern Illinois University, USA

Chapter 3
Contextual Intelligence: A Critical Competency for Leading in Complex Environments .............. 42
Matthew R. Kutz, Bowling Green State University, USA
Anita Bamford-Wade, Gold Coast University Hospital, Queensland, Australia

Section 2
Performance Damaging Challenges with Proven Approaches

Chapter 4
The Value of Adaption and Innovation as a Function of Diversity.................................................. 63
Curtis Friedel, Virginia Tech, USA

Chapter 5
Global Diversity and Organizational Culture’s Impact on Adaptation, Performance, and Innovation .......................................................................................................................... 82
Doris E. Cross, Organizational Change and Development Company (OCDC), USA
Chapter 6
Realizing Race: Media Representations and the Uneasy Adjustment of Asian International Students and African American Males on U.S. College Campuses ......................................................... 100
   Zachary Ritter, American Jewish University, USA
   Kenneth Roth, California State University – Dominguez Hills, USA

Chapter 7
Value Creation through Heterogeneous Cultural Team-Based Environments: A Multi-Lens UK Perspective ..................................................................................................................... 124
   Wilson Ozuem, University of Hertfordshire, UK & Regents University, UK
   Nicole Sarsby, University of Wales, UK

Section 3
Bias Reduction

Chapter 8
Reading Smart Stuff Together and Whistling Vivaldi ........................................................................ 149
   Mary Jo Festle, Elon University, USA

Chapter 9
A History of How U.S. Academics, Laws, and Business Have Created the Current Approach to Organizational Diversity with Some Ideas for Moving Forward....................................................... 169
   Ben Tran, Alliant International University, USA

Chapter 10
   Zhuojun Joyce Chen, University of Northern Iowa, USA

Section 4
Diversity and Innovation as Vehicles for Organizational Learning

Chapter 11
The Role and Value of Diversity to Learning Organizations and Innovation........................................ 213
   Viviane S. Lopuch, Marist College, USA
   Daniel Cochece Davis, Illinois State University, USA

Chapter 12
Preparation and Assessment of Individuals to Work with Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Others........................................................................................................................................ 237
   Lorraine S. Gilpin, Georgia Southern University, USA

Chapter 13
Access within the Classroom through Universal Design for Learning and Key Learning Elements........................................................................................................................ 253
   Joe Grimes, California Polytechnic State University, USA
   Mark Grimes, University of California – Santa Barbara, USA
Section 5
Performance Enhancing and Pioneering Approaches

Chapter 14
Developing a Unified Framework and a Causal Model of Transformational Leadership, Empowerment, Innovation Support, and Organizational Innovation .............................................. 280
  Kijpokin Kasemsap, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University, Thailand

Chapter 15
Fostering Innovation in the Midst of Organizational Change: Dialogically with a Sensemaking Narrative Approach .................................................................................................................................. 304
  Susan L. Cook, Metropolitan State University of Denver, USA

Chapter 16
Globalizing Migration Dialogue: A Model for Combining Innovative Pedagogy, Community-Service Learning, and Research .................................................................................................. 326
  Laura Talamante, California State University, Dominguez Hills, USA
  Caroline Mackenzie, Aix-Marseille Université, France

Compilation of References ......................................................................................................................... 352

About the Contributors ............................................................................................................................... 405

Index ....................................................................................................................................................... 410