Table of Contents

Preface

Section 1
Digital Divide and Equality of Access

Chapter 1
Sense of Community: Perceptions of Individual and Group Members of Online Communities
Piet Kommers, University of Twente, The Netherlands

Chapter 2
We Don’t Do Politics: An Analysis and Discussion of Information Seeking Behaviour Research in Relation to the Net Generation
Jonathan Bishop, Centre for Research into Online Communities and E-Learning Systems, Belgium

Chapter 3
Net Neutrality: An Issue of Democracy
Valérie Schafer, National Center for Scientific Research (CNRS), France
Francesca Musiani, Georgetown University, USA & MINES ParisTech, France
Hervé Le Crosnier, University of Caen-Basse Normandie, France & National Center for Scientific Research (CNRS), France

Chapter 4
Microeconomics of Education and the Effect of Government Intervention: The Role of Classroom 2.0 in Facilitating the UK Government’s Schools Policies
Jonathan Bishop, Centre for Research into Online Communities and E-Learning Systems, Belgium

Section 2
International, National, and Regional Issues

Chapter 5
Using the Internet to Make Local Music More Available to the South Wales Community
Jonathan Bishop, Centre for Research into Online Communities and E-Learning Systems, Belgium
Lisa Mannay, Centre for Research into Online Communities and E-Learning Systems, UK
Chapter 6
Internet: A Political Issue for Europe (1970s – 2010s) .................................................................69
   Romain Badouard, University of Cergy-Pontoise, France
   Valérie Schafer, French National Center for Scientific Research (ISCC, CNRS), France

Chapter 7
Whose Voice is Heard? West Bank News Framing in Israeli Mainstream and Alternative News Websites: Ni’lin 2008 as a Case Study .................................................................85
   Keren Sereno, Independent Researcher, Israel

Chapter 8
The Pit Head Baths are Now an Internet Café: The Role of Technology in Transforming Audience, Institutions, and Power Structures among Women in Wales ........................................116
   Jonathan Bishop, Centre for Research into Online Communities and E-Learning Systems, Belgium

Section 3
Media, Culture, and Communication

Chapter 9
Exploring the Concept of the “Social Media Campaign” ..........................................................133
   Mary Francoli, Carleton University, Canada

Chapter 10
Can Digital Technologies Threaten Democracy by Creating Information Cocoons? ...............145
   Cédric Gossart, Institut Mines-Télécom, France

Chapter 11
Trolling for the Lulz? Using Media Theory to Understand Transgressive Humour and Other Internet Trolling in Online Communities .............................................................................155
   Jonathan Bishop, Centre for Research into Online Communities and E-Learning Systems, Belgium

Section 4
E-Government, E-Voting, and E-Democracy

Chapter 12
Internet Voting: Situation, Questions, and Trends ......................................................................174
   Chantal Enguehard, Université de Nantes, France

Chapter 13
What Does E- add to Democracy? Designing an Agenda for Democracy Theory in the Information Age ..............................................................................................................200
   Patricia Mindus, Uppsala University, Sweden
Chapter 14
Blackout in the Name of Sunshine: When Open Government Law Stifles Civic Social Media
William R. Sherman, Seattle University, USA

Chapter 15
Who Cares for Identity Information in Government 2.0? An Empirical Study
Bert-Jaap Koops, Tilburg University, The Netherlands
Bibi van den Berg, Leiden University, The Netherlands

Related References

Compilation of References

About the Contributors

Index