Acknowledgment

I would like to begin with a special note of thanks to the publishing team at IGI Global, whose contributions throughout the whole process have been invaluable. In particular, thanks to Vince D’Imperio and Christine Smith, whose continuous suggestions and valuable information kept me alarmed for timely completion of the book and whose input proved to be very valuable at every crucial stage of the development process. I would like to convey my heartfelt thanks to Kayla Wolfe for her initial support and necessary information. I would also like to thank Jan Travers for timely completion of the contract agreement and helping me to decide on the title of the book, which I feel is very essential for attracting the prospective contributors. I feel that in a crucial and long process, the role of each and every individual is important. I would also like to extend my sincere thanks to all other staff of IGI Global, who have been involved with the book.

I take this opportunity to extend my sincere gratitude to the most honorable Prof. L. A. Zadeh, whom I have troubled at every stage of this book’s development. Indeed, I am fortunate that he is always ready and kind enough to help. The timely completion of the book is dependent on a crucial factor, which is the timely completion of the review of all the submitted chapters. I am indeed fortunate that my whole team of EAB members, reviewers, and authors helped to make this possible. I would like to extend my special thanks to Professor Vincenzo Loia for agreeing to write the foreword for the book and extending his full support and invaluable advice for improving the book.

The timely completion is also dependent on the environment that prevails around you. I would like to thank my college principal, Prof. Ashok Mittal, for his cordial support, valuable information and guidance, and above all, his motivation and concern for my health and progress. I would also like to thank my friends and colleagues for providing me necessary opinions and help all through the development process of this book.
I would like to take this opportunity to express my respect and love to my dear ones and my parents. Life is uncertain and full of hurdles. These I realized during the development of this book when I went through the rough patch as I met an accident. During this time, it was my parents who were with me and used to remind me to “not worry everything will come on track. Have patience and just do whatever you can do.” I believe strongly that it is their belief and continuous love and affection that brought everything back on track. Thanks Mom and Dad! I would also like to extend my special thanks to my father-in-law for all his blessings and his positive opinion towards life, which he always shares with me. After so many years of marriage, I feel life is incomplete without the support and unbiased suggestions, which I get from my beloved wife. My life would be incomplete without her. Last but not least, my whole journey towards a bright career and research started when I received a blessing from God, a son who is like an angel for me. He, with his innocent thoughts, helped me many times and filled me with new energy for a new day in life.

_Vishal Bhatnagar_

_Ambedkar Institute of Advanced Communication Technologies and Research, India_

_January 2014_