About the Contributors

Nurdan Oncel Taskiran has been working for Ondokuz Mayis University, Samsun, Faculty of Communication, since 2014 July. Professor Taskiran has written three books: An Introduction to Media Literacy, The New Image of Turkish Women Role Model on a Screen Serial “Aliye,” and Advertising in 99 Questions. Her researches are primarily on popular culture products and Media Literacy. She also has studies on semiology as a means of communication and advertising communication, and visual analyses relating visual arts via iconographical method. She is interested in distance learning as well as a way of communication related with semiotics as a part of human perception and signification. She has a keen interest on animal communication. She has papers, articles, and translations published in national and international journals. She has been giving courses on graduate and post graduate levels at Ondokuz Mayis University, Faculty of Communication.

Recep Yılmaz, Ph.D., has been working as an Assistant Professor at Ondokuz Mayis University, Faculty of Communication, Public Relations and Publicity Department since 2015 February. Dr. Yılmaz has co-authored four books (Techniques for Scriptwriting, Advertising in 99 Questions, Keywords in Advertising, Leadership and its Contemporary Dimensions) and has published numerous papers in several journals, conference proceedings and chapters in edited books since he got his MA. His major is Theoretical Communication. He also has studies on social semiology, advertising communication and promotion culture. Some of the graduate courses he has given are Introduction to Advertising, Advertising Scriptwriting, Introduction to Public Relations, Public Relations Campaigns, Visual Communication Applications, and Copywriting in Public Relations.

* * *

Ercan Aktan was born in Karabük, Turkey. He graduated from Selçuk University Faculty of Communication. He works as a lecturer in the Public Relations and Publicity Program of Aksaray University Social Sciences Vocational School. He is married with a son. His research interests cover Social Media, corporate image and leadership. The writer has been attending postgraduate education on public relations at Selçuk University Social Sciences Institute for a year.

Pınar Altık Gürer, Assistant Professor, graduated from the Finance Department of Istanbul University’s School of Economics in 1989. Altık Gürel completed her post-graduate degree in Istanbul University’s Social Sciences Institute and qualified for MA degree in Economics-Finance in 1991. Continuing their academic studies in the same discipline, Altık Gürel received her PhD in Economics and Finance Department of Istanbul University Social Sciences Institute in 2003. Altık Gürel’s post-
About the Contributors

Graduate thesis is titled “Outward-Oriented Growth of and Finance and Budget Policies Implemented in Turkey”. Having participated in national and international scientific meetings, congresses and conferences and published works in books and scientific journals, Assistant Prof. Altok Gürel has been conducting her academic studies in Beykent University’s Business Administration Department since 2009. Altok Gürel continues her studies in Beykent University as the head of the Business Administration Program and head of the Management and Organization Department.

Bilgen Basal was born in Gölçük, Turkey and graduated from Marmara University, Business Administration Department. She worked at AGB Nielsen TV Measurements Company till 2000. Since 2000, she was teaching communication at Istanbul Bilgi University as assistant professor. Now, she works at Yeditepe University, Institute of Social Sciences and Public Relations & Promotions program of Communication Faculty. She is teaching media planning, communication research, basics of public relations. She has publications on media planning. She is married and has twin children.

Evrim Celtek obtained her BA in tourism business administration from Sakarya University, Turkey and PhD in tourism and hotel management from Anadolu University, Turkey. Her researches focused on tourism marketing, social media marketing, mobile marketing, e-commerce, mobile commerce, advergame and customer relationship management.

Shu-Chuan Chu, Ph.D. University of Texas at Austin, is an Assistant Professor in the College of Communication at DePaul University, Chicago, IL. Her research interests include social media, electronic word-of-mouth, cross-cultural consumer behavior, and consumer-brand relationships. Her work has been published in Journal of Global Marketing, International Journal of Advertising, Journal of Interactive Advertising, Journal of International Consumer Marketing, Journal of Marketing Communications, International Journal of Internet Marketing and Advertising, International Journal of Strategic Communication, Chinese Journal of Communication, and Asian Journal of Business Research, among others. She serves on the Editorial Review Board of International Journal of Advertising and Journal of Interactive Advertising.

Dilaysu Cinar is a lecturer at Beykent University, Vocational School, Istanbul, Turkey. She teaches International Marketing, Total Quality Management and Introduction to Business at Vocational School. She completed her MBA at Dokuz Eylül University Social Science Institute. Now, she has been having her doctorate in Department of Marketing at Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences in Yıldız Technical University, Istanbul, Turkey.

Meral Elci graduated from Bosphorus University, department of Philosophy at Faculty of Arts and Sciences. She began her professional career as a research assistant in Gebze Institute of Technology in 1999. In 2000, she obtained her master’s degree in the field of Business Administration. In 2005, she completed her Ph.D level in department of Business Administration. The title of her thesis was “The effect of ethical climate on the employees’ citizenship behaviors in organizations.”. In 2006, she got her post-doc degree from Bilgi University, Department of Business Administration. Elci has many studies on the fields like business ethics, employee recruitment and placement, general business and management. She is currently employed as an assistant professor in psycho-technical lab in Gebze Technical University, Kocaeli, Turkey.
Nursen Fırlar is currently a lecturer working for Gelisim University, Istanbul, Turkey. She has had her bachelor’s degree in the Department of Educational Communication and Planning at Anadolu University, Eskisehir and has a master’s degree degree in Education Management at Marmara University, Istanbul, Turkey. She has published many chapters in edited books. Her main interests are business administration and leadership theories.

Talat Fırlar is an assistant professor working for Beykent University, Istanbul, Turkey. He has had his bachelor’s and master’s degree in Mathematics at Istanbul University and has a PhD. degree in Numerical Methods at same institute. He has published many papers and conference proceedings. His main interests are statistical analysis methods and human-computer interaction.

Tanses Yasemin Gülsoy, Ph.D. (in business), is an associate professor of marketing and teaches at Beykent University, Istanbul, Turkey. She has held a Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation Fellowship at New York University, where she received her master of arts degree in journalism and mass communication, and a Pomona College Honnold Scholarship for Graduate Study. She also held a four-year academic scholarship from Pomona College, where she continued her university studies (following one semester’s work at Boğaziçi University’s Business Administration Department in Istanbul, Turkey). Before returning to the academia, she worked for the Istanbul office of the advertising agency J. Walter Thompson and holds an honors award from Turkish Association of Advertising Creatives. Gülsoy is the author of a dictionary of advertising which was included in the “Turkish Lexicography” article (written by Orhan Bilgin, Boğaziçi University) in Elsevier’s Encyclopedia of Language and Linguistics (2006), and several book chapters as well as national and international journal articles. Her research interests include advertising agency-client relationships, relationship marketing, brand management, marketing communications, and the global marketing strategies of emerging-market multinational enterprises.

Mohammad Reza Habibi is an Assistant Professor of Marketing, California State University at Fullerton. He obtained his Ph.D. from Concordia University in Montreal (Canada). His main research interests are in the area of social media and communities of consumption. He published top downloaded articles in Computers in Human Behavior and the International Journal of Information Management.

Anette Horn, Professor, teaches in German Studies at the University of the Witwatersrand. She has published books on Jean Paul, Rilke’s poetry, the cosmopolites of the 18th century, on Nietzsche’s concept of decadence, as well as Anna Seghers and contemporary German literature. She was the editor of the Acta Germanica from 2002 to 2009.

Peter Horn was a Professor at the University of Cape Town from 1974 to 1999. He holds a Lifetime Honorary Fellowship at the University of Cape Town. Since 2005 he has been an Honorary Professorial Research Associate at the University of the Witwatersrand. He has numerous publications on Heinrich von Kleist, Paul Celan, Rainer Maria Rilke, Max Frisch, Georg Büchner, Franz Kafka, Bertolt Brecht and South African literature. He is also a recipient of many prizes for his poetry.
About the Contributors

Magdalena Kachniewska, Professor, Dean of Master Studies and Associate Professor in Tourism Department, Warsaw School of Economics (WSE); Member of Scientific Council of World Economy Collegium at WSE; Member of Tourism Research Working Group at the Polish Ministry of Sport and Tourism; Expert of the Hotel Market Institute; Honorary member of the Gdansk Agrotourism Society and the World Agrotourism Society; Consultant of Polish Tourism Organisation and Mazovia District Regional Tourism Organisation; The leading consultant on the opening stage of 26 hotels in Poland and Slovakia; Juror in numerous competitions of HoReCa enterprises; Propagator of the concept of e-marketing and new technologies in tourism; member of Scientific Council of e-TravelForum and Chairperson of competition committee in “New technologies in travel sector – Tech. Travel Award” contest; Till 2010 the president of Efekt Hotele Co; General Manager of Best Western Krakow Premier Hotel; General Manager of Express by Holiday Inn Hotel; Till 2012 member of Supervisory Board at the European Mortgage Fund (managing 4 hotels in Poland); Author of over 200 journal papers and books on management and marketing, tourism economics and hospitality industry; Felietonist of „Wiadomości Turystyczne” (Tourism News); Co-author of numerous expertises on tourism market in Poland; developed for the Department of Tourism (the Polish Ministry of Sport and Tourism); Polish Tourism Organisation; Central Statistical Office and the Governor of Mazovian District in Poland; The member of Scientific Council of Polish journals: “Folia Turistica” and “Zeszyty Naukowe Turystyka i Rekreacja” as well as the member of Review Council of the Journal of Easter European and Central Asian Research (JEECAR).

Yowei Kang, Ph.D., is an Assistant Professor at Degree Program of Creative Industries and Digital Films, Kainan University, Taiwan. His research interests focus on digital game research, technology and rhetoric, composition pedagogy using digital game technology, and teaching English as a second language (ESL).

Kijpokin Kasemsap received his BEng degree in Mechanical Engineering from King Mongkut’s University of Technology Thonburi, his MBA degree from Ramkhamhaeng University, and his DBA degree in Human Resource Management from Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University. He is a Special Lecturer at Faculty of Management Sciences, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University based in Bangkok, Thailand. He is a Member of International Association of Engineers (IAENG), International Association of Engineers and Scientists (IAEST), International Economics Development and Research Center (IEDRC), International Association of Computer Science and Information Technology (IACSIT), International Foundation for Research and Development (IFRD), and International Innovative Scientific and Research Organization (IISRO). He also serves on the International Advisory Committee (IAC) for International Association of Academicians and Researchers (INAAR). He has numerous original research articles in top international journals, conference proceedings, and book chapters on business management, human resource management, and knowledge management published internationally.

John Kellden is the founder of Conversation Labs and works with leading business and world class organisations to ignite innovative thinking that supports strategic alignment through stories, game designs, interactive methodologies and conversation labs. John’s thought leadership guides companies to apply stories, play and collaboration to restructure, rediscover and regenerate in a world increasingly driven by social trends. John’s workshops, facilitated web games and interactive seminars inspire, catalyze and capture - conversations through stories to value.
Ugur Kilinc was born in Usak, Turkey. He received his bachelor’s degree in department of Radio, Television and Cinema, Communication Faculty, Kocaeli University in 2013. He started his master’s degree in the same department in 2014. He currently studies on his master thesis which focuses on mythology and music within the frame of semiological analyses: “CD Covers Of Amon Amarth And Viking Culture.”

Yeuseung Kim, Ph.D. University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, is an Assistant Professor of Public Relations and Advertising in the College of Communication at DePaul University. Her research focuses on understanding how consumers are influenced by strategic communication especially in an online setting. She is an expert in the field of online shopping websites and impacts of persuasive appeals and the role of emotional appeals and self-concept in advertising. Her work has been published in Journal of Advertising Research, Journal of Advertising, Journal of Advertising Education, International Journal of Advertising, Journal of Current Issues & Research in Advertising.

Ibrahim Kircova is a Professor of Marketing in Yildiz Technical University in Istanbul. His book ‘Marketing on The Internet’ was the first book published in Turkey in 1999 about internet marketing. Many others such as ‘e-Commerce and Legal Issues’, ‘B2B e-Commerce’, ‘Mobile Marketing’ and ‘e-Government’, ‘B2B Procurement Systems’ followed this publication. Moreover, he has carried out joint researches regarding demand forecasting in Turkish Automotive Industry with various authors from different disciplines. Ibrahim Kircova teaches Marketing, International Marketing and e-commerce in Yildiz Technical University and writes for Harvard Business Review blog.

Michel Laroche is the Royal Bank Distinguished Professor, John Molson School of Business, Concordia University, Montreal (Canada). He holds a Diplôme d’ingénieur (École Centrale de Paris), M.S.E. (Johns Hopkins), M.Ph. and Ph.D. (Columbia), and D.Sc. honoris causa (Guelph). He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada, American Psychological Association, and Society for Marketing Advances and Academy of Marketing Science. He was the 2000 Concordia University Research Fellow, and 2000 Jacques-Rousseau Medal. In 2001, the Montreal AMA Chapter elected him member of the Academy of Marketing Personalities. In 2002, he received the HEC-Montreal fifth Living Legend of Marketing Award and in 2003 the Sprott Leader in Business Research & Practice Award. His research interests are marketing communications, consumer behavior modelling, services marketing, social media, culture and research methodology. He co-authored 26 major textbooks (English and French), an AMA annotated bibliography, several workbooks, study guides, and edited several books. He published more than 150 papers in, among others, the Journal of Consumer Research, Journal of Business Research, Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science, Journal of Advertising Research, Journal of International Business Studies, International Journal of Advertising, and International Journal of Information Management. He published more than 150 papers in major conference proceedings and chapters in edited books. He supervised more than 200 graduate theses and won several research awards. He served on advisory committees, including the Concordia Board of Governors, FQRSC (Chair), SSHRC, as well the editorial boards of several academic journals. He served the Administrative Sciences Association of Canada in many capacities, including its President in 1985-86. He is currently a member of the board of governors of the Academy of Marketing Science and the Provost Circle of Excellence.
About the Contributors

Ebru Nergiz is an assistant professor of international trade at Istanbul Gelisim University, School of Applied Sciences, Istanbul-Turkey. Dr. Nergiz has a bachelor’s degree from Istanbul University in International Relations (1999). She has a master’s degree from Bournemouth University, UK in International Business Administration (2002). She received her PhD in European Union, at Istanbul University (2011) with her thesis entitled ‘Foreign Direct Investment in the European Union and Turkey’. Her main pillars of her interdisciplinary studies are European Union, Foreign Trade, International Business and International Marketing. She is Vice Director at Istanbul Gelisim University, School of Applied Sciences.

Ratko Orlandic received his PhD degree in Computer Science in 1989 at the University of Virginia. In the earlier part of his career, he worked as an Assistant Professor of Computer Science at the Illinois Institute of Technology and an Associate Professor of Computer Science at the University of Illinois at Springfield. More recently, he has been working in software industry on the development of database, data warehousing, and stream processing systems. He published over 40 papers in scientific journals and conferences in the areas of databases, data mining, and software architecture. Dr. Orlandic’s research interests include databases, data warehousing, stream processing, data mining, big data, and computational advertising.

Mehmet Nejat Ozupek was born in Konya, Turkey. He graduated from Selcuk University Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences. He received his MSc and PhD from Selcuk University, Konya, Turkey. At present, he is working as an assistant professor in the Public Relations and Publicity Department of Selcuk University Communication Faculty. He is married with two sons. His research interests cover Corporate social responsibility, corporate image.

Marie-Odile Richard is Assistant Professor of Marketing, Department of Business Management, State University of New York Polytechnic Institute, Utica (New York, USA). She has published over 50 articles in journals such as the Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science, Journal of Advertising Research, Journal of Social Psychology, International Journal of Advertising, Computers in Human Behavior, and the International Journal of Information Management, in international proceedings and chapters in edited books. Her main research interests are in the areas of internet research, social media, language and culture, advertising, and the emerging field of neuromarketing.

Arzu Sert is currently a doctoral student in Business Administration at Gebze Technical University, Turkey, studying under supervising of Assoc. Prof. Dr. Meral Ecli. Her master degree was conducted in Business Administration at Gebze Institute of Technology. After she had graduated from Anatolian University and she completed her master thesis in 2012. The designation of her thesis was “The relationship among organizational justice, corporate ethical climate and perceived job stress”. Her research interests are business ethics, marketing and human resources management.

Fusun Topsumer, the professor, had her bachelor’s degree from Marmara University, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences in 1985. With her dissertation title “Billboards in Outdoor Advertising”, she graduated from Marmara University, Institute of Social Sciences. She has her PHD degree from Ege University in the field of Journalism. She started her academic career as a Research Assistant in 1988 and became a professor in 2005. She is now chair of the Research Methods Department in Public Relations and Advertising, in the Faculty of Communication, Ege University, Izmir, Turkiye.
Sophie Wrobel is an independent technology blogger on avesophos.de. She received her B.CS and English Language and Literature with Honors from the University of Waterloo in Canada in 2007. Since then, she has worked for IBM as a consulting Application Development Expert, and CAS Software AG as a Software Architect and researcher. She is an advocate for digital literacy, online privacy, and technological innovation, and has been a driving contributor to multiple online ventures in these areas.

Kenneth C. C. Yang, Ph.D., is a Professor in the Department of Communication at University of Texas at El Paso, USA. His study focuses on new media, consumer behavior, and international advertising. Some of his works have been published in Far Eastern University Communication Journal, International Journal of Consumer Marketing, Journal of Intercultural Communication Studies, and Telematics and Informatics.

Dincer Yarkin graduated from Dokuz Eylul University, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences in 2003. He has had his master’s degree in the field of Quantitative Methods and Management Sciences and received his PhD degree from Dumlupınar University. Then he completed his courses and proficiency phases in Ege University Business Administration PhD program, additionally. Yarkin has approximately 10 years of experience in private sector as a manager and a consultant in departments of Foreign Trade and International Marketing. His fields of study are mainly focused on Entrepreneurship, Innovation and International Marketing.