About The Contributors

Ramesh Chandra Das is currently Associate Professor of Economics of Katwa College, West Bengal, India. He has obtained Masters, M.Phil and Ph.D Degrees in Economics from the University of Calcutta. He has fifteen years of teaching and research experiences in different fields of economics including theoretical and empirical economics, financial economics, environmental economics and political economics. Dr. Das has contributed several research papers to national and international journals with distinctions along with completions of three minor research projects sponsored by UGC, India. He has written one text book on microeconomics for different fields of students and academicians. He has been acting as editor-in-chief in Asian Journal of Research in Business Economics and Management and one of the editorial advisory board members of Society for the Study on Business and Finance.

***

Kehinde Adekunle Adetiloye teaches Finance at Covenant University, Ota Nigeria where he obtained his PhD. Before venturing into academics he was a banker in the mortgage industry in Nigeria where he spent considerable time. He is currently a Senior Lecturer in the Department where he performs a number of functions. He has published a number of articles in both national and international journals. He is the winner of the Best Paper Award of IAABD conference in 2012.

Maniklal Adhikary has been teaching Economics at The University of Burdwan, India for 31 years besides guiding research scholars working in varied fields related to Economics. His areas of interest include macroeconomic theory, mathematical economics, theory of economic growth and planning, economics of water (resource and environment), econometrics – theory and applications, time series econometrics, financial econometrics, production function and stochastic frontier production function, in addition to training his students in dealing with different econometric software. Prof. Adhikary has more than fifty academic papers in various journals of national and international repute.

Chukwuma Agu holds a Ph.D in Economics from the University of Nigeria, Nsukka, specializing in open economy macroeconomics with interests in monetary and financial economics, cross border flows, systems modeling, regional integration, and trade. He had his postdoctoral training at the University of Pretoria, South Africa. He is an alumnus of the Cambridge Advanced Programme on Rethinking Development Economics, University of Cambridge, and Global Economic Modeling School of the Free University of Brussels, Belgium, the Engendering Macroeconomics Programme at the University of Utah, USA and the Financial Programming and Policies of the IMF Institute. He spent some time also at the University of Oxford under the Journal of African Economies Fellowship and is a Senior Associate Fellow of St. Antony’s College. He currently teaches at the Institute for Development Studies, University of Nigeria, and Enugu Campus and continues to support work at the African Heritage Institution, Enugu, where he has been a researcher for over a decade. He is active in a number of economic research networks in and outside the African continent and teaches postgraduate courses at the Trade Policy Training Centre of the Lund University, Sweden hosted at the East and Southern Africa Management Institute, Arusha, Tanzania. He has published widely and attended several professional conferences.

Rajib Bhattacharyya has got his bachelor and master degrees in Economics from The University of Calcutta. He obtained his M. Phil degree from the same University and the dissertation was on International Migration of Skilled Manpower of India. He received a Ph.D in Economics and his thesis was on Growth of Outsourcing in India. He has been serving as a full-time lecturer in Economics since 2001 and presently serving as an Assistant Prof. in Economics (W.B.E.S.), Hooghly Mohsin College. He made several publications in different areas of international economics and women entrepreneurship development. He was as an invited speaker UGC Sponsored One-Day National Level Seminar on “Indian Economy and Contemporary Sen – Bhagwati Debate.” in Mahishadal Raj College.

Gagari Chakrabarty is an M.Sc, M.Phil and Ph. D in Economics from University of Calcutta. She is currently serving Presidency University, Kolkata, India as an Assistant Professor. She has published papers in national and international journals and published books from international publishing houses. She has undertaken research projects funded by UGC, India. Financial economics, quantitative finance and complexity of financial markets are some of the areas of her research interest.

Saptarshi Chakraborty works as Assistant Professor in Economics in the department of commerce, Panchakot Mahavidyalaya (College), Purulia, W. B., India. He is also the guest faculty of Kazi Nazrul University, Asansol, India. He is the co-editor of an international, refereed, multi-disciplinary journal, PANCHAKOTesSAYS (ISSN: 0976-4968). He has more than 12 papers published in ISSN journals, more than 3 chapters in ISBN books and 2 Minor Research Projects of The University Grants Commission, Govt. of India to his credit.

Tommoy Chatterjee teaches Economics at the Sidho-Kanho-Birsha University, West Bengal, India. He has been awarded as Prof. M. J. Manohar Rao from The Indian Econometric Society for Yong Researchers at 2012. Currently he is working on International Trade Theory, General Equilibrium, Trade and Health mainly focused on developing economies, etc. His works have been published in Foreign Trade Review, Economic Affairs, as also in various edited volumes.

Anita Chattopadhyay Gupta is Reader, Department of Economics, Muralidhar Girls’ College, Kolkata with her master and doctoral degrees from the University of Calcutta and M. Phil from Jadavpur University, India. Her research paper on: Ecology and Human Well Being (2007) was published by Sage publishing and Environmental Governance: Approaches, Imperatives and Methods (2012) by Bloomsbury Publishing. Presented papers in national and international conferences; 8th and 9th Biennial Scientific Conference of the International Society for Ecological Economics, 4th and 6th Biennial Conference for Ecological Economics, 14th, 15th and 16th International Economic Association World Congress and South
About The Contributors

African Conference on Environmental and Resource Economics. She is a core member of The National Adolescence Resource Team under the Ministry of Youth Development in association with Rajiv Gandhi National Institute of Youth Development. A member of the State Level Appraisal Committee in West Bengal Pollution Control Board for Environmental Impact Assessment under the Ministry of Environment, Government of West Bengal.

Amaresh Das is presently Professor of Business Entrepreneurship in the College of Business Administration, Southern University at New Orleans, USA. He has so many years of experiences in teaching and researches in different fields of economics and management sciences in different institutions all over the world. Dr. Das has proficiency in teaching Principles of Micro and Macroeconomics, Principles of Finance, Statistics, Principles of Money and Banking, Public Finance and Intermediate Macro Theory. He has research interests in Modeling, Macro econometrics, Economic and Financial Time Series, and Stock Price Volatility. He has been associated to various international journals with distinctions as editorial advisory board member and published a cluster of research papers in reputed international journals with impact factors.

Arindam Das is Head and Associate Professor at the Department of Commerce, The University of Burdwan. He is Ph.D from Department of Commerce, The University of Burdwan. His areas of interest include Financial Management, Security Analysis & Portfolio Management and Financial Derivatives. He has contributed many research papers in various national and international journals of repute.

Koushik Das is Assistant Professor in Economics, Chandidas Mahavidyalaya, affiliated to University of Burdwan and Guest Lecturer, Department of Commerce, Calcutta University, India. He obtained M.Sc. in Economics in 2000 and Ph.D. in Economics in 2014 from University of Calcutta. His research interests include Environment & Natural Resource Economics, International Trade, Computable General Equilibrium Models and Econometrics. Dr. Das has published more than ten research papers in various journals and edited volumes with national and international repute like, Foreign Trade Review, South Asian Journal of Macroeconomics and Public Finance (Published by SAGE), DECISION (Published by Springer) etc.

Utpal Das is currently Assistant Professor in Commerce of Katwa College, West Bengal, India. He has obtained his Master Degree from The University of Calcutta, India. He is presently doing doctoral level researches under the same university with special emphasis on rural roads structures and its impact upon the socio economic aspects of the rural people of West Bengal. He has about ten years of teaching and research experience with a number of publications on different fields of commerce, economics and management.

Soumyananda Dinda is an Associate Professor at the Department of Economics, SKB University, Purulia, West Bengal, India. Dr. Dinda taught at CIMP, MSE Chennai, Bath University, UK; and SRF College; and as a guest faculty at economics department, Presidency College and Calcutta University. He worked as economic affair officer at Trade and Investment Division, UN ESCAP, Bangkok. He starts his academic career a research fellow at ERU, Indian Statistical Institute. Dr. Dinda published one book “Environment and Development Trajectory: A Freshlook on Theory and Empirics”, 2009, Nova Science Inc., New York. He has published several papers on several International journals such as...
About The Contributors

Ecological Economics; Economics and Human Biology; Journal of Socio-Economics; and Journal of Public Economic Theory. He served as Guest Editor for IJGEvIs Special Issue on EKC and Sustainable Development. Recently he is working on Climate smart goods and trade opportunity in Asia.

Sebak Kumar Jana is currently Associate Professor in Economics in the Department of Economics with Rural Development, Vidyasagar University, West Bengal, India. Dr. Jana was graduated from Presidency College, Kolkata and obtained M.Sc. degree in Economics from University of Calcutta in India. He obtained M. Phil and Ph.D. degree in Economics from Jadavpur University, Kolkata. His area of research includes environmental and resource economics and economics of education. He has about thirty peer reviewed publications in national and international Journals and has also authored four books. He has also been associated with national and international research projects.

Asim Kumar Karmakar is Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Jadavpur University, Kolkata and Life Member, Indian Society of Labour Economics. He is presently the Executive Member of both the Indian Economic Association (IEA) and The Indian Econometric Society (TIES); formerly the Managing Editor (2011-2014) of the Quarterly Referred Journal Artha Beekshan of Bengali Economic Association. He has completed three minor research projects sponsored by the CAS, Jadavpur University and the UGC. He has contributed many research papers in reputed journals at home and abroad, and written books on different fields of economics among whose are Balance of Payments Theory and Policy: The Indian Experience (2010), Capital Account Convertibility in India (Co-edited, 2011), Food Security in India (Co-edited, 2012), Agriculture, Sustainable Development and Microfinance in India—Essays in Honour of Prof. Biswajit Chatterjee (Co-edited, 2015) and Financial Sector Liberalisation in India—Theory and Empirics (Co-edited, 2015).

Arindam Laha was born (1979) and educated in West Bengal. He obtained a Master’s degree in Economics from the University of Burdwan and was awarded University Gold Medal (2003). He did M. Phil (2005) and Ph.D (2009) from the University of Burdwan. He has served as faculty members in Syamsundar College, Burdwan and Department of Commerce, The University of Burdwan. He has written three books and has published a number of research articles in reputed international and national journals of Social Science.

Chhanda Mandal is Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Muralidhar Girls’ College, Kolkata (M.A. {Delhi School of Economics, 2008}). She is currently doing Ph. D. from Jadavpur University. She has worked as research associate in Delhi School of Economics, for RBI project “Exchange Rate Policy and Modelling in India”. She has written a paper “Income Convergence in India between 1981 and 2005” under the supervision of Prof. Saibal Kar, CSSS, Kolkata.

Debabrata Mukhopadhyay is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Economics, West Bengal State University and has more than 16 years of teaching and research experience. He has done his Bachelors and Masters Degree in economics from the University of Calcutta and Ph. D in Quantitative Economics from the Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata in 2008. He has published a number of research articles in several international journals of economics and finance including Sankhya, Emerging Markets Finance and Trade, Applied Financial Economics, International Econometric Review etc. He has research interest in financial econometrics, time series econometrics and development economics.
Ritabrata Mukhopadhyay works as Assistant Professor in Geography, Panchakot Mahavidyalaya (College), Purulia, W.B., India. He has more than 10 papers published in ISSN journals, many chapters in ISBN books, many other articles in various books and 2 Minor Research Projects of the University Grants Commission, Govt. of India to his credit.

Qaiser Munir is a Senior Lecturer in the Faculty of Business, Economics and Accountancy in Universiti Malaysia Sabah. He has been an academic in applied economics discipline for over 8 years. Dr. Munir has professional experience of 10 year in different organization. His teaching is across undergraduate and postgraduate subjects in economics and related subjects. He also supervises graduate and Ph.D students. Since 2008, he has worked on various projects, consultancies, including projects funded by the Ministry of higher education, Malaysia. His research interests range from applied economics, financial economics, development economics, and applied econometrics. He has published in leading international journals including Singapore Economic Review, Economics Bulletin, Journal of Applied Economic Sciences, etc. as well as presented at international conferences and seminars in many parts of the world. Dr Munir presently (2014-2016) serving as chief editor of the Malaysian Journal of Business and Economics and he has reviewed number of articles for Economics Bulletin, Journal of Economic Studies as well as for other academic journals. He has won numerous teaching excellence awards during his career.

Nagarajan Balasubramaniamhas has 36 years of teaching and 25 years of research experience. He has published 31 research papers. He is a Life Member of the Indian History, South Indian History, and Tamil Nadu History Congress; Peasant Society of India; Historians of SAARC and Indian Association of American Studies. He is a Visiting Professor of Police Training Academy, Chennai, and Civil Service Academies of Tamil Nadu Agriculture University (TNAU) and Bharathiar University.

Devanjali Nandi is Assistant Professor at George College, Kolkata. She is also pursuing Ph.D from the Department of Business Management, The University of Burdwan. She has qualified the National Eligibility Test for lectureship held by UGC. Her areas of interest include corporate governance and financial management.

Chiranjib Neogi is an Associate Scientist at the Economic Research Unit of Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata. He is associated with a number of Universities in West Bengal as Guest Faculty. He has been working on the area of productivity and efficiency for many years and has published a number of research papers on this issue in national and international journals. He has also contributed papers in many edited books on the contemporary issues of the Indian economy. He visited Institute of Developing Economies, Tokyo and KIEP, Seoul, South Korea as visiting fellow. He has edited book on Theory and Application of Productivity and Efficiency jointly with Professor Ranjan Ghosh of IIM, Kolkata. Dr. Neogi also written a book entitled India’s New Economy: Industry Efficiency and Growth jointly with Professor Jati K. Sengupta of University of California, Santa Barbara, USA.

Olanrewaju Olaoye studied at the Universities of Lincoln (PhD), York (MPA International Development) and Ife (B.A.), Olanrewaju then worked for organisations including the World Health Organisation as Core Trainer, Prestige bank of UBA Plc as Relationship Manager, Tiri as Researcher, City of York Council as Strategist, Engagement Global (Germany) as Consultant and the University of Lincoln as Researcher and Tutor. Olanrewaju has worked with colleagues doing the Periodic Academic Reviews (PAR) and Revalidation of the curriculum in the University. He has also contributed to a number of modules, including Understanding the Policy Process, Applying the Policy Process, Applying Research and Community and Conflict. He frequently draws upon his research experience to provide insights into topics.

Anthony Orji is a Ph.D holder in Economics and a lecturer in the Department of Economics, University of Nigeria Nsukka. He is equally an Alumnum of the African Programme on Rethinking Development Economics (APORDE), Johannesburg, South Africa and a Visiting Scholar to the University of Laval, Quebec, Canada. He has published widely and attended several professional conferences. He is a network member of many research organisations across the globe and has participated in several research projects funded by the following institutions: World Bank (Research on African Migration Project); Partnership for Economic Policy (PEP), University of Laval, Quebec-Canada; African Economic Research Consortium (AERC), Nairobi-Kenya and others. His research interests is in Development Economics, Macroeconomics, Monetary Economics, Finance and Resource Mobilization, Cross border flows and Trade, Public Sector Economics, Growth and Poverty Reduction, and Regional Integration and he has published extensively in these areas.

Sudhakar Patra is Associate Professor and Head of the Department of Economics of Ravenshaw University of Odisha, India. He has done his masters in the Utkal University and obtained M. Phil Degree from Jawahar Lal Nehru University, New Delhi. He has been conferred the Ph. D Degree by the Utkal University in the year 1993. He has about twenty five years of teaching and research experiences in his credit. His areas of research interests are environmental economics and rural developments. He has many publications in national and international journals. He has carried out several research projects sponsored by the UGC, India and SAN Dee, Nepal.

Adluri Subramanyam Raju is Associate Professor in the Centre for South Asian Studies and Coordinator for the Centre for Maritime Studies, Pondicherry University. He was Associate Editor of Indian Ocean Region (London: Routledge), South Asian Studies (Pondicherry University) and Editorial member on four Journals. Raju received his Ph. D from the Department of Political Science, University of Hyderabad. He was Salzburg Seminar Fellow (2006) and the recipient of the Mahbub Ul Haq Award (Regional Centre for Strategic Studies (RCSS), Colombo, 2003); Scholar of Peace Award (WISCOMP, New Delhi, 2002) and Kodikara Award (RCSS, Colombo, 1998). He was a Visiting Fellow at the Bandaranaike Centre for International Studies, Colombo (May 2012). His research focus is on South Asian Regional Cooperation and Non Military Security Affairs. He has published more than three dozen papers that includes Democracies at Loggerheads: Security Aspects of US-India Relations, 2001; Third-Generation Indian Perceptions of the Kashmir Issue, 2001; Indian Women Scientists’ Perceptions of the Nuclear Issue, 2005; Co-authored, Maritime Cooperation between India and Sri Lanka, 2006; (Ed): Nuclear India: Problems and Perspectives, 2000; Terrorism in South Asia: Views from India, 2004.

Kamal Ray is presently Associate Professor of Economics of Katwa College, West Bengal, India. He has obtained his Masters and Ph. D degrees from the University of Kalyani, India. Dr. Ray has about thirty years of teaching and research experiences in different fields of economics in his credit. He has special research interests on economics of environment and politics besides mainstream economics. He has participated in various national and international conferences as academic contributor with a sizeable numbers of publications. He is also working as an editorial advisory board member of Asian Journal of Research in Business Economics and Management.
About The Contributors

Kiranjit Sett has passed the final examination of M.Com from The University of Burdwan in the year 1994 with specialization in Accounting and Control. He has cleared the final examination of Cost and Works Accountants, conducted by the then Institute of Cost and Works Accountants of India (now the Institute of Cost Accountants of India), in December, 1995. He has also been conferred the PhD degree by The University of Burdwan in the year 2009. He had joined Tarakeswar Degree College as a Lecturer in August 2000. He had left that college and joined the University of North Bengal in August 2004. Since April 2009, He has been serving West Bengal State University as an Assistant Professor of the Department of Commerce and Management. His main area of interest is corporate finance and has interest in Corporate Taxation, Management Accounting, Security Analysis and Portfolio Management.

Dyuti Sinha is a pre-doctoral fellow since 2013, working under the supervision of Prof. Adhikary at the University of Burdwan. Her areas of interest include Consumer Economics, Development Economics, Growth Economics and Time series Econometrics.

Rajamanickam Srinivasan is a serving officer from Indian Air Force, currently pursuing his doctoral studies with UMISARC, Pondicherry University, India. His research focuses on people's participation in governance and political economy. He holds a post graduate degree in Social Work, an LL B., and a Postgraduate Diploma in International Law. He is also a SATS (ICRC) alumnus. He has presented a conference paper on ‘Sovereignty and Human Rights Law’ in an international conference in Russia. He was conferred the medal for distinguished service (VSM) by Hon’ble President of India in 2012.

José G. Vargas-Hernández, M.B.A, Ph.D is a member of the National System of Researchers of Mexico and a research professor at University Center for Economic and Managerial Sciences, University of Guadalajara. Professor Vargas-Hernández has a Ph.D. in Public Administration and a Ph.D. in Organizational Economics. He has undertaken studies in Organizational Behavior and has a Master of Business Administration, published four books and more than 200 papers in international journals and reviews (some translated to English, French, German, Portuguese, Farsi, Chinese, etc.) and more than 300 essays in national journals and reviews. He has obtained several international Awards and recognition.

Shefali Virkar is post-doctoral researcher at the Department of Politics and International Relations, University of Oxford (UK) currently reading for a D.Phil. in Politics. Her doctoral research seeks to explore the growing use of Information and Communication Technologies (ICTs) to promote better governance in the developing world, with special focus on the political and institutional impacts of ICTs on local public administration reform in India. Shefali holds an M.A. in Globalization, Governance and Development from the University of Warwick, UK. Her Master’s thesis analyzed the concept of the Digital Divide in a globalizing world, its impact developing countries and the ensuing policy implications. At Oxford, Shefali is a member of Keble College.