About the Contributors

Augusta da Conceição Santos Ferreira completed his first degree at the Higher Institute of Accounting and Administration of Aveiro; she got his Masters Degree in Business Management Specialization in Corporate Finance at Minho University and she holds a PhD in Accounting at Aveiro University and Minho University. Currently she teaches Accounting within the accounting scientific area at Higher Institute Accounting and Administration of Aveiro (Aveiro University) and she is interested in researching public accounting, accounting information systems, disclosure of financial information and accountability. She has presented and published many articles in national and international journals and conferences.

Graça Azevedo has a PhD in Management (scientific field: Accounting) at the Institute of Higher Labor and Enterprise – ISCTE. She has published and presented several articles in national and international journals and conferences as well. She is a member of the Editorial Board of international journal “Accounting and Finance Research”. She currently teaches courses in scientific field of Financial Accounting at the Institute of Higher Learning in Accounting and Administration of the University of Aveiro. Her research interests are related to financial reporting, impression management strategies and international accounting standards.

Jonas Oliveira, PhD., is a Lecturer in Accounting at ISCTE Business School, Instituto Universitário de Lisboa (ISCTE-IUL), Portugal. His research interests lies in risk reporting, risk management, and social accounting. He has co-authored some financial accounting books and has published in academic journals including Journal of Risk, Managerial Auditing Journal, Agricultural Finance Review, Journal of Banking Regulation. He is a member of the editorial board of the international journal Accounting and Finance Research.

Rui Pedro Marques received the PhD degree in Computer Science in 2014 from the universities of Minho, Aveiro and Porto, Portugal. In 2008 he concluded his Masters degree, and in 2005 his graduation in Electronics and Telecommunications Engineering at the University of Aveiro. The main research interests are related to continuous assurance and auditing, and the integration of Information Systems into those topics, contributing with solutions to improve the risk management and the organizational efficiency. He has been lecturing Informatics classes since 2007 at the Higher Institute of Accounting and Administration, University of Aveiro.

***
About the Contributors

Deborah Agostino is Assistant Professor at Politecnico di Milano, Department of Management, Economics and Industrial Engineering. Her research interests cover mainly two areas. The first area is related to performance management and measurement in public networks, with a specific focus on networks for the provision of the local public transport. The second area of investigation covers performance measurement systems in the social media era. Her publications can be found in Public Management Review, European Management Journal and Transport Policy.

Carlos Araya-Leandro is professor at the University of Costa Rica in the area of business administration and currently holds the position of Vice President for Administration. His current area of research focuses on government financial information systems, transparency and accountability. Several of his articles have appeared in various journals and presented at conferences both nationally and internationally. He has served as an evaluator in specialized journals in the field of governmental accounting and public policies.

Michela Arnaboldi is Full Professor at Politecnico di Milano, Department of Management, Economics and Industrial Engineering. Her research activity is mainly focused on two areas: managing performance in the Public Sector and the evolution of Management Control Systems. This second issue has been carried out along two dimensions: the analysis of the relationship between budgeting system and enterprise risk management; the investigation of the role of management control system in private-public networks. Some of her publications can be found in Accounting Organizations and Society, Financial Accountability & Management and Management Accounting Research.

Giovanni Azzone is Full Professor at Politecnico di Milano, Department of Management, Economics and Industrial Engineering. His research areas cover performance measurement and management in public sector organizations. He has also served as Chairman of the Evaluation Committee and member of the Board of Management of the Office of Internal Control of the Presidency of the Council of Ministers. His publications can be found in Critical Perspective on Accounting, International Journal of Public Sector Management, Journal of Organizational Change Management and Long Range Planning.

Carmen Caba-Perez is an Assistant Professor in the Public Management Sector at the University of Almeria and Vice Dean in the Economics and Business Faculty. Her research is concerning to online transparency of public administration; nonprofit organizations and Venture Capital sectors. Dr. Caba’s strong research and teaching activity has led to her being accredited as a Full Professor by ANECA, Spain’s National Agency for Quality Assessment and Accreditation. She is author of several articles published in JCR publications including The American Review of Public Administration, International Review of Administrative Science, Online Information Review, Government Information Quarterly, Voluntas, Latin American Research Review or Public Administration and Development, Public Relations Review, Information Development, etc. Also, she has written more than 15 book chapters (Kluwer Academic Publishers; IGI Global, Springer, Cappelen Akademisk Forlag).

Carla Marina Pereira de Campos is Professor of Accounting at the University of Aveiro, Portugal, where she is Member of CEPAC – Research Unit on Forensic Accounting, Consulting Services and Auditing. She is also the Executive Director of Finance and Accounting of a Company. Her research focuses on Management Accounting, Budgeting and Management Control Systems.
Cristian Carini is Assistant Professor of Accounting at the University of Brescia, Italy. He earned his Ph.D. at the University of Parma, Italy. His research focuses on International Financial Reporting Standards, Financial Reporting and Public Sector Accounting.

João B. Carvalho has a PhD in management sciences and is Professor at University of Minho Research interest: public accounting; public governance; financial and management accounting.

Andreea Ioana Coste is a PhD Student at Babes-Bolyai University.

Manuel Pérez Cota is Professor and Researcher at the University of Vigo, Spain.

Maria Cristina Ribeiro da Silva Couto has a degree in Public Administration from the University of Minho. Master in Accounting and Finance from the Polytechnic Institute Cávado and Ave. She is doing a PhD in Accounting at the University of Aveiro / University of Minho. Professor of higher education in the areas of accounting and finance. Member of the Order of Official Accounts Technicians.

Beatriz Cuadrado-Ballesteros is Assistant Professor of Accounting at the University of Salamanca, where she earned her Ph.D. in Business. Her research interests are public sector reforms. In particular she focuses on informative transparency, accountability, financial distress, and citizens' quality of life. Her work has been published in such journals as the International Public Management Journal, Online Information Review, Government Information Quarterly, or the International Review of Administrative Sciences.

Ana Maria Cunha is a PhD Student of Accounting.

Maria José Fernandes is the main professor coordinator PhD in Accounting.

José-Valeriano Frías-Aceituno, Ph.D., received his Ph.D. degree in the University of Granada (Spain). Currently he is an Associate Professor at the University of Granada. His main lines of research are focused on Corporate Social Responsibility, E-Government and Business Ethics. The studies he has taken part in have been published in the Corporate Social Responsibility and Environmental Management, Journal of Cleaner Production, Business Strategy and the Environment, International Business Review, Lex Localis –Journal of Local Self-Government, International Journal of Public Administration and have been exposed in some of the most relevant European and Spanish congresses.

Patrícia Gomes is a PhD on accounting at the University of Minho Professor at the IPCA Research interests: public accounting; public performance; performance measurement.

Susana Margarida Faustino Jorge is a Professor of Business and Public Sector Accounting at the Faculty of Economics of the University of Coimbra. She is also an affiliated Member of CICP (Centre of Research in Political Science) of the University of Minho, Member of the Board of the CIGAR (Comparative International Governmental Accounting Research) Network, and Member of the Portuguese Accounting Standard-setting Comission - committee for Public Sector Accounting (CNCP).
About the Contributors

Amr Kotb is an Associate Professor of Accounting at Prince Sultan University (Riyadh, Saudi Arabia), and he is also affiliated to Cairo University (Egypt). Prior to that Dr. Kotb has worked at a number of British Universities including University of Aberdeen, where he obtained his PhD degree; Coventry University; Middlesex University and Anglia Ruskin University. He has published a number of monographs, chapters in edited books and journal articles in highly ranked accounting journals. Amr’s research interest areas include: IT and auditing/accounting, forensic accounting, corporate governance, and environmental reporting.

Chitra Sриyani de Silva Lokuwaduge is a Lecturer in the College of Business at Victoria University Melbourne. Her PhD thesis researched governance and performance of Australian universities and her research interests are corporate governance, Public sector accounting, university governance and corporate reporting. She is a member of the Institute of Public Accountants Australia and The Institute of Certified Management Accountants.

Fábio Rodrigues Magalhães is an auditor and accounting expert of the Public Prosecutor’s Office of the State of Pernambuco, and Adjunct Professor, Faculty of Applied and Social Sciences of Petrolina, Brazil. He has a Ph.D. in Accounting from the University of Aveiro, Portugal.

Jennifer Martínez-Ferrero is Associate Professor of Accounting at the University of Salamanca, where she earned her PhD in business. Her research interests cover both private and public sectors, in particular the relationship between earnings management and corporate social responsibility and their effects on financial performance, cost of capital and corporate reputation.

Sílvia Mendes is a PhD in Political sciences Professor at University of Minho Research interests: policy analysis, public sector performance, political behavior.

Noemi Mordán is an External Researcher, who earned her master degree on Business at the University of Salamanca. She is focused on public sector reforms, especially on financial health, financial distress, accountability, and information transparency. Her work has been published in international journals, such as Social Indicators Research or Public Budgeting & Finance.

Marisa Pinho received her Master of Accounting and Public Administration from the University of Aveiro in 2014. In 2015 she was hired as accountant by Cambragast and is currently the bookkeeper and accountant of Monte Meão Componentes Auto, SA.

Mirko Pečarič gained his experiences in the Ministry of the Interior and the Police; he has been the chief of the legal office in the National Council of the Republic of Slovenia, the General Secretary of the University of Ljubljana, and the State Secretary in the Ministry of Education Science and Sport of the Government of the Republic of Slovenia. Now he is the Associate Professor for administrative law and law of the public administration at the University of Ljubljana, Faculty of Administration. He wrote many legal opinions and draft laws and the requests for the Constitutional court to review the constitutionality of laws. He is the author of three monographs and numerous scientific articles. His experiences gave him a good foundation to write about the public administration and/or the public sector as a whole.

Paul Rinderu started his academic activity in 1990 as staff member of the University of Craiova, Romania, currently holding a Full Professor Chair. He earned a PhD in Biomechanics and one in International Economics and developed a consistent research/publication activity. Mr. Rinderu gained strong experience in several issues of interest for the current, namely: project and programmes assessments under pre-accession, structural and other EU funds and higher education policy maker with a special focus on Quality Assurance, Research, Employment and Social issues. In what regards the assessment exercises he was part of the team in 5 assessment exercises performed under PHARE Programme in Romania, but also doing assessment for the National Council of Universities Scientific Research and for the National Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education. In addition, he was Team Leader of 3 EuropeAid funded projects with focus on HE and acted as Senior Education Expert in other 6. He was Project Director for two ESF Strategic Projects in Romania, acted as expert for the ESF Management Authority in Romania, was Manager of a Leonardo da Vinci Reference Materials project and deputy member in the ESF Monitoring Committee in Romania.

Álvaro Manuel Reis da Rocha is Professor of Information Systems at University of Coimbra and an invited Professor at University of Santiago de Compostela and at University of Vigo. He holds Habilitation in Information Systems and Technologies, PhD in Engineering and Management of Information Systems, and MSc in Information Management. He is a senior researcher at the LIACC (Laboratory of Artificial Intelligence and Computer Science) and a collaborator researcher at the CINTESIS (Center for Research in Health Technologies and Information Systems). He is President of AISTI (Iberian Association for Information Systems and Technologies) and Vice-President of ADI-PME (Association for the Development and Innovation in the Small and Medium Enterprises). And he is the Editor-in-Chief of the Software Engineering journal and the Editor-in-Chief of the RISTI (Iberian Journal of Information Systems and Technologies).

Lúcia Lima Rodrigues is Associate Professor (with “habilitation”) of Accounting at the University of Minho, Portugal where she is a member of the General Council. Her research focuses on international accounting, corporate social responsibility, accounting history, accounting for intangible assets and risk reporting. She is author or co-author of several books, book chapters and many research papers published in several major international journals in accounting and management (such as Accounting Organizations and Society, Accounting, Auditing and Accountability Journal, Accounting Forum, Accounting History, the Accounting Historians Journal, the British Accounting Review, Corporate Communication: An International Journal, Critical Perspectives on Accounting, Journal of Business Ethics, European Accounting Review, and The International Journal of Accounting). She is Editor of the Portuguese Journal of Accounting and Management and Editor for Europe of the Accounting History journal. She was a member of the Management Committee and management Board of the European Accounting Association (EAA). She will be from 2016 onward member of the Publication Committee of EAA, where she is book review Editor. She is a member of the Portuguese Accounting Standards Setter (Comissão de Normalização Contabilística) where she represents the Portuguese accountancy profession (OTOC). She is the President of the OTOC Accounting History Commission and the President of the OTOC Financial Accounting Group.

Filipe Sá is a PhD candidate in Intelligent and Adaptable Software Systems applied to E-Government in University of Vigo, Spain. He has also studied a Master’s Degree in Computer Engineering with a Specialization in Information Systems and a Degree in Management of Information Systems. He works as a Computer Specialist (IT) at Penacova’s City Council; in particular he is in charge of the Coordination and Management of the Computer Center and the Administrative Modernization. He does research in several matters as E-government, Software Engineering and Management of Information Systems.

Isabel-María García Sánchez is Lecture of Accounting at the University of Salamanca, where she earned her Ph.D. in Business. Her research interests are public sector reforms and corporate social responsibility. Her work has been published in such journals as the Longe Range Planning. Journal of Business Ethics, Journal of Productivity Analysis, or Ecological Indicators.

Carlos Santos completed his first degree in Electrical Engineering at the University of Coimbra he got his masters degree in Electrical Engineering Sciences and he holds a PhD in Information Systems and Computer Engineering from the Instituto Superior Técnico (Technical University of Lisbon). Currently he teaches Computer Sciences within the area of scientific computing at Higher Institute for Accountancy and Administration of Aveiro (Aveiro University) and he is interested in researching information systems auditing, accounting information systems and XBRL language. He as presented and published about 50 articles in national and international journals and conferences.

Frank Sowa, Ph.D., received his Ph.D. degree from the University Erlangen-Nuremberg (Germany). Currently he is working as senior researcher at the Institute for Employment Research (IAB). He is a sociologist specialized in qualitative and ethnographic methods. His past experiences have drawn his interest in atypical employment in post-industrial societies as well as organizational ethnography of public employment services, trends of globalisation of social policy, New Public Management and identity politics of the Greenlandic Inuit. He is also working as lecturer at Friedrich-Alexander-University Erlangen-Nuremberg (FAU) and University of Applied Sciences Georg Simon Ohm in Nuremberg.

Ronald Staples studied Sociology and Theatre- and Mediastudies at the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg. Since completing his studies he is a researcher at the FAU. Before he was a professional actor. Main research focus is on Organizations, Change of Administration, Sociology of Innovation.

Maria Conceição Tavares is professor of economics and accounting and PhD in Accounting.
Claudio Teodori is a Full Professor of Accounting at the University of Brescia, Italy, where he is Vice Chancellor. His research focuses on public and private accounting, financial reporting, international financial reporting standards.

Adriana Tiron-Tudor, PhD, Full Professor, at Babeș-Bolyai University, Faculty of Economics and Business Administration, Accounting Department, Cluj-Napoca, Romania, where she coordinates doctoral students in accounting and is actively involved in the development of the Romanian accounting profession. A graduate of Babeș-Bolyai University with PhD in accounting, Mrs. Tiron-Tudor received her expert accountant designation from Body of Expert and Licensed Accountants of Romania in 1995. She has lectured extensively at a national level on financial management, on internal audit and control topics for public entities, and on public accounting standards. In 2006, she contributed to the implementation of accrual accounting system in Romania by being involved in the training of practitioners, especially for local governmental administrations. Since 2008, she has also been a member of the Fédération des Experts Comptables Européens (Federation of European Accountants, or FEE) Public Sector Committee. She became a member of the International Public Sector Accounting Standards Board in January 2012. She has also written several publications relating to government accounting and standard setting in the public sector.

Demetra Lupu Visanescu graduated from the Faculty of Economics of the University of Craiova in 1999 and received her Doctor of Economics degree in 2009. She has been working at the University of Craiova since 2001, and she coordinates the activity of public acquisitions at the level of the entire institution, including all the projects financed by the Structural Funds and conducted by the university. She has been a financial officer and an acquisition officer or lecturer in different teams that implemented projects financed by the Structural Funds and conducted by the university or by other entities. In 2014 she was a member of the Control Body of the Ministry of National Education.

Catalin Voiculescu graduated the University of Bucharest, Faculty of Law in 1999, and in the same year, he began doctoral studies at University of Craiova, Faculty of Law. In 2000, he became Assistant Professor at the same Faculty and in 2005 he earned a PhD in civil law. Current position is lecturer. He is also a lawyer, member of Dolj Bar Association. Starting with 2002, he was involved in various EU funded projects, as a managing partner in a specialized consulting company, including projects for University of Craiova.