About the Contributors

Matthias Nnadi is a lecturer at Cranfield University School of Management.

Sailesh Tanna is Principal Lecturer at Coventry University.

* * *

Ben Kwame Agyei-Mensah is a Chartered Management Accountant and a member of the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants, (CIMA), U.K. and also holds a doctorate degree in business administration (DBA) from SMC university of Switzerland. His MBA is from Paris Graduate School of Management, France. He has 9 years university teaching experience covering both undergraduate and post graduate levels. He is currently an associate professor in Accounting and Finance at Solbridge international School of Business, in Korea. He teaches accounting and finance at both undergraduate and Master’s level. Prior to moving to Korea, he held faculty positions in several universities in Ghana. He also has experience in supervising student theses at undergraduate, masters, and PhD levels. He has several years’ industrial experience as an accountant with several companies in Ghana. His research interest covers management accounting, financial reporting and financial management. As a prolific researcher he has research papers published in international journals such as; Social Science Research Network (SSRN), African Journal of Business Management, International Journal of Academic Research in Business and Social Sciences, Journal of Applied Finance and Banking, International Journal of Accounting and Financial Reporting.

Christopher Boachie is a lecturer of Central Business School, Central University College in Ghana, an academic and a practising Chartered Accountant (ACCA-UK) with specialization in corporate finance, international trade, auditing, financial statement fraud and financial risk management. He was educated in Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology in Kumasi Ghana, Technical University of Freiberg in Germany and the London School of Accountancy (UK). He is currently reading his PhD at Open University of Malaysia. He has considerable, teaching, consulting and practise experience in the application of accountancy and finance theory and risk management.

Phan Thi Hong Duc, PhD, is a Certified Practicing Accountant and a Lecturer/Course Coordinator at RMIT University Vietnam. Prior to RMIT, Duc taught and conducted research at different universities in Vietnam and Australia, including Swinburne University of Technology (SUT), University of Economics and Law (UEL), Vietnam-German University (VGU), International Education Institute (IEI), Vietnam National University (VNU). Before joining academia, Duc had over 15 years of working experiences in accounting, finance, banking, consulting areas for KPMG, National Australia Bank, World Bank Group and many other public and private enterprises. Duc holds a PhD on the topic of international accounting standards from Swinburne University, Melbourne, Australia. Her research works have been published in reputable international accounting journals including Research in Accounting Regulation, Contemporary Issues in Business and Government, Global Review of Accounting and Finance. Duc has been a recipient of several research grants. She is also a peer-reviewer of some reputable academic journal specialised in accounting issues in Asian region.

Essa R. El-Firjani is a Senior lecturer at Tripoli University.

Shamsaddeen M. Faraj is a Senior lecturer at the AL-Gabal AL-Garbi University Accounting Faculty in Libya. Dr. Faraj graduated from the University of Liverpool in the UK and has publications in national and international Journals. He is a member of the British Accounting and Finance Association BAFA. He also has participated in international accounting conferences.

Cecilia Moraes Santostaso Geron is PhD student in Accounting by São Paulo University. Obtained the Accounting Master in 2008 and graduated in Accounting in 1989 by São Paulo University. She is director in ANEFAC - National Association of Executives in Finance, Administration and Accounting in Brazil at Board International Accounting Standards. She is professor of Professional Masters in Accounting and researcher in Mackenzie Presbyterian University since 2014. She has expertise in international accounting, which is her main teaching and research interests. She has published articles in periodicals and conference proceedings. She is partner of the Praesum International Accounting since February 1995, working in accounting advice of multinational companies like Rhodia, Monsanto, Microsoft, Rolls-Royce and APC.

Marta Cristina Pelucio Grecco is PhD in Business Administration by Mackenzie Presbyterian University. Obtained the Accounting Master in 2002 and graduated in Accounting in 1989 by São Paulo University. She is certified in IFRS by ACCA in 2010. She is attended the course: International Management Program by EUROMED in Marseille – France in 2006. She is executive director in ANEFAC - National Association of Executives in Finance, Administration and Accounting in Brazil at Board International Accounting Standards. She is professor of Professional Masters in Accounting and researcher in Mackenzie Presbyterian University since 2008. She has expertise in international accounting, which is her main teaching and research interests. She has published articles in periodicals and conference proceedings. She is partner of the Praesum International Accounting since February 1995, working in accounting advice of multinational companies like Rhodia, Monsanto, Microsoft, Rolls-Royce and APC.

Irena Jindrichovska received her MSc and PhD in Economics from the University of Economics in Prague. She was a researcher in the Social and Economics Institute of the Czech Academy of Science. She worked as an internal auditor at Société Générale bank Prague. Subsequently she lectured finance and accounting at Charles University in Prague. After moving to Great Britain, she worked at the University of Wales, Aberystwyth and at the University of Buckingham. She is now involved with teaching at the Institute of Hospitality Management in and the Anglo-American University in Prague. She works with the Association of Accountants, ACCA and CFA. Apart from lecturing she devotes her academic capacity to research in accounting and economics.
Mahesh Joshi is Senior Lecturer in Accounting in the School of Accounting at RMIT University in Melbourne, Australia. He has around 25 years of teaching experience in Australia and India. Before joining RMIT University, he has worked in different capacities at Central Queensland University and Swinburne University in Australia, and constituents of Punjab University and Punjabi University in India. His major teaching and research interests are in the areas of international Financial Reporting Standards, Intellectual Capital Reporting and Valuation and Accounting Education. His work has been published in high quality international journals, conference proceedings and book chapters.

Abdulkadir Madawaki, Bsc. Accounting at Usmanu Danfodiyo University, Sokoto, Msc. International Accounting at University Utara, Malaysia, PhD Research Fellow at University Malaya, Malaysia, Lecturer 1 Department of Accounting, Katsina University, Katsina, Nigeria.

Bruno Mascitelli prior to joining academic worked for the Australian Trade Commission (Austrade) based in Milan Italy for almost 18 years. He also worked for the US Commercial Service in Melbourne for a further 2 years. In 2000 he joined Swinburne University of Technology where he teaches and researches in the area of International Business, international migration and European Political economy. His latest book is entitled “the Austrade Story”.
About the Contributors

J. O. Odia (PhD) is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Accounting, University of Benin Nigeria. His current research interests include: Adoption of IFRS by developing countries, management accounting change and corporate sustainability.

Koholga Ormin holds BSc, MSc and PhD in Accounting. He is a lecturer with the Department of Accounting, Adamawa State University, Mubi, Nigeria. And currently the Acting Head of Department of Accounting. His research areas of interest include corporate sector financial reporting, accounting theory and thoughts. He has attended conferences and published in several local and international journals. Dr. Koholga Ormin is a pioneer member of the Accounting and Finance Research Association (AFRA).

Erick Outa is adjunct faculty at Strathmore University, researcher and higher education consultant and has been adjunct faculty USIU in Kenya. He has been Deputy Vice Chancellor Finance and Administration, USIU, Chair of Business at Riara University and CFO/Director Sara Lee H& BC Africa among others. He is a member of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya, member of the Institute of Directors, member Academy of International Business –Sub Sahara Africa and a member of the Global Corporate Governance Forum. He has published in the areas of IFRS, corporate governance and higher education development. He holds a Doctorate degree in Business Leadership from the University of South Africa and an MBA from the University of Cape Town.

Duc Hong Thi Phan, PhD, is a Certified Practicing Accountant and a Lecturer/Course Coordinator at RMIT University Vietnam. Prior to RMIT, Duc taught and conducted research at different universities in Vietnam and Australia, including Swinburne University of Technology (SUT), University of Economics and Law (UEL), Vietnam-German University (VGU), International Education Institute (IEI), Vietnam National University (VNU). Before joining academia, Duc had over 15 years of working experiences in accounting, finance, banking, consulting areas for KPMG, National Australia Bank, World Bank Group and many other public and private enterprises. Duc holds a PhD on the topic of international accounting standards from Swinburne University, Melbourne, Australia. Her research works have been published in reputable international accounting journals. Duc has been a recipient of several research grants. She is also a peer-reviewer reputable academic journal specialized in accounting issues in Asian region.

Lesley Stainbank is an Emeritus Professor at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. She is currently based at the Durban University of Technology where her focus is on research and supervision of masters and doctoral students. She has a masters degree in financial accounting (M. Com) from the University of Natal and a doctoral degree (D. Com) from the University of South Africa. She is also a Chartered Accountant (South Africa). She has over 30 years experience in teaching financial accounting at all levels, including the masters level, and is a co-author of the textbook A Student’s Guide to International Financial Reporting which is widely prescribed in South Africa. Her research interests include differential reporting, corporate governance, and accounting education. She has published in a number of journals including the South African Journal of Accounting Research, Meditari Accountancy Research, Journal of Accounting in Emerging Economies, South African Journal of Economics and Management, and Accounting Education: An International Journal.
Venancio (Ven) Tauringana is a Professor of Accounting and Head of Research and Professional Practice for the Department of Accounting, Finance and Economics in the Faculty of Management, Bournemouth University. He received a Masters’ Degree (M.Acc) in International Accounting and Financial Management from the University of Glasgow and a PhD in Accounting from Edinburgh Napier University, Scotland. He is an associate member of the Institute of Environment Management and Assessment (IEMA), Institute of Chartered Secretaries and Administrators (ICSA) and Fellow of the Higher Education Academy (FHEA). His research interests are concentrated in the areas of corporate governance, voluntary disclosures and their consequences, working capital management and environmental reporting. His research has been published in a variety of journals including the British Journal of Management, European Accounting Review, Journal of Accounting, Auditing and Finance, British Accounting Review. He is currently the Vice President of the African Accounting and Finance Association (AAFA). His main teaching expertise is in the areas of Financial Reporting and Environmental reporting.

Nelson Waweru received his PhD in management accounting at the University of Cape Town and is a Professor of Accounting to the School of Administrative Studies, Faculty of Liberal arts and Professional Studies, at York University. Professor Waweru was a lecturer at the University of Nairobi, and a Professor of Accounting and Finance for the United States International University, Africa. He is the author of several published papers. Professor Waweru is a member of the American Accounting Association (AAA), the Institute of Certified Management Accountants of Ontario (CMA), and Chartered Professional Accountants of Ontario (CPA).