About the Contributors

Şefika Şule Erçetin graduated from the Faculty of Economics, Administrative and Social Sciences Department of Business Administration at Anadolu University in 1984. In 1987, she started to work as a research assistant at the Division of Educational Administration, Supervision, Planning, and Economics in Hacettepe University and completed a doctorate there. In 1994, she was invited to The University of Texas at Austin, where she worked as a visiting scholar for six months. Since 2003, she has been working as professor. From 2009-2012 she directed many international and national projects about organizational intelligence, municipalities, vocational education, as a project coordinator. She is the president, board member and founding member of the International Science Association (ISCASS). Along with ISCASS, Prof. Dr. Şefika Şule Erçetin organized three international symposiums and is now calling for a new international symposium, the “4rd International Symposium on Chaos, Complexity and Leadership (ICCLS 2016).” She is the editor-in-chief of various different national and international journals. She has had many published articles in both national and international journals. She has written seven national books, twenty-four international book chapters and edited seven international books, the latter of them were published by Springer and IGI Global. She is one of rare academicians in Turkey who is interested in chaos, complexity, and quantum leadership since 1990. She has directed many theses and she gives seminars about these topics. Her main research fields are comparative education policies, research methods, organizational intelligence, and stupidity and wisdom, leadership, migration, fuzzy logic, children at risk, women and peace studies, and social media.

Hüseyin Bağcı is a Professor of International Relations at the Middle East Technical University in Ankara and Chair of the department. In 1998, he received his Ph.D. in Political Science from the Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-University in Bonn. He was a guest researcher at the German Society for Foreign Affairs (DGAP) in Bonn, and a Senior Fellow at the Center for European Integration Studies (ZEI) in Bonn and at the Landesverteidigungssakademie und Militärwissenschaftliches Büro des Bundesministeriums für Landesverteidigung in Vienna. He has published several books and a large number of articles on Turkish Foreign Policy and Turkish-German relations. Prof. Bağcı is a famous TV and Radio Commentator in both Turkey and abroad. Prof. Bağcı is a member of the IISS in London and the Center for European Policy Studies (CEPS) in Brussels, Belgium. He is also the Deputy Director of the Foreign Policy Institute in Ankara. Prof. Bağcı has been a visiting Professor at the University of Bonn (Anna Maria Schimmel Professor) in 2007, at the University of Rome “La Sapienza” in 2007 (Italy) and at the University of Lublin in 2008 (Poland). Prof. Bağcı is widely quoted by the national and the international press. In January 2016, he was awarded with the Badge of the Austrian Decoration of Honor for Science and Art.

* * *
Şuay Nilhan Açıkalın graduated from Bilkent University, Faculty of Economics, Administrative and Social Sciences, Department of International Relations in 2012. She was a MA degree student in International Relations Department of the Middle East Technical University and currently she is a PhD candidate in the International Relations Department of METU. She has written various international articles, three international book parts, and one international announcement. Her main interests are in European Union Studies, EU-Turkey Relations, Leadership, Chaos and Complexity, and Turkish Foreign Policy. She has worked in many national and international projects as both a member of the project team and as project coordinator. She is vice president and a founding member of the International Science Association (ISCASS). Under association, she is also the contact person of Eurodesk Turkey Multiplier, and has been a member of the organizing committee of the International Symposium on Chaos Complexity and Leadership. She has been very active in Turkey and abroad.

Abdu Seid Ali is currently a PhD candidate in Faculty of Business Administration at Marmara University, Turkey. He received his BA in Accounting and a MSc in Accounting and Finance from Haramaya and Addis Ababa Universities, respectively, in Ethiopia. He was a lecturer at the Wolaita Sodo University in Ethiopia teaching both accounting and finance courses. His research interests include financial markets and institutions in developing and emerging economies, international finance—specifically foreign currency issues and foreign direct investments (FDI). He is also interested in personal finance and the measurement of personal financial wellness.

Wassim J. Aloulou is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Business Administration of the College of Economics and Administrative Sciences at Al Imam Mohammad Ibn Saud Islamic University (IMSIU) in Riyadh (Saudi Arabia) and for the Institut Supérieur d’Administration des Affaires de Sfax in Sfax University (Tunisia). He received his Ph.D. degree in Management Sciences from Pierre Mendès France University (UPMF) of Grenoble 2, in France. Currently, he is a member of the Saudi Association of Entrepreneurship. He is a Certified Entrepreneurship Trainer of the ILFEN (International License For ENtrepreneurship) in Saudi Arabia. His research interests include (social) entrepreneurship, knowledge-based startups, (social) entrepreneurial intentions and the orientation of individuals and organisations.

Robert J. Blomme is a Full Professor of Organization Behavior at the Nyenrode Business Universiteit and Director of the Nyenrode Center for Leadership and Management Development. In his teaching and research work, he covers a wide range of topics in the fields of organization behavior, organization sociology, organization theory and organizational wisdom. Together with Bertine van Hoof, he founded the Dutch institute of Wisdom in Business. In addition, he is affiliated with the global Humanistic Management Network, which seeks to promote and enhance human dignity and humaneness in organizations. Besides working as a scholar, Robert also operates as a business consultant and interim manager.

Sema Bölükbaş is a PhD student in the Social Policy Department of The Faculty of Political Science, Yıldırım Beyazıt University (Turkey), since 2012. She earned a Master’s Degree in Local Administration at the University of Ahmet Yesevi in 2011. She worked at the Justice and Development Party between 2009 and 2014. She has been working at The Prime Ministry of Turkey since 2014. Her main research area includes social policy, poverty, and equal opportunities in education. She is the author of two scientific articles.
About the Contributors

Dillip Kumar Das is currently working as an Associate Professor and Head of the Department of Tourism, Sikkim Central University. He was awarded a PhD in the year 2008, in Tourism from Utkal University, Bhubaneswar, Orissa, with a thesis topic: “Economic, Socio Cultural and Environmental Impact of Tourism: A case Study on Puri, Konark and Bhubaneswar”. He has passed the Qualified National Eligibility test for Lectureship. He has completed a Master’s Degree in Economics, from Ravenshaw University, Cuttack, Odisha and also completed a diploma in Tourism Management, from the Indian Institute of Tourism and Travel Management, Bhubaneswar, Orissa. The author’s areas of research interest are in eco-tourism, tourism impact studies and travel agency management. He has altogether 15 years of Academy experience in tourism education. The author is now currently associated with several different universities and institutes of repute in India, including: I.G.N.O.U, IITTM, Magadh University, and the Utkal University of Culture.

Çağlar Doğru is a research assistant in the Department of Business Administration at Ufuk University in Ankara, Turkey. He received an undergraduate degree in business administration from Hacettepe University and a master’s degree in human resources management from Gazi University in Ankara. Afterwards, he continued his Ph.D. in business administration at Gazi University. Until now, he has contributed numerous articles in leading journals and scientific presentations at national and international congresses on the field of management and organization. Furthermore, he is editor at Ufuk University Journal of Social Sciences. He was awarded ‘Youth Leader of the Year’ by the Rotary Club in the first national Rotary Youth Leadership Awards in Turkey. Following he has awarded ‘High Service Award of the Year’ by Tandogan Rotaract Club. With the license of ‘Certified Public Accountant’ he has consulted with many major Turkish and foreign companies, both on management, organization, finance, and accounting. He can fluently speak English, German, French and Russian, play the piano and has appeared in concert at the Middle East Technical University in 2010.

Endris Mekonnen Faris is a graduate in International Relations from the International University of Sarajevo. He is also a PhD candidate at the same university in the same program acquiring an assistant position in the International Relations department. His research areas focus on conflict and conflict resolution, secularism, religion and politics, social reforms and international organizations.

Ayşe Gözde Gözüm received her bachelor’s degree in Business Administration from Gazi University. Following this, she completed her master’s degree both in Business Administration from Gazi University and Human Resources Development in Education from the Middle East Technical University. She obtained her Ph.D. in Business Administration from Hacettepe University in 2013. She is currently an assistant professor in the department of Management & Organization at Ufuk University. Her research focuses on management, human resources, disaster management, and business ethics. She has published multiple articles in related areas.

Halime Güngör was born on April 17, 1979 in Bursa, Turkey. She graduated from Boğaziçi University, Faculty of Education Guidance and Psychological Counseling Department in 2003. Then she received her master’s degree in the Division of Educational Administration and Supervision from Sakarya University, Turkey in May 2013. Her thesis was entitled, “Relationship between Stigma Tendencies of School Principals’ and Teachers’ and Organizational Culture.” She has started to attend the Educational Administration, Supervision, Planning and Economics PhD Program since September 2013 at Hacettepe University, Turkey. She is a total quality management leader, school counselor and has also managed lots local projects on education.
About the Contributors

Shahul Hameed is currently involved in the academic delivery of the only Bicultural Social Work programme in New Zealand at Te Wananga o Aotearoa, for the last 7 years. In the past, he has taught multi-disciplines in India, Malaysia and presently in New Zealand. His extensive experience in indigenous and bi-cultural environments provides him the unique opportunity to have an in-depth working knowledge and experience of matters related to these environments. His research interests are in various inter-disciplinary subjects acknowledging the importance and application of some of the traditional bodies of knowledge.

Kenan İli graduated from Atatürk University, Department of English Language and Literature in 1996. He has been teaching English since then in State Schools. He completed his master’s degree in 2010 from the Division of Educational Supervision, Planning and Economics at Hacettepe University. His thesis was entitled, “Impact of Social Media Environments and Tools on Student’s Behaviours.” He has been at the same division and university as a PhD candidate. He has had some academic articles in international journals. His interests are Chaos and Complexity, Educational Leadership, Social Media.

Abdurrahman Jemal is a PhD candidate in Finance at Marmara University, Turkey. He received his M.Sc. Degree in Accounting and Finance and a Post Graduate Diploma in Islamic Banking and Insurance. He was a lecturer and researcher for six years in the school of Business and Economics at Haramaya University, Ethiopia. In his teaching activities, he has covered courses related to finance, management accounting, cost accounting and other related courses. In addition to his research activities in conventional finance, he also has an interest in reading and researching Islamic finance and banking. His research activities focuses on risk diversification, the stock market, Islamic finance products, Islamic banks and other related topics. In the future he is interested in research activities in these areas and Islamic capital market and insurance.

Sultan Juma Kakuba is a Lecturer in the department of Political Science at the Islamic University in Uganda and a Part-Time Lecturer at Kyambogo University. He earned his PhD in Political Science from the International Islamic University Malaysia, obtained a M.Sc. in Political Science from Usmanu Danfodiyo University, Sokoto, Nigeria, a Postgraduate Diploma in Teaching and Management at Higher Education and a Bachelor of Social Sciences (Political Science/Economics) from IUUI and has been teaching at the University level for about eleven years in various countries. He has contributed many articles in internationally peer-reviewed journals and chapters in edited books.

Kipokin Kasemsap received his BEng degree in Mechanical Engineering from King Mongkut’s University of Technology Thonburi, his MBA degree from Ramkhamhaeng University, and his DBA degree in Human Resource Management from Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University. He is a Special Lecturer in Faculty of Management Sciences, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University based in Bangkok, Thailand. He is a member of the International Association of Engineers (IAENG), the International Association of Engineers and Scientists (IAEST), the International Economics Development and Research Center (IEDRC), the International Association of Computer Science and Information Technology (IACSIT), the International Foundation for Research and Development (IFRD), and the International Innovative Scientific and Research Organization (IISRO). He also serves on the International Advisory Committee (IAC) for the International Association of Academicians and Researchers (INAR). He has numerous original research articles in top international journals, conference proceedings, and book chapters on business management, human resource management, and knowledge management, published internationally.
Hakiimu Kawalya is a graduate researcher at Ankara University biotechnology institute with a keen interest in biological entities deployable in personalized medicine and bioterrorism. Prior to joining the Ankara University Institute of Biotechnology in 2013, he graduated with a bachelor’s degree in Biomedical laboratory technology from Makerere University, Uganda and has over the years earned vast experience in the fields of microbiology, molecular biology and biotechnology. From laboratory bench work across hospitals and major research centers in Uganda, to various researches and studies relating to biological weaponry in Turkey, he has developed a strong academic inclination to bioterrorism and biosecurity.

İlker Koç is a Senior Banking Specialist at the Banking Regulation and Supervision Agency (BRSA). Prior to this, he worked at the Turkish Meteorological Office as a forecaster from 1993 to 2003. In 2004, he started to work at BRSA as a Junior Banking Specialist. He graduated from Gazi University Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences. He completed the Management Information Systems Master Program at Gazi University in 2012. He has been a Certified Information System Auditor (CISA) since 2010. He is currently working as an information system auditor in Information Systems Compliance Department at BRSA. He is specialized in the application control audits of accounting and financial reporting systems. He has 10 years’ experience in banking, information systems, corporate governance, financial analysis and auditing.

Mehmet Menteşe graduated from Anadolu University, Faculty of Education in 2002. He is now working as an English teacher at a primary school. He received his master’s degree from the Hacettepe University Division of Educational Administration, Supervision, Planning and Economics in 2013. He is interested in management, leadership and chaos theory. He is currently pursuing his PhD.

Umar Mohammed is a Professional Teacher, holding a Bachelor’s degree in Education from University of Cape Coast, Ghana and is a graduate student of International Economics at Gazi University, Turkey. His main research interests are in foreign trade and issues pertaining to economic development in Africa. Besides being a graduate student, he has nearly 8 years’ experience working in the life insurance sector.

Jan P.M. Morsch is a researcher and lecturer for the Centre for Leadership and Management Development at Nyenrode Business Universiteit. In his courses, he focuses on organizational behavior, leadership, personality, team composition and culture. In addition, he also provides courses regarding research methodology and quantitative data analysis. His research activities focus on selection systems, personality, motivation, performance, team composition, cross-cultural differences and other topics associated with the field of organizational dynamics.

Yasini Saruni Musa is a Lecturer at the Islamic University in Uganda. He has just successfully defended his Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics at Egerton University, Kenya. He has published in refereed journals on Kiswahili studies. His research interests include: Rhetoric and Kiswahili literature.

Sophia Nanyonga is a qualified Lawyer holding a bachelor of Laws degree from the Islamic University in Uganda and is a graduate student of Private States’ Law at Gazi University in Ankara, Turkey. Her areas of interest are in International States’ Laws, which focuses on the set of laws designed to govern relationships between states. This set of laws aims to serve as a framework for the practice of stable and organized international relations. International law differs from state-based legal systems in that it is primarily applicable to countries rather than to private citizens. The course further examines state laws and the extent to which they apply international or universally accepted laws. Besides being an academic, Sophia has also been practically involved in the legal profession for more than 3 years as a legal assistant at a law firm in Kampala, Uganda.

Ogunlade J. Olurotimi is a researcher and a lecturer in the College of Education, Ikere Ekiti, in Ekiti State, Nigeria. In his teaching and research works he focuses on areas such as teacher education (teaching effectiveness), counseling education with an emphasis on women’s reproductive health, career development, organizational behavior and behavior modification.

James Ogola Onyango is an Associate Professor of Applied Linguistics in the Department of Literary and Communication Studies, Laikipia University Kenya. He holds a Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics from the University of Vienna, Austria. He also holds Post-doctoral Research Fellowship from the same University. Currently, he is the Director of the Nakuru Campus of Laikipia University. He has published several articles in refereed journals on Applied Linguistics. His research interests include: language and gender, discourse- historical approach and language and politics.

Zekai Öztürk graduated from Gazi University Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences.
He got his master’s degree in management and planning from the institute of social sciences at Ankara University. His degree of philosophy in Business Administration is from the institute of social sciences at Hacettepe University. He is presently working as an Assoc. Prof. at Gazi University as a member of the Faculty of Economics and in the Administrative Sciences of Health Care Management Department.
In his teaching and research work, he covers a wide range of topics in the fields of human resources management, organization theory, strategic management and health care management.

Manuela Piscitelli is a researcher and Assistant Professor in the Department of Architecture and Industrial Design, at the Second University of Naples (Italy), since 2008. A PhD in Drawing and survey of the building heritage at the University of Rome La Sapienza (Italy) in 2001. A Master’s Degree in Architecture at the University of Naples Federico II (Italy) in 1997. A member of the teaching staff of the PhD School in Architectural Disciplines, she currently teaches courses in architectural drawing, surveying and in graphic communications in the Department of Architecture and Industrial Design, Second University of Naples, Italy. She has taught in international workshops. Her main research area includes architecture drawing, surveying and the documentation of architectural heritage and landscape, the representation and communication of cultural heritage. She has lectured on those subjects in several international conferences. She is the author of 4 books and about 50 scientific articles. She is a member of the Scientific Committee & Editorial Review Board on Engineering and Physical Sciences, World Academy of Science, Engineering and Technology.

Joan Pere Plaza i Font received his Doctorate in Political Science from the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona (2009) with a dissertation dealing with the ideological evolution of the European People’s Party throw the lens of chaology. He currently holds the position of Adjunct Lecturer on European Politics at the ESCI Business School. Universitat Pompeu Fabra (Barcelona), and he is also involved in the project “Democratization of the EU and regulatory decision: a quantitative analysis of Comitology,” funded by the Spanish Government. Prior to these current appointments, he served as a post-doctoral researcher at the Universidad Carlos III (Spain). Additionally, he has also visited other universities and research centers such as the Université catholique de Louvain (Belgium), the École Normale Supérieure de Lyon (France) and the Centro de Estudios Avanzados de la Universidad Nacional de Córdoba (Argentine). His research interests focus on the institutional framework of the European integration process as well as methodology in social sciences, with a special attention on the application of Chaos Theory to this field. The results of his scientific works have been published by, among others, Springer Verlag and the Journal of European Public Policy.

About the Contributors

Nihan Potas graduated from Başkent University, Department of Statistics and Computer Sciences in 2005. She has been working as a research assistant at Gazi University, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Department of Healthcare Management. She completed her master’s education at Gazi University Department of Statistics, Faculty of Science. During her PhD, she was enrolled in TUBITAK’s international doctoral research fellowship programme. Due to her fellowship and doctoral research, she was a research scholar at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in the department of Biostatistics. She got her PhD degree from Ankara University, Department of Statistics, Faculty of Science. She has worked in many national and international projects as a coordinator and member of the project team and an expert of statistics. She is in the board and a founding member of the International Science Association. She has written various international and national book chapters. The book part in “Organizational Intelligence in Question” is “Organizational Intelligence Scale II (University Version).” She has one personal book called “Testing the Equality of Coefficients of Variation and Comparisons.” Her main interests are in non-parametric statistics, categorical data analysis, survival analysis and statistical applications in social science.

Anthony Raman is an Academic Staff Member and Academic Management at NTEC Tertiary Group, New Zealand. He has extensive experience within multicultural, bicultural, international and indigenous environments focusing in education, training and international business development. In the past, he has held managerial and senior positions in two large public educational institutions in New Zealand and been involved in international business consulting. He has professional qualifications in International Business Management, Marketing and Arbitration from the United Kingdom. His postgraduate qualifications are in Marketing (UK) and Research Methods (Australia). He is an elected Council Member and a Registered Professional Marketer with the Canadian Institute of Marketing.

Nilanjan Ray is from Kolkata, India. He has obtained his MBA from the University of Burdwan, Department of Business Administration and his PhD is in the stage of submission. He has 8 years teaching experience in BBA and 6 years research experience and has guided around 56 Post-Graduate students’ projects. Prior to joining Royal Thimphu College, Bhutan, in the position of Lecturer, and as an Asst. Professor at different reputed Management Colleges in India, Mr. Ray has contributed 26 research papers to reputed National and International referred, peer-reviewed journals and proceedings. He has contributed 10 book chapters and is also the chief editor of 3 edited book volumes published by IGI Global, USA. He has also associated himself as a reviewer in several international journals. He has also chaired a technical session at the IIAS Conference in 2012, at Harvard University, Boston, USA. Mr. Ray is a lifetime member of the International Business Studies Academia.
Luis Tomé, PhD, is an Associate Professor at the University Autónoma of Lisbon (UAL) Department of International Relations, where he coordinates the PhD in International Relations: Geopolitics and Economics. Prof. Luis Tomé has also been a Visiting Professor at the Portuguese National Defence Institute, High Command and Staff College, as well as at the Middle East Technical University in Ankara, Turkey, and at La Sapienza, the University of Rome, Italy. He is the Scientific Coordinator of OBSERVARE, the Observatory of Foreign Relations of UAL, where he also coordinates the research group “War, Peace and Security Studies.”

Ben Tran received his Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D) in Organizational Consulting/Organizational Psychology from California School of Professional Psychology at Alliant International University in San Francisco, California, United States of America. Dr. Tran’s research interests include domestic and expatriate recruitment, selection, retention, evaluation, & training, CSR, business and organizational ethics, organizational/international organizational behavior, knowledge management, and minorities in multinational corporations. Dr. Tran has presented articles on topics of business and management ethics, expatriate, and gender and minorities in multinational corporations at the Academy of Management, the Society for the Advancement of Management, and the International Standing Conference on Organizational Symbolism. Dr. Tran has also published articles and book chapters with the Social Responsibility Journal, the Journal of International Trade Law and Policy, the Journal of Economics, Finance and Administrative Science, Financial Management Institute of Canada, and IGI Global.