About the Contributors

Rameshwar Dubey is currently working as an Associate Professor with Symbiosis International University and Visiting Professor & Research Fellow with South University of Science and Technology of China. He is also associated with various institutions of repute as a visiting scholar which includes institutes of national importance and some global universities like DePaul University, University of Massachusetts Dartmouth and Anhui School of Economics and Finance, China and South University of Science and Technology, China. He is also serving as Associate Editor of Global Journal of Flexible Systems Management (Springer) and International Journal of Innovation Science (Emerald). He has over 66 papers indexed in Scopus and SCI/SSCI and over 210 citations.

Angappa Gunasekaran is a Professor and Dean at the Charlton College of Business, University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth. Dr. Gunasekaran has held academic positions in UK, Australia, Finland, India and Canada. He has over 250 articles published in peer-reviewed journals. He has presented about 50 papers and published 50 articles in conferences and given a number of invited talks in many countries. He is on the Editorial Board of several journals. He has organized several international workshops and conferences in the emerging areas of operations management and information systems. He is currently interested in researching logistics and supply chain management. Dr. Gunasekaran has been the founding Director of Business Innovation Research Center (BIRC) since 2006.

***

Rajat Agrawal is currently an Assistant Professor at the Department of Management Studies IIT-Roorkee. His research areas include general management and supply chain management. He has contributed many research papers, book chapters—in top international publications—and has presented his research works at several national and international conferences. He teaches courses on supply chain management, operations management and quantitative techniques to students of the Masters in Business Administration program at IIT-Roorkee.

Padmanabha Aital is a Professor of Information Technology and Operations Management at the Symbiosis Institute of Operations Management, Nashik, India. He holds a PhD from IIT Bombay, and has over 18 years of teaching experience. He has published over 20 research papers in refereed international journals and conference proceedings.
About the Contributors

Surajit Bag holds a PhD degree in Supply Chain Management from the University of Petroleum & Energy Studies and is actively involved in research. Dr. Bag has trained in Case Study Teaching from the Indian Institute of Management, Calcutta. He has also trained in Total Quality Management from the Indian Institute of Technology, Kanpur. His research interests are in Green Supply Chain, Green Manufacturing, Environmental Management and Total Quality Management. He has more than six years of industry experience with exposure in the areas of international procurement and logistics management. He is a member of several professional bodies such as the Indian Rubber Institute, the Society of Operations Management, the Operational Research Society of India, and AIMS International.

Sonali Bhattacharya is an associate professor at SCMHRD, a constituent of the Symbiosis International University. She has a PhD in statistics from the Delhi University and also has a Master’s degree in insurance. Her research interests include theoretical and applied statistics, social media analytics, and social science and management. She has 40 published research papers to her credit.

Sergio Silva Braga Jr. is a doctor in Business Administration from Universidade Nove July (UNINOVE) has a Master’s in Organizational Management from the University of São Paulo (USP). He is a graduate in Business Administration from Integrated Faculties of Toledo (UniToledo). Currently an Assistant Professor at UNESP, Tupã Campus, in Business Administration course, lecturing the disciplines of Materials Management.

Susheela Girisaballa is a Research Scholar at the Symbiosis International University. She holds a Bachelor’s Degree in Agriculture and a Master’s Degree in Management. Susheela has been working as a faculty member for the past 8 years in various management schools in India. Her research interests include sustainable supply chains, operations management, and statistics and operations research.

Shirish Jeble has a MBA in Operations Management and B.E. (Mechanical) from Mumbai University, currently pursuing his PhD from Symbiosis International University, Pune, India. He has over 19 years’ industry experience and over 3 years of experience in academics. His industry experience includes imports, materials management, Global ERP implementation projects, program management and information technology projects. He has taught industry-oriented subjects such as supply chain management, operations management, enterprise resource planning, project management and industrial management in a reputed business school in Pune. His research interests are in sustainable supply chain management, Big Data and Lean Production Systems.

Shibin K. T. has a M Tech in Industrial Engineering from the National Institute of Technology Calicut. He has 3 years of experience in the automotive industry. He is currently working with Tata Technology Limited, Pune, as a Simulation Engineer for 2 years and 6 months.

Kijpokin Kasemsap received his BEng degree in Mechanical Engineering from King Mongkut’s University of Technology Thonburi, his MBA degree from Ramkhamhaeng University, and his DBA degree in Human Resource Management from Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University. He is a Special Lecturer for the Faculty of Management Sciences, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University based in Bangkok, Thailand. He is a Member of the International Association of Engineers (IAENG), the International
About the Contributors

Kaushik Kumar received his B.Tech. in Mechanical Engineering from REC, Warrangal, India, MBA from IGNOU and a PhD from Jadavpur University, Kolkata. He has over 25 years of teaching, research and industrial experience. Presently, he is an Associate Professor in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, Birla Institute of Technology, Mesra, Ranchi, India. His areas of interests are optimization, non-conventional machining, CAD/CAM, rapid prototyping and composites. He has 3 Patents, 71 international journals, 18 internationals and 8 national conference publications to his credit. He is on the editorial board and review panel of 7 international and 1 national journals of repute. He is a Mentor of the Organising body of the Institute for Research and Development India (IRD India) and has been felicitated with many awards and honours.

Arunavo Mukherjee is currently Vice President of Advisory Services, Tata Cleantech Capital Ltd, a joint venture of Tata Capital and International Finance Corporation (IFC). He has extensive experience in energy industry-spanning coal, natural gas and other renewable sources. He has been with the Tata group since 1991, and has worked in India, USA, Europe and Africa. In July 2008, Mr. Mukerjee was selected to lead the Tata group effort to combat climate change across its 100 companies. In early 2013, he was transferred to Tata Cleantech Capital Ltd to establish the advisory business. His academic credentials include a BS in Engineering from the Indian Institute of Technology and a MBA from Carlson School of Management, University of Minnesota, USA. Mr. Mukerjee is a member of the IEEE, USA, and the Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE), USA. He is a Steering Committee member of the UN’s Caring for Climate Initiative, and has been a speaker for events organized by the IEEE (USA), the Confederation of Indian Industries (CII) and the UN Global Compact, across the globe.

Sujata Mukherjee has a PH.D in Social Sciences from the Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai. She is a full-time faculty at SVKM’s NMIMS, School of Business, in the Area of Business Strategy and Environment. She teaches subjects like corporate social responsibility and corporate governance, business research methodology, livelihood management and has done research in the area of entrepreneurship management, and strategic reviews of NGOs. She has experience in working with national and international NGOs in India. Dr. Mukherjee is a member of the CII-Indian Women Network and the Society for Human Resource Management.

Nehajoan Panackal has completed her Bachelor’s in mechanical engineering and is a post-graduate in business administration-human resource management. Her research areas include sustainability, human resource management and business administration.
Supriyo Roy. M. Sc (Statistics), M. Tech (OR&IBM), Ph. D (Optimization Tech.) has been working as Associate Professor, BIT-Mesra, Ranchi since 1st July, 2012. He has completed his Post-Doctoral Fellowship from EADS-SMI Center for Supply Chain, IIM - Bangalore. He has an experience of 4 years in industry and 14 years of post-graduate teaching. His teaching interests comprise the interdisciplinary areas of management science, production and operations management, decision science, and soft-computing for manufacturing. His publications have appeared in leading journals in INFOR-Canada, AMSE-France, BJO&PM - Brazil, IGI-Global, etc. His research interests cover development of optimization models relating to management science problems via structural equation modeling.

Anil Sankhi is a Manager – System and Audits with Constantia Flexibles, Ahmadabad, Gujarat, India and has a rich 7 years of experience in manufacturing organization. He also has expertise in the financial health analysis for maintaining quality standards and audits for organizations. He has successfully implemented various quality modules in organizations including the AX module. He has a zest to improve the processes within the organization and thus, also facilitates need-based training for the internal departments of the organization.

Vinay Sharma is currently an Associate Professor at the Department of Management Studies IIT-Roorkee. His research areas include marketing management, rural marketing, advertising and business strategy. He has contributed many research papers, book chapters in top international publications and has presented his research works at several national and international conferences. He teaches courses in marketing management, advertising and business strategy to students of the Masters in Business Administration program at IIT-Roorkee.

Eduardo Guilherme Satolo is a doctor in Industrial Engineering from the Universidade Metodista de Piracicaba (UNIMEP). Has a master’s in Production Engineering from UNIMEP is a graduate in Production Engineering from UNIMEP is an Assistant Professor at UNESP, Tupã Campus, in Business Administration course, lecturing on the disciplines of Production Management.

Alexandre T Simon is a doctor in Industrial Engineering from UNIMEP, has a Master’s in Mechanical Engineering from the Universidade Estadual de Campinas (UNICAMP) is a Graduate in Mechanical Engineering from UNESP is a Professor at UNIMEP, in the Industrial Engineering Post Graduation Program.

Archana Singh has a double post-graduate in business administration and cost, and management accounting. She has 9 years’ teaching experience and is currently pursuing her Ph.D. Her areas of research include sustainability, accounts, finance and business administration.

Rupali Singh is a sponsored part-time research scholar with the Motilal Nehru National Institute of Technology Allahabad, Uttar Pradesh, India.

Kavitha. T. N. is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Automobile Engineering, Government Polytechnic, Tumkur. She has contributed many research articles to reputed, peer-reviewed journals. Her research interests include: designing, CAD and CAM, robotics, and sustainable manufacturing.
Abhishek Tiwari received his BTech in Mechanical Engineering from AIMT, Greater Noida. He is currently pursuing a Master’s in Engineering with a specialization in Design from the Department of Mechanical Engineering, Birla Institute of Technology, Mesra, Ranchi, India. His areas of interests are optimization and non-conventional machining. He has 6 international Journals and 1 International Conference publication to his credit.

Mani V. is a full time Research Scholar in the Department of Management Studies, Indian Institute of Technology, Roorkee, and is pursuing research in the field of supply chain management and operations. He has contributed many research papers in refereed journals by leading publishers that include Elsevier, Emerald, Inderscience, and Indian Management (AIMA). Prior to joining his PhD, he served for over a decade in several Fortune 500 companies in various capacities. He has also presented research articles in International conferences conducted by the Indian Institute of Management, Bangalore (IIMB), the Indian Institute of Technology, Roorkee (IITR) in association with Society of Operations Management (SOM), and the Glogift society in association with Curtin University (Glogift 2014-Singapore). His research is titled ‘It is time to change the system’ published by the Indian Management –Journal of AIMA, which won the best article of the year in 2014.

Bhama Venkataramani has more than 25 years of teaching experience, teaching the subjects of Financial Accounting, Management Accounting and Financial Management. She has to her credit, a monograph on Factoring service published by Think line publishers, Nashik. She has co-authored three textbooks in Accountancy for the syllabus prescribed by University of Pune. She is currently supervising four PhD students registered under Symbiosis International University. Her research interests are in areas of financial inclusion and inclusive education and she has published papers in topics relating to these areas. Dr. Bhama Venkataramani is the Dean of Academics and Administration at Symbiosis International University.

V.G. Venkatesh is working as a faculty member at the Symbiosis Institute of Business Management, in the area of supply chain and logistics management and has also qualified as a certified supply chain professional from APICS (CSCP). He has international apparel industry experience from Honduras, Hong Kong, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka. He has presented papers in overseas conferences in the USA, Taiwan and Hong Kong and published as a contributing author in journals including: the International Journal of Procurement Management, the International Journal of Operational Research, and Benchmarking –an International Journal. He is a regular contributor for industry magazines related to supply chain education and business areas. He has also published a book on merchandising concepts. His research interests are in reverse logistics systems and international business in the Indian apparel domain.

Prince Vijai is a Research Scholar in the Department of Operations and Systems at the ICFAI Business School of IFHE University, Hyderabad, India. He teaches under-graduate and graduate level courses related to Operations and Supply Chain Management. His research focuses on manufacturing, service, and supply chain operations and studies both strategic questions and tactical execution. He has published research articles in refereed international journals.