About the Contributors

Vojko Potocan, Ph.D. (in Business), is a Full Professor of Management and Organization at the Faculty of Economics and Business (FEB), University of Maribor (Slovenia). He earned his doctoral degree in FEB Maribor. He teaches in three universities in Slovenia and in four universities abroad (Germany, Croatia, Poland and Czech Republic). He takes part in different international scientific conferences and has conducted a number of study visits abroad. He has published over 400 texts (over 300 in foreign languages in 40 countries), including 12 books, edited proceedings and textbooks. Dr. Potocan has published over eighty articles in peer reviewed scholarly journals including but not limited to Journal of International Business Studies, Journal of Business Ethics, European Journal of Management, Engineering Economics and International Journal of Physical Distribution & Logistics Management.

Zlatko Nedelko, Ph.D. (in Business) is an assistant professor at the Faculty of Economics and Business, Department of Management and organization, University of Maribor, Slovenia. His main research interests are management, leadership, personal values, business ethics, transitional issues in CEE and innovativeness. He has been involved in international projects tackling with business optimization, enhancing innovativeness and creativeness of management in catching up economies. Recently he was a guest researcher for nine months at Vienna University of Economics and Business, Austria. Dr. Nedelko has published his articles in peer reviewed scholarly journals including, but not limited to International Journal of Physical Distribution & Logistics Management, Journal of enterprising communities, Research in social change, Logistics & sustainable transport, Engineering Economics, and Actual problems of Economics.

* * *

Bilgen Akmermer was born in Rize, Turkey in 1982. She received his bachelor’s degree in Department of Mathematics from Anadolu University, Eskişehir, Turkey in 2006; his master’s degree in Marketing from Karadeniz Technical University, Trabzon, Turkey in 2015. She worked in Trabzon Chamber of Commerce and Industry, European Union Business Development Center and Enterprise Europe Network Projects from 2007 to 2014 as european projects experts and business development manager. She has implement serious international EU projects on regional development and consult SMEs on entrepreneurship, clustering and international marketing development. Now, she has been working as research assistant in Karadeniz Technical University, Trabzon, Turkey since March, 2014.
About the Contributors

Ahmet Mutlu Akyüz was born in Trabzon, Turkey in 1976. He received his bachelor’s degree in the Faculty of Economics from International Hodja Ahmet Yesevi Turkish Kazakh University, Shimkent, Kazakhstan in 2000; his master’s and PhD degree in Marketing from Karadeniz Technical University, Trabzon, Turkey in 2010. He worked as a lecturer from 2005 to 2010 in Vocational High Schools of Karadeniz Technical University in Trabzon, Turkey. Currently, he serves as an Assistant Professor of Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Department of Human Resources Management in Gumushane University. He has many papers published in both national and international journals.

Nikša Alfirević has PhD degrees in Business and Sociology. He currently serves as a Full Professor of Management Studies in the Faculty of Economics Split and an Assistant Professor of sociological subjects in the Faculty of Philosophy Split. His research interests are related to educational management, sociology of communities, and the sociology of the Internet.

Mete E. Atmaca is a Ph.D. candidate at the Ankara University, Turkey. He received his B.S. Nuclear Engineering degree from Hacettepe University and MBA with thesis degree from Ankara University. He has been working as a nuclear engineer and project manager in the biggest electricity generation utility (Electricity Generation Co.Inc.) of Turkey since 2004. His main research and interest areas are financial optimization, electricity market, project management, and nuclear engineering.

Erhan Aydın is a PhD Student in Brunel University London and Research Assistant in Usak University, Turkey. He has received MBA from Dokuz Eylul University, Turkey, and he has three bachelor degrees from the field of Business Administration (Eng), International Relations (Eng) in Dokuz Eylul University, Turkey and Public Administration in Anadolu University, Turkey. His research interests include diversity, equality and inclusion at organisations, organizational learning and forgetting. Erhan is acting as a member of Work and Organisation Research Centre (WORC) at Brunel Business School. He is also a member of the Academy of Management (AOM) and British Academy of Management (BAM) since 2013. Also, he was awarded as a reviewer in the leading academic journals such as Gender, Work & Organization, Personnel Review, and Journal of Organizational Change Management.

Hasan Ayyıldız was born in Trabzon, Turkey in 1968. He received his bachelor’s degree in the Faculty of Political Science from Ankara University, Ankara, Turkey in 1991; his master’s and PhD degree in Marketing from Istanbul University, Istanbul, Turkey in 2000. He worked as a research assistant from 1991 to 2003 in the Faculty of Forestry at Karadeniz Technical University in Trabzon, Turkey. Currently, he serves as an Associate Professor of Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Department of Business Administration in Karadeniz Technical University. He has many papers published in both national and international conferences. He has published 2 books and more than 35 journal papers.

Selçuk Bali in 2002 took license degree at Ankara University Faculty of Political Sciences Department of Finance, in 2005 took MSc. degree Ankara University Institute of Social Sciences Department of Business Administration, in 2009 took Ph.D. degree Atatürk University Institute of Social Sciences Department of Business Administration Discipline of Accounting and Finance and in May 2013 received the title of associate professor at finance discipline. Bali is currently running in the Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences Department of Business Administration at Giresun University.
Maciej Brzozowski has received his MS in Economics from the Poznan University of Economics (Poland) in 1999. The same year he was hired as Assistant Lecturer at the Department of Management Systems and Technics of Poznan University of Economics. In 2006 Maciej Brzozowski has received his PhD in Management Science form Poznan University of Economics and is currently hired as Assistant Professor at the Department of Strategic Management of Poznan University of Economics and Business. He writes and presents widely on issues of strategic management, project management and design management.

María del Carmen Caba-Pérez is an Assistant Professor in the Public Management Sector at the University of Almeria and Vice Dean in the Economics and Business Faculty. Her research is concerning to online transparency of public administration; nonprofit organizations and Venture Capital sectors. Dr. Caba’s strong research and teaching activity has led to her being accredited as a Full Professor by ANECA, Spain’s National Agency for Quality Assessment and Accreditation. She is author of several articles published in JCR publications including The American Review of Public Administration, International Review of Administrative Science, Online Information Review, Government Information Quarterly, Voluntas, Latin American Research Review or Public Administration and Development, Public Relations Review, Information Development, etc. Also, she has written more than 15 book chapters (Kluwer Academic Publishers; IGI Global, Springer, Cappelen Akademisk Forlag).

Ljiljana Najev Čačija, PhD, is an external associate of Faculty of Economics in Split, with 20 years of practical experience in marketing. Primary fields of her interests are marketing strategy, marketing of nonprofit organizations, social entrepreneurship and fundraising from which one book and several articles are published. She is active in nonprofit sector as a consultant of numerous organizations.

Ulas Cakar received his PhD in Social Science Institute from Dokuz Eylul University in 2007. In 2009 he became an assistant professor of Faculty of Business at Dokuz Eylul University and is currently associate professor in the field of management and strategy. He has been working as South Korea Representative of Dokuz Eylul University Faculty of Business from 2011. His research interests are on issues of business ethics, Korean studies, green management, and organization theory. He has written a book of ecological approach in organization, book chapters on chaos theory in management, business ethics, and sustainability approaches, and articles regarding Korean studies, business ethics, epistemological studies in organization, and green management.

Elisa Chiaf is Ph.D. and research fellow in Management at the University of Brescia. She manages Socialis, Research Centre on Social Cooperatives, Social Enterprises and Non Profit Organizations active in Brescia since 2010. She carried out her Visiting Ph.D. at CES (Centre d’Economie Sociale) at University of Liege. She published studies on Social Enterprises’ Evaluation and Social Impact’s Measurement, e.g. “Le imprese sociali a sostegno del benessere delle fasce deboli” (Rivista di Studi sulla Sostenibilità, 2013); “Il valore creato dalle imprese sociali di inserimento lavorativo” (Impresa Sociale, 2013); “Il valore dell’inserimento lavorativo in tempo di crisi” (in M. Mazzoleni, ed., Riflessioni di impresa: alla ricerca di nuovi paradigmi, 2013).

Sara Csillag completed her PhD dissertation in 2012, at Corvinus University of Budapest, Hungary. She currently works as Head of the Management Department of the Budapest Business School and as a lecturer at CUB. Her main research interest is ethical HRM and business ethics, action research and disability issues at the workplace. She also works as a consultant for various multinationals and NGOs.

Marek Ćwiklicki, Associate Professor at the Cracow University of Economics, Department of Organisation and Management Methods, Management Faculty. Habilitated doctor of Economics within the discipline of management science (2012), PhD in Economics science within the field of Management Science (2003), MSc in Economics within the specialisation of Public Administration and Economy (CUE, 1998), MSc in Economics within the specialisation of Enterprise Management (CUE, 1998), Master of Business Science Administration (Baltic Sea Management Academy, 1997).

Ina Reić Ercegovac obtained her PhD in developmental psychology at the University of Zagreb, Croatia in 2010. She currently works as assistant professor at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Split, where she teaches courses in Developmental Psychology, Child Abuse and Neglect, Attachment across Life-span and Psychology of Teaching. Since 2012 she is the Head of the Centre for Research and Development of Lifelong Learning at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Split. She published over 35 scientific articles and participated with presentations in 20 international scientific conferences. Her main research interests are in the area of parenting, attachment, school achievement, and psychology of music.

Ilan Ferster is working as a principal at Ort Kramim High School in Israel.

María del Mar Gálvez-Rodríguez, Ph.D. in Management and Business Administration, currently is Lecturer of the area of management and organization in the Department of Economics and Business, University of Almería (Spain). Her research interests are focused on the financial information disclosures on the Web (e-government), on the management system and financial information in the federal and local governments. She has published JCR articles in VOLUNTAS, Latin American Research Review, Internet Research, Online review, Information development and articles in others journals such as CIRIEC – España Revista de economía pública, social y cooperative and Revista Española del Tercer Sector. Also, she has written some book chapters (IGI Global and Springer).

Davide Giacomini, PhD. Research Fellow, University of Brescia. Department of Economics and Management. He published studies on Social Enterprises’, Co-operative Firms, Intermunicipal Cooperation, Consolidated Report and Public Accountability in LGOs.

Fazıl Gökgöz is a Professor of Quantitative Methods at the Ankara University Faculty of Political Sciences. He has worked in the Prime Ministry Privatization Administration between 1998-2008 as Associate and Acting Head of Department. He has also worked in numerous mergers and acquisitions projects of public enterprises under privatization portfolio. He worked as member of board of directors & auditors and managerial positions in different real sector companies and institutions. He is a full time professor of quantitative methods division and lecturing on management science, operations research, statistics, quantitative finance, financial modeling, financial optimization, risk analysis & modeling, financial efficiency analysis and project management at the Ankara University.
Irena Gorenak, PhD, works as university teacher at Faculty of Logistics, University of Maribor. In her research work she focuses on the field of human resources and relationships and their importance in logistics.

Arturo Haro-De-Rosario, Ph. D. in Governmental Accounting, is senior lecturer at the Department of Economics and Business at the University of Almería (Spain). His research interests are focused on the financial information disclosures on the Web (e-government), on the management system and financial information in the federal and local governments. He is author of numerous articles in national and international journals, including Small Business Economics, Revista Finanzas y Políticas Públicas, Revista de Ciencias Sociales, Transforming Government: People, Process and Policy, Local Government Studies, etc. Also, he has written some book chapters (IGI Global and Springer).

Sonja Mlaker Kač, PhD, works as teaching assistant at Faculty of Logistics, University of Maribor. She finished PhD study at the same faculty (PhD Thesis on topic relationships in supply chains). Now, she mainly researches field of human resources and their importance in logistics, competencies and relationships between partners in supply chains.

Eyal Keydar is working as a principal at TAMAR Regional Elementary School in Israel.

Haeeun Kim received her BA from Kyungpook National University in 2010 and MBA from Izmir University of Economics in 2013. She began her PhD study at Dokuz Eylül University from 2013 and she is currently PhD candidate of department of business administration in Social Science Institute. Her research interests are on current business issues in Korea and business ethics. Her previous researches are leadership style of Korean managers and pattern of industrial accident in Korea.

Morana Koludrović is an assistant professor at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Split, where she teaches Didactics, School pedagogy; Metodology of curriculum design; Media in education; Alternative conceptions in education; Evaluation and self-evaluation in education. She obtained her PhD in pedagogy at the University of Zagreb, Croatia in 2013. She published over 20 scientific articles and participated with presentations in 15 international scientific conferences. Her main research interests are in the area of school pedagogy, school achievement, learning and teaching strategies and curriculum designs.

Füsun Küçükbay received her MS in Business Administration from Ege University, Turkey in 2004. She received her PHD in Business Administration from Ege University, Turkey in 2009. The name of the PHD thesis is ‘Performance measurement in Turkey: An Attempt at modelling for Turkey’. She worked at Ege University between 2002-2004 periods as a research assistant in Faculty of Business Administration at Accounting and Finance Department. She worked in İzmir Ekspres Corporation between 2005-2013 periods as a finance manager. She has been working as an Associate Professor in Faculty of Business Administration, Manisa Celal Bayar University, Turkey since 2013. Her research interests include corporate finance, working capital, performance evaluations problems and portfolio selection problems. She has two daughter. Her names are Ceren and İnci.
About the Contributors

Mateja Lorber is a senior lecturer at the University of Maribor, Faculty Health Sciences. Her main areas of interest and lecturing are leadership, nursing, research, and managing chronic diseases. She has presented her work at international scientific conferences and published original scientific papers in domestic and foreign scientific journals.

Mario Benito Mazzoleni is Associate Professor, University of Brescia. He published studies on Social Enterprises’ and in particular Co-operative Firms.

Damijan Mumel obtained his doctorate in psychology. He works as a Professor of marketing and a Head of Marketing institute at the University of Maribor, Faculty of Economics and Business. His main areas of interest and also lecturing are consumer behaviour, research methodology, qualitative research and communication. His scientific bibliography consists of 40+ published scientific articles. He is a member of the Slovenian Marketing Association, and the Slovenian Psychologists’ Association as well as European Marketing Academy (EMAC).

Milena Dragićević Šešić, former President of University of Arts, Belgrade, now Head of UNESCO Chair in Interculturalism, Art Management and Mediation, professor of Cultural Policy & Cultural Management, Cultural studies, Media studies. Commandeur dans l’Ordre des Palmes Academiques, 2002 (Ministere de l’Education Nationale, France). Member of National Council for Science and Technology (2006 - 2010). President of the Cultural Policy Research Award, 2003-2010 (European Cultural Foundation, Amsterdam). President, now Member of the Board of the European Diploma in Cultural Project Management (Foundation Marcel Hicter, Bruxelles). Member of Executive Committee IUC Dubrovnik. Member of Art & Culture Subboard of OSI (Soros network). Former ENCATC and ELIA Board Member. Advisor to the Minister of Culture Republic of Serbia (2007-8). Published 16 books and more then 100 essays. Expert in cultural policy and management for European Cultural Foundation, Council of Europe, UNESCO, Foundation Marcel Hicter, Pro Helvetia, British Council etc.

Rukiye Sönmez graduated from the Department of Business Administration, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences at Adnan Menderes University. She completed her master’s degree in Business Administration from the Graduate School of Social Sciences at Canakkale Onsekiz Mart University with a thesis titled, “The Role of Strategic Alliances in Gaining Sustainable Competitive Advantage”. She is currently a PhD student in the department of Business Administration, Faculty of Economics and
About the Contributors

Administrative Science at Canakkale Onsekiz Mart University, Turkey. Her dissertation title is “Collaboration and Competition Dilemma: The Impact of Co-Opetition on Firm Competitive Behavior”. Her research focuses on the dilemma between competition and collaboration simultaneously, also known as ‘cooperation’ in the network settings. She is still working as a research assistant in the same university. Her research interests and publications in academic journals include strategic management issues such as strategic alliances, value creation, competitive dynamics, competitive action and response, competitive behavior, competitive interaction, and social networks.

Tajana Tamše was a bachelor and master student at Faculty of Logistics. In her master thesis she researched international competencies in the Slovene Police.

Tessza Udvarhelyi, PhD, is a long-time activist and educator and is now the director of the School of Public Life. In 2009, she co-founded The City is for All, which organizes homeless people and those who experience housing poverty and demands long-term solutions to the housing crisis in Hungary. Tessza completed her PhD degree at the City University of New York on the criminalization of homelessness, which was partly based on a participatory action research project about the discrimination against homeless people.

Yeter Demir Uslu in 1999 took license degree at Selçuk University Faculty Economics and Administrative Sciences Department of Public Administration, in 2003 took MSc. degree Niğde University Institute of Social Sciences Department of Management Sciences, in 2006 took Ph.D. degree Selçuk University Institute of Social Sciences Department of Business Administration Discipline of Management and Organization and in September 2013 received the title of associate professor at management and strategy discipline. Demir Uslu is currently running in the Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences Department of Business Administration at Giresun University.

Angelika Wodecka-Hyjek, PhD, is an Assistant Professor Department of Management and Organisation Methods Cracow University of Economics, Poland. Her research interests are focused on the entrepreneurship in the public sector, on the modern methods and concepts of management in public administration and on the knowledge management and the concept of a learning organization in the public sector area. She also works as a consultant for organizations in the public sector.