About the Contributors

Rajagopal is Professor of Marketing at EGADE Business School of Tecnologico de Monterrey, Mexico City Campus and Life Fellow of the Royal Society for Encouragement of Arts, Manufacture and Commerce, London. He is also Fellow of the Chartered Management Institute, and Fellow of Institute of Operations Management, United Kingdom. He is also Visiting Professor at Boston University, Boston, Massachusetts. He has been listed with biography in various international directories. He offers courses on Competitor Analysis, Marketing Strategy, Advance Selling Systems, International Marketing, Services Marketing, New Product Development, and other subjects of contemporary interest to the students of undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral programs. Dr. Rajagopal holds Post-graduate and doctoral degrees in Economics and Marketing respectively from Ravishankar University in India. His specialization is in the fields of Marketing Management. He has to his credit 50 books on marketing management and rural development themes and over 400 research contributions that include published research papers in national and international refereed journals. He is Editor-in-Chief of International Journal of Leisure and Tourism Marketing, International Journal of Business Competition and Growth, and International Journal of Built Environment and Asset Management. Dr. Rajagopal is also Regional Editor of Emerald Emerging Markets Case Studies, published by Emerald Publishers, United Kingdom. He is on the editorial board of various journals of international repute. His research contributions have been recognized by the National Council of Science and Technology (CONACyT), Government of Mexico by awarding him the highest level of National Researcher-SNI Level- III in 2013.

Ramesh Behl is the Director and Professor of Information Systems at International Management Institute. His teaching expertise includes Information Technology based Decision Making, E-Business, Information Systems Management, Business Intelligence, Enterprise Systems, and Customer Relationship Management. In addition to teaching, Ramesh is an active researcher in the area of e-Business and Information Systems Management. He has also designed and developed number of software for various industry applications. Ramesh is a United Nations fellow on Information Systems & International Operations and SAP Certified Consultant. He is an international accredited professor of International Accreditation Organization (IAO), USA. Professor Behl has over twenty-nine years of teaching, research and consulting experience in the area of Information Technology and E-Business. He has worked with Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, New Delhi, and Indian Institute of Management, Lucknow and Statesman New Delhi, and has worked on various research and consulting assignments for government and private organizations. Professor Behl has authored eighteen books, fifteen case studies and more than 45 research papers of National and International Repute. He has conducted training and delivered lectures to the faculty and students of various International universities in Singapore, Indonesia, Hong Kong,
About the Contributors

Australia, China, Germany and Thailand. He has been awarded “Outstanding Academic Award 2010” from SAP, and South East Asia, Japan and “Best Professor in Information Technology” as part of Asia’s Best B-School Awards presented at Singapore in July, 2011.

* * *

Siddhartha Bhattacharyya is currently Professor and Head of Information Technology of RCC Institute of Information Technology, Kolkata, India. He is also the Dean (Research & Development) of the institute from November 2013. Dr. Bhattacharyya has two Bachelor’s degrees in Physics, and Optics and Optoelectronics. He obtained Master’s degree in Optics and Optoelectronics from University of Calcutta, India. He completed PhD in Computer Science and Engineering from Jadavpur University, India in 2008. He is the co-author of 3 books and co-editor of 5 books and published more than 135 research papers.

Natasha Patricia Bojorges Moctezuma is a Doctoral Scholar of Management Science at EGADE Business School, Tecnológico de Monterrey. She is also a member of the research group of Consumer Behaviour of the school. She has published a few research papers and participated in international conferences by contributing papers.

Raquel Castaño is professor of Marketing and Consumer Behavior at EGADE Business School, Tecnológico de Monterrey. She received her Ph.D degree and a master’s degree in Management from Tulane University. She also obtained a master’s degree in Marketing from EGADE Business School. Professor Castaño’s research focuses on the roles of emotion and cognition in decision making. Examples of this research include the role of temporal distance and mental simulation in the adoption of new products. Dr. Castaño’s research has been published in the Journal of Marketing Research; Journal of Consumer Psychology and Marketing Letters among others.

Bindu Chhabra is working as an Associate Professor at International Management Institute, Bhubaneswar. She holds a PhD in Psychology from Guru Nanak Dev University, India. She has an academic experience of over 18 years. Her areas of research interest include personality, work attitudes, stress management, emotional intelligence and leadership. She has published various research papers in national and international journals. She has undertaken various Management Development Programs with the organizations Indian Public Sector and government organization including Ministry of Social Defense, Government of India. She is the recipient of National Education Leadership Award for Best Teacher in Human Resource Management.

Ajitabh Dash is an Assistant Professor at the Regional college of Management, Bhubaneswar, Odisha, India. He has received his Master degree in Business Administration from the Fakir Mohan University in 2008 and his PhD in Management from the same university in 2012. His areas of specialization are consumer behavior, bottom of pyramid marketing, marketing research and international marketing. His research interests include electronic commerce, marketing, quantitative analysis, and managerial issues of emerging technologies. He has published several articles in many reputed journals.
Ruchika Gupta is Associate Professor at Amity Business School, Amity University, Greater Noida, India. She holds MSc in Computer Science and a PhD in Management Information Systems. In her career of over 12 years she has held multiple responsibilities as a teacher, trainer, mentor, and administrator. She has organized conferences, seminars, and workshops and is serving as Reviewer, Advisory Board member and Editor of several Journals. She has published business cases and research papers in national and international journals and has 26 copyrights to her credit. Her research areas include Information System, Information Technology and Cyber Security.

Pierre Haddad holds a Master’s degree in Innovation and Technology from Boston University and a Master’s degree in International Business from the Paris School of Business. Pierre also studied as an exchange student at the University of Mississippi and James Cook University Singapore. He has experienced several internships, in different countries (United Arab Emirates, Senegal, Mexico, France), in the hotel industry and banking industry in the fields of communication, marketing, finance and business development.

Saerom Jang holds a Bachelor of Arts in Theology, Christian Culture, from Anyang University in South Korea. She worked at two Korean fashion companies as a sales associate and a sales division manager, as well as with a Korean trading company, Jinsung Eurotec Co., LTD., as an operations manager before pursuing an M.S. in Multinational Commerce at Boston University. Currently, she is completing her last semester at Boston University and will graduate in May of 2016.

Arpita Khare is a Faculty at Indian Institute of Management- Rohtak, Haryana. She has a MBA degree in Marketing and D. Phil in International Management from University of Allahabad. With over eighteen years of academic and research experience, her research interests span over consumer behaviour, retailing, services marketing and supply chain management. She has authored quite a few research papers in international and national journals.

Andrée Marie López-Fernández is currently a full-time Professor and Researcher at the School of Economics and Business (ECEE) at the Universidad Panamericana. She has received a Bachelor’s degree in Business Management from the Tecnologico de Monterrey, Mexico City Campus, and obtained the Doctoral Degree in Administrative Sciences from the EGADE Business School Mexico City. Her research areas of interest include corporate social responsibility, marketing strategy, strategic marketing and consumer behaviour.

Raju Mandal is Assistant Professor of Economics at Assam University, Silchar, India. His research interests include economics of natural resources and environment, climate change and agricultural issues, climate change and crime, and economics of social sector. He has published research papers in refereed journals like Economic Analysis and Policy, Economic and Political Weekly, Indian Journal of Human Development, and Indian Journal of Agricultural Economics. He earned his PhD in Economics from Gauhati University, Assam, India. He was awarded the Raman Fellowship by the University Grants Commission, Government of India, to conduct his post-doctoral research at Sam Houston State University, Texas, USA.
About the Contributors

Bhimaraya Metri is Dean (Academic) and Professor of operations management at International Management Institute (IMI) New Delhi, India. Prior to this, he has held positions of Dean (Academic), Dean (Graduate Program), Program Chairs at Management Development Institute, Gurugram, India, and Coordinator of Doctoral Program at Birla Institute of Technology and Science, Pilani, India. He has extensively published in national, international journals, edited books and proceedings. He has edited two books and written various book chapters. He has obtained PhD from Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Bombay, Mumbai, India. Currently, he is the President, Indian Subcontinent, Decision Sciences Institute (DSI), Atlanta, USA. He teaches and conducts research in supply chain management, quality management and project management.

Manit Mishra, PhD, is Associate Professor (Marketing & Quantitative Techniques) at International Management Institute (IMI), Bhubaneswar, India. His teaching expertise includes Marketing Research, Business Analytics, Consumer Behavior, and Retail Management. His areas of research interest are hedonic consumption behavior modeling and methodological research. He has co-authored a book entitled “Retail Marketing” and published research papers in Journal of Retailing and Consumer Services, Asian Case Research Journal, Indian Journal of Marketing, IUP Journal of Marketing Management and IUP Journal of Management Research. He is actively involved in conducting training sessions in multivariate data analysis and structural equation modeling.

Pravat Kumar Mohanty is a Retd. Professor, Department of Business Management, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar, India.

Sandeep Kumar Mohanty is an assistant professor of marketing in Birla Global University, Odisha, India. He has done MA English and MBA in marketing specialization from the prestigious Utkal University and he has completed his PhD from Vinod Gupta School of Management, IIT Kharagpur. He has more than nine years of teaching and research experience in the field of marketing. His area of interests cover social marketing, cross cultural communication, advertisement and branding. He has taught students of both under graduation level and post-graduation level while working with four prestigious organizations in his life time.

Snigdha Mohapatra is currently working as Asst. Professor, Birla Institute of Management and Technology, in the area of Psychology and Organizational Behavior. Her areas of research interest are Employee engagement, training effectiveness and emotional intelligence. She holds PhD degree in Business Administration in the area of training and development. She holds M. Phil and Master’s Degree in Psychology from Utkal University, Odisha. She has over 10 years of teaching experience and 4 years research experience. She has published several research papers in refereed peer-reviewed Journals such as Indian Journal of research, ISTD, International Journal of Development and Social Research and HRM Review. She has also presented several research papers at International and National seminars.

Hiranya K. Nath is Professor of Economics at Sam Houston State University, Huntsville, Texas (USA). His research interests include inflation and relative price behavior, information economy, and various issues related to developing and transition economies. Dr. Nath has published in highly re-
About the Contributors

Sandra Nuñez is a doctoral scholar at EGADE Business School, Tecnológico de Monterrey in Mexico. Her research interests are focused on consumer behavior and branding, especially topics related to consumer-brand relationships, counterfeits and innovation. She has obtained Master’s degree in Marketing Communications (2006) from the Illinois Institute of Technology and MBA in 2007 as well as a B.S. in Chemical Engineering (2003) from Tecnológico de Monterrey, Mexico.

Ramakrushna Panigrahi is Associate Professor in the area of Economics at International Management Institute, Bhubaneswar, India. He obtained Ph. D in the area of Environmental Economics and M. Phil in Agricultural Economics. His research is primarily in the area of development economics. He has published a number of research papers in the journals like ‘Journal of International Development’ and ‘Journal of Human Development’. He has authored business cases including ‘Maruti India Suzuki Limited: Sustaining Profitability’, published by IVEY is widely used to teach managerial economics course. His teaching interests include Managerial Economics, Macroeconomics, International Business and Geopolitics.

Gazal Punyani is a Full-time Research Scholar at College of Business Management, Economics and Commerce, Mody University, Lakshmangarh, Rajasthan (2013-Present). Her research title is: “An Analysis of Information Technology Adoption and Evaluation of E-service Quality with special reference to Public, Private and Foreign banks in Rajasthan”. Her main research interests are Banking Technology, E-service Quality and Marketing. Before entering in field of research, she studied Master of Business Administration (MBA) from Sikkim Manipal University and Bachelors of Business Administration (BBA) from JVVU, Jaipur.

Ananya Rajagopal is an Industrial and Systems Engineering from Tecnologico de Monterrey, Mexico City Campus. She has been working with commercial banking division at HSBC Corporate Office, Mexico City since 2006. She has published several papers in international journals of repute and contributed research works in international conferences and edited books.

Jhuma Ray is currently working as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Engineering Science and Management and is the former Head of the Department of Basic Science & Humanities of RCC Institute of Information Technology, Kolkata, India. She In addition, she is acting as a Nodal Officer of Equity Assurance Plan Committee under TEQIP-II (Technical Education Quality Improvement Program), World Bank funded Project She did her Bachelors from University of Calcutta, and MBA in Finance from F.M. University, India. She has several research publications in international journals and conference proceedings to her credit. She has also authored chapters in books published by reputed publishers. Her research interests include Portfolio management and Risk Optimization procedures.
About the Contributors

Melissa Renneckendorf holds a MSc in Administrative Studies with a concentration in Innovation & Technology from Boston University, USA and a MA in International Business from Munich Business School, Germany with a focus in International Entrepreneurship and Marketing. She has completed multiple internships in the automotive, transportation and travel industry, before and during her studies. These positions allowed her to gain practical experience in purchasing, marketing, logistics, and controlling.

Pável Reyes-Mercado obtained PhD in Management Science from EGADE Business School, Tecnológico de Monterrey, Mexico City in 2015. His professional experience includes holding positions at Alcatel, Coca Cola Femsa Company and HSBC Bank. Currently, he is serving as professor in Anáhuac University, Mexico City and teaches in courses on marketing topics at graduate and undergraduate level. His research interests include adoption of innovations, technology-enabled marketing, and online consumer behavior.

Alexander Schuelke holds a MSc in Administrative Studies with a concentration in Innovation & Technology from Boston University, USA and a MA in International Business from Munich Business School, Germany. During his studies, Alexander gained practical experience in telco, insurance, and B2B industries and worked at multinational corporations in the fields of strategy, marketing, and business development. He currently lives in Munich and works as a Junior Consultant at UNITY AG, a management consultancy for future-oriented corporate management.

Sourabh Sharma is an Associate Professor for Information Systems at International Management Institute (IMI), Bhubaneshwar. He is an eminent Management Consultant, outstanding Professional Practitioner, Trainer, Academician and Educationist Counselor in Management, has been associated with Management Education and Industrial practitioner for over a decade now. He is expertise in the areas of Management Information System, Database Management System, Software Project Management, Data warehousing & Mining and many different Programming languages. He has also given his consultancy to Union Bank, Ujjain to convert their pension management software from Foxpro to Visual Basic. He started his career with Reliance Communications as a database consultant and served there for four years. Since last 11 years he is in management consultancy and teaching.

Ajit Pal Singh is an Assistant Professor at College of Engineering, Defence University, Bishofofu, Ethiopia. He is B.Tech. (Industrial Engineering) from NIT, Jalandhar and M.Tech from IIT, Delhi. He is pursuing Ph.D. on Project Management. He has more than 15 years of teaching experience with contribution of many papers to the international conferences, seminars and journals of national and international repute. His area of specializations includes Operations Management, Project Management and Production Management.

Rajwinder Singh is a graduate (Mech. Engg.) from Thapar University, Patiala, Masters in Business Administration from Punjabi University, Patiala and Ph.D. from Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar. He has also qualified Six–Sigma Green Belt from KPMG, Certificate in Project Management and Master Teachers Program from Indian School of Business, Hyderabad. He has completed 4 research projects and contributed 21 research papers in the leading international journals and 41 papers in various conferences/seminars at the national and international levels and contributed many chapters in books. He held the several academic and administrative responsibilities so far his career and served as Member Board of Studies. He is member of various academic societies. His area of research is Operations, projects and Quantitative Management.

Siddharth Varma is Professor at IMI, Delhi in the area of Operations & Quantitative Methods. A Mechanical Engineer from the erstwhile University of Roorkee and M. Tech from IIT, Delhi he holds an MBA from AIT, Bangkok and a Ph.D from IIT, Delhi. After working 13 years in the industry he shifted to academics in the year 2000. He was Associate Professor at IMT, Ghaziabad and subsequently became Director (NCR Centre) at University of Petroleum & Energy Studies (UPES). He has presented papers in conferences and published papers in national as well as international journals. His areas of interest are Operations Management, Supply Chain Management and Project Management.