About the Contributors

Patricia Ordóñez de Pablos is a professor in the Department of Business Administration in the Faculty of Business and Economics at The University of Oviedo (Spain). She completed her education in The London School of Economics (UK). Her teaching and research interests focus on the areas of strategic management, knowledge management, organizational learning, human resource management, intellectual capital, information technologies, with special interest in Asia (Bhutan, China, Laos, Myanmar). She is Editor-in-Chief of the International Journal of Learning and Intellectual Capital (IJILC) and International Journal of Asian Business and Information Management (IJABIM), respectively. She has edited books for IGI-Global, Routledge and Springer.

Robert Tennyson is Professor of Educational Psychology at the University of Minnesota. He is editor of a professional journal, Computers in Human Behavior. He also serves on editorial boards for seven other peer reviewed journals. His research and publications include topics on problem solving, concept learning, intelligent systems, testing and measurement, instructional design, and advanced learning technologies. He has directed sponsored workshops and advanced study institutes in Germany, Greece, Norway, Spain and Taiwan. He has authored over 300 journal articles, books and book chapters.

* * *

Bilge Abukan has been working as a social worker at Prime Ministry Disaster and Emergency Management Presidency since 2011. She holds a bachelor’s and master’s degree from Ankara University, Department of Social Work. She is a PhD candidate at Yıldırım Beyazıt University, Department of Clinical Social Work. Her fields of interest are clinical social work, elderliness, healthy aging, prosperity in old age, child protection services, trauma in people working at disaster and emergency, stress and skills of overcoming the stress, communication skills at work.

Lena Aggestam is a Senior Lecturer at the School of Business at University of Skövde (Sweden). Her research areas are learning organizations and knowledge management. Based on systems thinking she focuses on change management and continuous improvements, including information systems and critical success factors, and on sustainable development and the determination of customer benefits. She has a specific interest in knowledge loss and knowledge leakage, which includes the development of processes for managing these issues in a systematic way.
About the Contributors

Grisna Anggadwita is a Lecturer in the School of Economic and Business, Business Management of Telecommunications and Informatics Department, Telkom University, Indonesia. She teaches courses in entrepreneurship, small business management, e-commerce, and business process. Her research interests include entrepreneurial intention, technology management, women entrepreneurship, business incubator, and innovation management.

Maria Assunta Baldini is PhD in Business Administration within the Department of Business and Economics of University of Florence. Her main research interests are intellectual capital, corporate governance and performance measurement in the local transport companies. She presented papers at national and international conferences.

Ivan Barron is Assistant Director for the Consulting and Business Development Center at the University of Washington Foster School of Business. Ivan designs and leads management education programs for graduate students and executives. Prior to joining the Foster School Ivan worked for a variety of national organizations developing professional education programs including College Summit, The Pahara Institute, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. Ivan received his Master’s in Public Policy from Harvard University and is currently completing a Ph.D. in Education Leadership and Policy at the University of Washington.

Kallol Basu is a business consultant with Tata Consultancy Services with 10 years of insightful experience in donning leadership roles in Organization Change Management and Business Transformation. Kallol is doing his PhD from Kedge Business School and is PMP Certified. He has a number of publications in international journals.

Robert J. Blomme is a Full Professor of Organization Behaviour at Nyenrode Business Universiteit and Director of the Nyenrode Center for Leadership and Management Development. He is also a Full Professor of Management and Organization at Open University. In his teaching and research work, he covers a wide range of topics in the fields of Organization Behavior, Organization Sociology, Organization Theory and Organizational Wisdom. Together with Bertine van Hoof, he founded the Dutch institute Wisdom in Business. In addition, he is affiliated with the global Humanistic Management Network which seeks to promote and enhance human dignity and humaneness in organizations. Besides working as a scholar, Robert also operates as a business consultant and interim manager.

Giovanni Bronzetti is associate professor in Business Economics within the Department of Business and Law of University of Calabria. His main research interests are related to no-profit sector and intellectual capital. On these research themes he has published books, book chapters, journal articles and presented papers at national and international conferences.

Susanne Durst is an Associate Professor at the School of Business at University of Skövde (Sweden). Her research interests include small business management, SME succession/business transfers, knowledge management, intellectual capital (risk) management and corporate governance. She is leader of the research group knowledge and innovation management (KIM) at the School of Business at University of Skövde.
Charalampos Giousmpasoglou is Associate Professor at the University of West London. He has dual background as a practitioner in luxury hospitality industry and as an academic in higher education. His research interests focus in Managerial work, Hospitality Management, Culture and Human Resources Management. On these research themes he has published a book, book chapters, journal articles and presented papers to international congresses. Dr. Charalampos is a holder of two first Degrees in Hospitality and Tourism from Greece (ASTER & TEI), an MSc in Hospitality Management from BCFTCS, an MA in Personnel Management from Leeds Metropolitan University, a PgD in Research Methodology and a PhD in Hospitality and HRM from the University of Strathclyde. He is also a Senior Fellow of the Higher Education Academy.

Azizul Hassan is a member of the Tourism Consultants Network of the UK Tourism Society, and is currently working towards a PhD at Cardiff Metropolitan University. His main areas of research are: technology-supported marketing in tourism; innovative marketing dynamics; destination branding in tourism; cultural heritage tourism; heritage interpretation; and sustainable management/marketing alternatives for cultural heritage industries. He is a regular reviewer of Tourism Analysis, the International Journal of Human Resource Management, the International Journal of Ecotourism, the eReview of Tourism Research (eRTR) and The International Interdisciplinary Business-Economics Advancement Journal.

Shinhee Jeong is currently a doctoral candidate at the Department of Educational and Human Resource Development, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, USA. She worked at Korea Labor Education Institute as a program manager and at Korea Research Institute of Vocational Education and Training as an assistant researcher for more than six years. Her research interests include effective leadership, person-environment fit, organizational knowledge creation, workplace creativity, and work engagement.

Kijpokin Kasemsap received his BEng degree in Mechanical Engineering from King Mongkut’s University of Technology Thonburi, his MBA degree from Ramkhamhaeng University, and his DBA degree in Human Resource Management from Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University. He is a Special Lecturer at Faculty of Management Sciences, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University based in Bangkok, Thailand. He is a Member of International Association of Engineers (IAENG), International Association of Engineers and Scientists (IAEST), International Economics Development and Research Center (IEDRC), International Association of Computer Science and Information Technology (IACSIT), International Foundation for Research and Development (IFRD), and International Innovative Scientific and Research Organization (IISRO). He also serves on the International Advisory Committee (IAC) for International Association of Academicians and Researchers (INAAR). He has numerous original research articles in top international journals, conference proceedings, and book chapters on business management, human resource management, and knowledge management published internationally.

Junghwan Kim is an Assistant Professor of Adult and Higher Education and a Faculty Affiliate in the Center for Social Justice at the University of Oklahoma in Norman, Oklahoma, USA. Dr. Kim earned his Ph.D. in Adult Education from the Pennsylvania State University in University Park, Pennsylvania, USA. His research interests include: 1) adult and informal learning, 2) community education and social change, 3) continuing higher education and lifelong learning, 4) critical human resource development, 5) international lifelong learning policy and practice, 6) research trends in adult/workforce education, 7) sociocultural approaches to adult learning/education, and 8) workplace learning and organizational change.
About the Contributors

Doo Hun Lim is an Associate Professor of Workforce Learning and Development at the University of Oklahoma. His research interests have been in the areas of leadership development, performance improvement systems and technology, neuro-science approaches for learning design, and cross-cultural research on organizational development and workplace issues.

Xander Lub is a Professor of Hospitality Management & Experience Design at NHTV University of Applied Sciences in Breda, and a Senior Lecturer at the VU University Amsterdam, Faculty of Economics and Business Administration. He received his PhD from the University of Tilburg in 2013. His research interests include generational differences and psychological contracts as well as hospitality and design thinking.

Evangelia Marinakou has an extensive teaching experience in higher education at undergraduate and postgraduate level. Besides teaching she has supervised numerous dissertations of both undergraduate and postgraduate students, some of which have been presented at conferences jointly with the students. Before joining Bournemouth University, she acted as the Head of Hospitality and Tourism at University of West London. Prior to this position she was the Head of Business at the Royal University of Bahrain, and prior to this was the Dean of the Business School at IST College- University of Hertfordshire. She is active in research with papers presented at international conferences, and published at academic journals. Her main research interests are gender issues in management, leadership, hospitality management and education. She has also acted as Project leader to European funded programs on vocational education and training in tourism studies. She has extensive experience on curriculum design, quality assurance issues in higher education and training the trainers. Additionally, she has worked in the hospitality and tourism industry for many years.

Ana Martins is an Associate Professor in Leadership, Graduate School of Business & Leadership, University of Kwazulu-Natal, South Africa.

Isabel Martins is an Associate Professor in Organizational Behavior, School of Management, IT and Governance, University of Kwazulu-Natal, South Africa.

Kasturi Rohit Naik is presently working at DES’s NMITD Institute, Mumbai as Assistant Professor with MMS Department. She has done graduation in B.Pharm and Masters in Management studies with HR specialization. Currently pursuing PhD from SCSVMV University located in Kanchipuram, Chennai in area of stress management under guidance of Dr. Srimi R Srinivasan. She has published and presented more than 12 papers in India and abroad. Her interest areas of research include stress management, training and development, talent management etc. She has received certifications in Second degree Reiki and Mind Mapping. She is a Neuro-Linguistic Programming practitioner.

Tasawar Nawaz holds several academic and management roles at University of Plymouth, UK. Dr Nawaz holds a PhD in Accountancy & Finance from Heriot-Watt University in Edinburgh. His research involves interpretive and positivist dimensions in the areas of talent management, corporate governance and ethical banking and finance.
About the Contributors

Tarek Ben Noamene earned a Ph.D in Management from the University of Nice (France) in 2009. Dr. Tarek’s research interests include Employee ownership, Corporate Governance and Human Capital, Corporate Social Responsibility. Dr. Tarek has written in these topics in the Journal of Business Research, International Business Research, in La Revue du financier etc. The courses Dr. Tarek teaches include Occupational Health and Safety, Introduction to human resource management, and performance management. Prior to joining HCT in 2016, Dr. Tarek was Assistant Professor at the Emirates College of Technology in Abu Dhabi, and at the University of Nice in France.

Daniel Novak is a research associate at the University of Washington. His graduate training includes a MA in Educational Technology from San Diego State University and a Ph.D. in Learning Sciences from the University of Washington. His research focuses on the role of technology in improving the learning experience and outcomes for adult and professional learners in online spaces. He has conducted international research on mobile learning technologies, instructional design for adult learning, and the support of professionals in the workplace with partners as diverse as the US Navy, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, and the Boeing Corporation. His current research focuses on the development of online platforms and multi-media learning materials for educational leaders in school district central offices across the United States.

Duygu Oztas has been working as a research assistant at Ankara University, Faculty of Health Sciences since 2010. She holds a bachelor’s degree from Ankara University, Department of Nursing and a master’s degree from Hacettepe University, Department of Public Health Nursing. She is a PhD candidate at Hacettepe University, Department of Public Health Nursing. Her fields of interest are public health, women’s health, child health, induced abortion, family planning, labor health, school health, violence against women.

Kristina Palm’s (PhD) primary research focuses are on work, work environment, leadership, organising, human resources, and change processes - all with special emphases on human sustainability. Her primary study objects have been industrial companies, but are now broadening the field to also include health care organisations. Kristina is also the Head of the Department of Applied Mechanics at KTH and one of two leaders for the research group LEAD Leadership, evaluation and organisational development at Karolinska Institutet.

Sunyoung Park is an assistant professor of Human Resource Education and Workforce Development at Louisiana State University. Her research interests include organizational culture and behavior, leadership, learning and performance, and research trends in human resource development and related fields.

Orlando Pereira is an Assistant Professor in Economics, University of Minho, School of Economics and Management, Department of Economics, Campus de Gualtar.
About the Contributors

Roya Rahimi is lecturer at the University of Wolverhampton, Business school, where she teaches across tourism, hospitality and events subject areas and supervises undergraduate/postgraduate dissertations and PhD students. Her research interests are CRM, Organisational Culture, Human Resource Management, Gender Equality and Tourism Higher Education. Her work has been published in top-tier journals such as the Journal of Tourism and Hospitality Research, Journal of Travel & Tourism Marketing, International Journal of Contemporary Hospitality Management and Anatolia. Her work has been presented at various international conferences and appears in book chapters released by Routledge, CABI, Emerald and IGI. She sits on the editorial board of the Journal of Hospitality and Tourism Technology and serves as reviewer for number of leading journals. Roya received The Valene L. Smith Prize for the best presented paper at the International Conference of Service Quality in Hospitality & Tourism in Isfahan at 2016.

Umamaheswari S., after graduation from Madras University, acquired Master degree in Bank Management and completed Master of Philosophy from Alagappa University. She has also done Master degree in Business Administration from Sathyabama University. She is currently pursuing research work in employee retention and has published papers in national and international journals.

Graziella Sicoli is researcher in Business Economics within the Department of Business and Law of University of Calabria. Her main research interests are related to the intellectual capital and family firms. On these research themes she has published books, book chapters, journal articles and presented papers to national and international congresses.

Srini R. Srinivasan is presently working as Associate Professor at JBIMS, Mumbai. He holds his PhD degree in the area of Retail Management and published and presented more than 35 research papers in India and abroad. He authored three text books in the area of Retail Management. They are Cases in Retail Management and Strategic Retail Management and Mall Management. Presently consulting to major retailers like Lawrence & Mayo, Sbarro, Dosa plaza, vegis, the loot store etc. He is at present guiding many research initiatives by reviewing research articles, proposals, papers at esteemed organizations like ABRM. He recently received “Best Educationist Award 2012” from Indian Solidarity Council- New Delhi.

Manikantan Vaidhyanathan has 13 years of teaching experience. He is the youngest Head and Joint coordinator of the Institution. He is into administration for the past 10 years. He is trained person in managing Human Resources tactfully. It is hence one of the main reason for him to be designated the Joint Coordinator of the Institution in his young age. He possesses his Master degree in Commerce, he completed his Masters in Philosophy in the branch of Commerce, and he completed his Post Graduate Diploma in Personnel Management and Industrial Relations. In the Year 2013, V. Manikantan completed his Doctor in Philosophy in the Branch of Commerce with a specialization in Human Resources Management. Presently he is undergoing his Masters in Business Administration in Ural Federal University, Russia. He has participated and presented papers in various conferences across the globe. He prevails in the advisory capacity for various academic institution in India. with his parent’s blessings, wife’s support, two young daughters’ love, and well wishers’ guidance, he is surpassing remarkable milestones in his career.
Ratri Wahyuningtyas is a Lecturer in the School of Economic and Business, Business Management of Telecommunications and Informatics Department, Telkom University, Indonesia. Her research area is Human Resource Management, Talent Management, and Leadership.

Filiz Yildirim is an assistant professor at Ankara University (Turkey), Faculty of Health Sciences, Department of Social Work. She received her master's and doctorate degrees at the Department of Family and Consumer Sciences. She was awarded a “Doctorate Research Scholarship” from TUBITAK to carry out a part of her doctorate research at the Department of Sociology, Criminology & Law at the University of Florida, the USA in 2011. She received the “International Young Scholar Award” from the Society for Research on Adolescence in Canada in 2012. She worked as a “Visiting Research Associate” at London University, Institute of Education, Department of Childhood, Families & Health in 2014. Her main research interests include aging & youth sociology, love, early (child) marriage, social justice, health literacy, employee assistance programs. She is also a post-doctoral fellow at Hacettepe University (Turkey), Department of Sociology.

Jieun You earned her Ph.D in Workforce Development and Education at the Ohio State University, Columbus, USA. Her research interests include: 1) human resource development, 2) informal learning and organization-supported learning, 3) social network approach in human resource development, 4) organizational learning and change management, and 5) evaluation of human resource development.