About the Contributors

Wafa’a A. Rabayah, born in Irbid, Jordan in 1985, she obtained her master degree of Management Information System from Yarmouk University, Jordan (2014), and her bachelor degree in computer science from Jordan University of Science and Technology, Jordan (2007), Wafaa has research interest in E-government, social network and decision support systems.

Rawan Tayseer Khasawneh is a full time lecturer in the department of Computer Information Systems at Jordan University of Science and Technology. She obtained her master degree in Management Information Systems from Yarmouk University in Jordan (2013), and her bachelor degree in Management Information Systems from Yarmouk University in Jordan (2011). Khasawneh’s research interests include: e-government, social media and sentiment analysis, E-marketing and E-CRM, knowledge management systems and group decision support systems.

Izzat Alsmadi obtained his Ph.D degree in software engineering from NDSU (USA) and his second master in software engineering from NDSU (USA) and his first master in CIS from University of Phoenix (USA). He had a B.Sc degree in telecommunication engineering from Mutah University in Jordan. He has several published books, journals, and conference articles largely in software engineering and information retrieval fields.

***

Ameen Kamel Alazzam is a lecturer of Information System at Technical College in Tai’f. He obtained his master’s degree in Management Information Systems from Yarmouk University\Jordan (2012), and his bachelor degree in Management Information Systems from Al- Balqa’ Applied University\Jordan (2006). Ameen has research interest in e-government topics like Trust, security issues and adoption of e-government. Also, he works on research projects in E-marketing and E-CRM, and knowledge management systems.
About the Contributors

Ahmed Alzyoud obtained his master degree in Computer Information system (CIS) from Yarmouk University in 2016. Beside social networks interests, he is interested in software testing domain, and web mining researches.

Olayiwola Bello obtained his Masters’ degrees in Information Science (2008) and Business Administration (2011) from the Universities of Ibadan and Obafemi Awolowo University in Nigeria respectively. In 2010 he was employed as a lecturer at the University of Ilorin in the department of Information and Communication Science and is currently a doctoral researcher at Nova Universidade de Lisboa, Lisbon Portugal with a focus on Information and Decision Systems. He writes and presents widely on issues of integrating information technology into work process in business, governance and academics as well as telecommunications management. He is a Transparency International award winner, beneficiary of research grants from national and international bodies and a Certified Information Professional (CIP).

María del Carmen Caba-Pérez is a Professor in public management sector and general manager at the University of Almería (Spain). Her research concerns online transparency and communication of public administrations. Dr Caba’s strong research and teaching activity have led to her being accredited as a Full Professor by Agencia Nacional de Evaluación de la Calidad y Acreditación (ANECA), Spain’s National Agency for Quality Assessment and Accreditation. She is author of several articles published in Journal Citation Reports (JCR) publications including The American Review of Public Administration, International Review of Administrative Science, Online Information Review, Government Information Quarterly, Voluntas, Latin American Research Review, Public Administration and Development, Public Relations Review, Information Development and so on. Also, she has written more than 15 book chapters (Kluwer Academic Publishers; IGI Global, Springer, Cappelen Akademisk Forlag).

Abdelmadjid Ezzine received his Phd with honor from Sidi Bel Abbes University. Dr. Ezzine is an assistant professor in Applied Mathematics at the Faculty of Economics, Sidi Bel Abbes University. His research focuses on Structural equation models with latent variables and applying of statics and data analysis methods in Marketing.

Nasir Faruk is a lecturer in the Department of Telecommunication Science, University of Ilorin, Nigeria since 2010. He received the PhD in Electrical and Electronics Engineering at University of Ilorin, Nigeria in 2015, Masters of Science in Mobile & High Speed Telecommunication Networks with distinction from Oxford Brookes University, Oxford, UK in 2010 and Bachelor of Science in Physics with first class honors from Kano University of Science and Technology (KUST) Wudil, Kano State, Nigeria in 2007. From 2015-2016, he was a postdoctoral researcher at the department of Communication and Networking, school of Electrical Engineering, Aalto University, Finland. He has received numerous research grants and fellowships with authorship of over 50 scientific publications. His research interests lie in the areas of telecommunication management and modeling, as well as in the use of information systems to drive qualitative management processes. He is a member of IEEE and IET.

Modupe Folarin received her MSc degree in Business Systems Analysis and Design from City University London with distinction in 2013. Before then she has been building a career in Business Analysis and IT and realized the intrinsic nature and impact social media has on organizations where she worked as a Business Analyst. She presently consults for businesses in areas of Project Management (IT and Business) as a Business Analyst.

Vehbi Gorgulu, M.A., is a doctoral Candidate in Media and Communication Studies at the Faculty of Communication, Galatasaray University and a research assistant at the Faculty of Communication, Istanbul Bilgi University. His most recent research is published by Information, Communication & Society and Third Text.

Arturo Haro-de-Rosario has a PhD in accounting and finance, assistant professor at the department of Economics and Business, University of Almería (Spain). His research interests are focused on the financial information disclosures on the Web (e-government) and on the management system and communication in the federal and local governments. He is author of numerous articles in national and international journals, including Small Business Economics, Social Science Computer Review, Transforming Government: People, Process and Policy, Local Government Studies and so on. Also, he has written some book chapters (IGI Global and Springer).

Mekki Marwa Imane received her Master in Marketing with honor from University of Sidi Bel Abbes. Miss. Mekki interest is studying brands in social media and applying statistical analysis techniques in marketing.

Mambo Governor Mupepi received his PH.D. in Organization Development, Business Administration, from Benedictine University. (2004), he has MBA in Strategy Management, Business Administration, from Davenport University, and MA in Strategy Management, Business Administration, also from Davenport University. Now he is in the position of “Visitor Professor, Non-Tenure Track, Seidman College of Business, Grand Valley State University, Michigan”. His research interest
About the Contributors

Meriem Nouala received her Phd with honor from Sidi Bel Abbes University in 2015. Dr. Nouala is an assistant professor in marketing at Sidi Bel Abbes University, Algeria. She heads the Marketing Innovation Research group, which focuses on the application of mathematical modeling and statistical analysis for marketing innovation. Here research interests include innovation in marketing, service marketing, e-marketing, and applied mathematics for marketing analysis.

Alejandro Sáez-Martín is a researcher in government administration in the department of Economics and Business at the University of Almería (Spain), FPU/2013 grant from the Spanish Ministry of Science and Innovation (MCINN). He is the author of numerous articles in national and international journals, including Social Science Computer Review, Transforming Government: People, Process and Policy, Local Government Studies, Information Development and so on. Also, he has written some book chapters (IGI Global and Springer).

Laura Saraite is a researcher in government administration in the department of Economics and Business at the University of Almería (Spain), FPU/2016 grant from the Spanish Ministry of Science and Innovation (MCINN).

Kristen Smirnov received her PhD in Marketing from the University of Alberta. She focuses on Consumer Behavior research in the area of technology and social media.

Patience Taruwinga teaches several classes in the Business Division at Saint Joseph’s College. Professor Taruwinga finds it rewarding when students acquire new skills, expand their knowledge, and learn something relevant and applicable to the real-world beyond academia. In the past he taught at IU South Bend’s Judd Leighton School of Business and Economics. Patience Taruwinga has experience in international trade and supply chain management. He is the owner and founder of Geek Investments LLC., and RPJ Truck and Equipment Sales LLC both export companies with sales in more than seven countries. He has research interests in the succession of family owned businesses.

Kaan Varnali, Ph.D., is an Associate Professor of Marketing and the Vice Dean at the Faculty of Communication, Istanbul Bilgi University, where he teaches courses on consumer psychology, brand management, and digital product development. He is also the founding director of the master’s program in marketing communications (MA) in Istanbul Bilgi University, known as the brand school. His current research focuses on complaint management, brand communication in social media, and configural analysis. His prior research has appeared on several highly regarded scholarly journals including Journal of Business Research, International Journal of Information Management, Information, Communication & Society, Journal of Marketing Communications, Society, and Electronic Commerce Research and Applications. He also authored 3 books: “Mobile Marketing: Fundamentals and Strategy”, published by McGraw-Hill, New York, and two others written in Turkish both published by MediaCat, Istanbul.