About the Contributors

Patricia Ordóñez de Pablos is a professor in the Department of Business Administration in the Faculty of Business and Economics at The University of Oviedo (Spain). She completed her education in The London School of Economics (UK). Her teaching and research interests focus on the areas of strategic management, knowledge management, organizational learning, human resource management, intellectual capital, information technologies, with special interest in Asia (Bhutan, China, Laos, Myanmar). She is Editor-in-Chief of the International Journal of Learning and Intellectual Capital (IJLIC) and International Journal of Asian Business and Information Management (IJBIM), respectively. She has edited books for IGI-Global, Routledge and Springer.

Hasliza Abdul-Halim, PhD, is currently an Associate Professor at School of Management, Universiti Sains Malaysia. She obtained her PhD from University of Malaya, Malaysia. Her research interests include strategic management, SMEs, HRM, business strategy and outsourcing. She has published in internationally refereed journals and she has also reviewed articles for international journal.

Noor Hazlina Ahmad, PhD, is currently a Professor at the School of Management, Universiti Sains Malaysia. She obtained her PhD from the University of Adelaide, Australia. Her research interests include entrepreneurship, SMEs, and organisational behaviour. She has published in several internationally refereed journals including Journal of Business Ethics, Social Indicators Research, Management Decision, and Journal of Education, Technology & Society.

Norman Au is an Associate Professor at the School of Hotel and Tourism Management, the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. His research interests are user behaviour with information technology applications.

Neeta Baporikar is currently Director/Professor (Business Management) at Harold Pupkewitz Graduate School of Business (HP-GSB), Namibia University of Science and Technology, Namibia. Prior to this she was Head-Scientific Research, with Ministry of Higher Education CAS-Salalah, Sultanate of Oman, Professor (Strategic Management and Entrepreneurship) at IIIT Pune andBITS India. With more than a decade of experience in industry, consultancy and training, she made a lateral switch to research and academics in 1995. Dr. Baporikar holds D.Sc. (Management Studies) USA, PhD in Management, University of Pune INDIA with MBA (Distinction) and Law (Hons.) degrees. Apart from this, she is also an External Reviewer, Oman Academic Accreditation Authority, Accredited Management Teacher, Qualified Trainer, Doctoral Guide and Board Member of Academics and Advisory Committee in accredited B-Schools. Reviewer for international journals, she has to her credit 5 conferred doctorates, several refereed research papers, and authored books in the area of Entrepreneurship, Strategy, Management and Higher Education.

Stephen W. Y. Cheng is currently a research student studying Engineering Doctorate degree at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. His current research areas cover supply chain management, customer relationship management and data mining techniques.

Mohammad Ashraful Ferdous Chowdury is an Assistant Professor of the Department of Business Administration, Shahjalal University of Science & Technology (SUST), Sylhet, Bangladesh. He is a young researcher graduated with a Bachelor degree in Finance and MBA in Finance & Banking from Shahjalal University of Science & Technology (SUST), Bangladesh. He also holds MSc degree in Islamic Finance from International Centre for Education in Islamic Finance (INCEIF), The Global University of Islamic Finance, a post-graduate university specializing in Islamic Finance, established by the Central Bank of Malaysia. He has managed to publish quite a number of articles in refereed international and local journals published by Inderscience, Emerald, Springer. His main research interests are in the area of Islamic capital market, Islamic banking, Sustainable development, Ethical and socially responsible investments. Mohammad Ashraful Ferdous Chowdury is a financial economist with consulting, research and teaching experiences in development finance, money and capital markets, Islamic finance, corporate finance, investments.

K. L. Choy gained his MSc degrees in Manufacturing Systems Engineering and in Management Science and his MPhil in Engineering at the University of Warwick, UK in the 1990s and a Doctorate degree at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University in 2003. He is an Associate Professor in the Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering of the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. He has published more than 100 international journal papers in the areas of logistics information, data systems, supply chain management and technology management, as well as applying expert systems to industry.

Zulkipli Ghazali received his Bachelor in Mechanical Engineering from the Universiti Teknologi Malaysia (1983), MBA from the International Management Centre, UK (1998) and PhD from the Universiti Teknologi MARA Malaysia (2010). He is currently an Associate Professor at the Department of Management and Humanities, Universiti Teknologi PETRONAS, Malaysia. His research focus on Organization and Management of Plant Turnaround Maintenance in petrochemical industries. Other major research (1) A Behavioral Study on Baronia Offshore Platform Personnel of PETRONAS Carigali Sdn Bhd, (2) The Effectiveness Study on Greater Nile Petroleum Operating Company’s Community Development Projects in the Republic of Sudan (3) The Behavioral and Mindset Change for PETRONAS Lube Blending Plant. Current research: (1) Stakeholders Issues and Analysis on the Social, Economic and Environmental Implications of CO2 – Natural Gas Value Chain Program, (2) Development of Management and Organization Model for Plant Turnaround Maintenance in Malaysian Process-based Industries (3) The development of Customer Value Co-Creation Behavior Model in Malaysian Retail Industry.
About the Contributors

Hanshika Herath is a Lecture and Researcher in Tourism and Hospitality Management. She has completed Postgraduate Diploma in Tourism Economics and Hotel Management from University of Colombo Sri Lanka and BSc. tourism Management (Special) Degree from Sabaragamuwa University of Sri Lanka. Hanshika is having thorough research background based on Tourism Management.

Yasmin Hui is currently a research student at the Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. She received her Bachelor’s degree from the Hong Kong Polytechnic University in 2014. Her current research areas cover e-fulfillment operations, packaged food warehousing and data mining for efficiency enhancement.

Mehree Iqbal is a Senior Lecturer in Marketing and International Business of the School of Business and Economics at North South University. She has been teaching here since 2012. Ms. Iqbal received her Bachelor’s Degree from North South University, Bangladesh and Master’s Degree in International Business and Entrepreneurship from University of Glasgow, UK. She usually teaches the courses of International Business, International Competitiveness, International Strategy, Entrepreneurship and International Marketing. In addition to teaching, Ms. Iqbal has a research interest in areas in consumer behaviour/perception, strategic internationalization, sustainability, green banking and Technology Acceptance Models. Ms. Iqbal has published papers on these areas as well. She is a regular writer on issues of current international affairs in Business Asia Magazine. She is the founder of Synergy: Personal Development and Counselling, which provides counselling to the people in need as a part of social responsibility and sustainability of the society.

Manoj Kumar received his PhD in Mechanical Engineering from the Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi, India. He is presently working as Director, International Engineering Services. He has authored or co-authored over 80 research papers in journals and conferences. He has authored or co-authored 20 chapters of book. He is reviewer in 11 international research journal. His biographical note is published in Asia/pacific who’s who (vol. XII)- 2013, Biography India-2014, Famous India: nation’s who’s who-2015.

H. Y. Lam received her BSc (Hons) Logistics Engineering and Management and PhD in Industrial and Systems Engineering from the Hong Kong Polytechnic University in 2008 and 2014 respectively. She is currently a Research Associate in the Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. Her current research areas cover supply chain management, warehouse and logistics management, decision support system and artificial intelligence applications.

Rob Law is a Professor at the School of Hotel and Tourism Management, the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. His research interests are information management and technology applications.

K. H. Leung is currently a research student at the Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. He received his Bachelor’s degree from the Hong Kong Polytechnic University in 2014. His current research areas cover business process management, knowledge management, as well as e-commerce logistics decision support, reengineering and automation.
Sruth Munasinghe is a senior lecturer in the department of tourism management of Sabaragamuwa University of Sri Lanka. His tenure of teaching and researching in the area of hospitality span over a decade.

Balakrishnan Muniapan is a specialist in HRM and is currently with Wawasan Open University in Penang. He has previously held Senior Lecturer positions at Swinburne University of Technology, Curtin University of Technology, and BIMC in Beijing (China). Dr Bala was recently conferred the “Best Professor in HRM” award at the World Education Congress, Asia’s Education Excellence Award 2014 in Singapore. He has also been a Visiting Professor in HRM for universities and management institutes in the Philippines, Vietnam and India. In academia, Dr Bala has published over fifty research papers and articles in several international journals, conference proceedings, and book chapters. As a HRM speaker, Dr Bala is frequently honored as an invited speaker on people management issues at numerous national and international conferences and seminars in several countries within Asia, Australia, Africa and Europe. As a HRM trainer and consultant, Dr Bala has vast experience in conducting training and consultancy programs in HRM and have contributed tremendously towards HRM effectiveness for more than hundred organizations within Malaysia and in Asia.

Ståle Navrud is a professor of environmental and natural resource economics at School of Economics and Business at the Norwegian University of Life Sciences. He was a visiting researcher and a Fulbright Scholar at the Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, University of California (UC) – Berkeley in 1986 and in 1993-94; and visiting professor at UC – San Diego (1997, 2000, 2009, 2012 and 2014), and, University of New Mexico - Albuquerque (2010). He was Review Editor for “Economics of Adaptation” (WG II) of the 5th Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC 2014); and is a member of the United Nations “Pool of experts” for the “World Ocean Assessment” and the expert panel for IPBES - Intergovernmental Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services (IPBES). Ståle Navrud has more than 25 years of experience in applied environmental and resource economics, with special emphasis on economic valuation of health and environmental impacts from air, water and soil pollution; ecosystem services and biodiversity; transfer/generalization and aggregation of these non-market economic values in time and space (i.e. benefit transfer / value transfer), and cost-benefit analysis. He has published about 100 journal articles and book chapters, and 40 are published in peer-reviewed journals. He has also edited 3 books: Pricing the European Environment (Scandinavian University Press / Oxford University Press 1992); Valuing Cultural Heritage. Applying environmental valuation techniques to historical buildings and monuments. (Edward Elgar Publishing 2002); and Environmental Value Transfer: Issues and Methods (Springer 2000).

Artie Ng is currently Principal Lecturer with School of Professional Education and Executive Development at The Hong Kong Polytechnic University. With an interdisciplinary research interest in performance management and measurement of knowledge-intensive organizations, he has published with refereed international journals, such as International Journal of Learning and Intellectual Capital, International Entrepreneurship and Management Journal and Journal of Intellectual Capital, etc. He received his PhD from the University of Glasgow, Scotland.
About the Contributors

Hang Nguyen is the Researcher and Lecturer in Management at the Faculty of Management and Tourism, Hanoi University, Vietnam. Her research focuses mainly on knowledge management, innovation and entrepreneurship.

Nabila Nisha is currently teaching as a Senior Lecturer at the Department of Accounting & Finance under School of Business and Economics of North South University. She completed her Bachelor’s degree with dual concentration in Accounting & Finance and Marketing from North South University, Bangladesh. She received her Master’s degree in Banking & Finance from University of Essex, UK. Besides teaching, she has been part of a research project on Green Banking financed by World Bank and Ministry of Education of Bangladesh. Her research interests include technology acceptance models, banking sector, accounting disclosures, empirical research methods in finance and business case studies. She has a number of international journal publications in USA, UK and India, along with local and international book chapters as part of her research work. She has authored two books as well, which has been published by Lambert Academic Publishing and is available in the international market.

Chandra Sekhar Patro is currently pursuing his Ph.D in Commerce and Management Studies from Andhra University. He has post-graduate degree in Master of Commerce (M.Com.) from Andhra University, Master in Financial Management (MFM) from Pondicherry University, and also MBA (HR & Finance) from JNT University. Mr. Patro has over 9 years of teaching experience in higher education. Mr. Patro has gained very good knowledge in Human Resource Management and Accountancy/Finance subjects. He has published number of research papers in reputed National and International Journals and also presented papers in National and International Conferences.

Haseeb Ur Rahman is currently pursuing his Ph.D. in corporate governance at the Department of Management and Humanities, Universiti Teknologi PETRONAS, Malaysia. Before this, he did his Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com – Hons.), Master of Business Administration (MBA-Finance) and Master of Sciences (MS-Finance) in Pakistan. Also, he worked as a lecturer at Institute of Management Sciences (IMS), University of Science and Technology (UST), Bannu, Khyber-Pakhtunkhwa, Pakistan. He has published numerous papers in the area of corporate governance, corporate sustainability, firms’ accounting and market measures of performance and shareholders’ confidence.

Mohammad Mizenur Rahaman received his Bachelor in Management and MBA in Management Information Systems (MIS) under the department of Management studies from Dhaka University, Bangladesh. He is currently pursuing his Ph.D in MIS under the department of MIS from Dhaka University, Bangladesh. Mr. Rahaman is an Assistant Professor of the Department of Business Administration, Shahjalal University of Science & Technology (SUST), Sylhet, Bangladesh. He has over 13 years of teaching experience in higher education. Mr. Rahaman has gained very good knowledge in Management, MIS and quantitative analysis. He has published more than 30 (thirty) research papers in reputed National and International Journals and also presented papers in National and International Conferences. His main research interests are in the area of information systems application in business, management issues of commercial organization, technology and innovation management, sustainable development, technology acceptance models, and banking strategies.

Afrin Rifat is a Lecturer of Accounting and Finance department at the School of Business & Economics of North South University (NSU). Since Fall 2012, Ms. Rifat has been teaching courses of Accounting at NSU. Currently she is teaching major courses of Intermediate Accounting and Managerial Accounting at the undergraduate level. Ms. Rifat earned her Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree with major in Finance & Accounting and minor in Economics from North South University, Bangladesh and Masters Degree in Banking and Finance from University of Essex, UK in 2010 and 2011 respectively. Her current research interests include technology acceptance models, financial statement analysis and decision-making, banking strategies, capital market, and empirical research methods in finance and country specific studies.

Sudipta Kiran Sarkar is a Senior Lecturer with Berjaya University College of Hospitality, Malaysia. He completed his PhD in Hotel and Tourism Technology at the School of Hotel and Tourism Management, Hong Kong Polytechnic University. His area of research is social media and ecotourists, ICT and sustainable tourism.

Shiran Shen is a PhD candidate in the Department of Political Science at Stanford University. Her general research interest is in environmental politics and policy.

Valerie Tang is currently a research student at the Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. She received her Bachelor’s degree from the Hong Kong Polytechnic University in 2014. Her current research areas cover healthcare services knowledge management, cloud computing and artificial intelligence applications.

Ramayah Thurasamy is currently he is a Professor at the School of Management in USM. He teaches mainly courses in Research Methodology and Business Statistics. Apart from teaching, he is an avid researcher, especially in the areas of technology management and adoption in business and education. His publications have appeared in Computers in Human Behavior, Resources Conservation and Recycling, Journal of Educational Technology & Society, Direct Marketing: An International Journal, Information Development, Journal of Project Management (JoPT). Ramayah, is currently a Professor of Technology Management at the School of Management, Universiti Sains Malaysia, Visiting Professor King Saud University, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and Adjunct Professor at Multimedia University and Universiti Tenaga Nasional, Malaysia. He has taught courses in Statistics, Operations Management, Research Methods and at undergraduate level. He has supervised numerous PhD/MA/MBA students in the fields of Information Systems, Operations Management, Marketing Management and Organizational Behavior. He has conducted Structural Equation Modeling (SEM) workshops in Malaysia, Australia, Indonesia, Thailand.
About the Contributors

Y. P. Tsang is currently a research student at the Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. He received his Bachelor’s degree from the Hong Kong Polytechnic University in 2015. His current research areas cover IoI-based application, cold chain management and e-Commerce systems.

Adam K. L. Wong is a Lecturer at the School of Professional Education and Executive Development (SPEED), Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU). Adam has over 20 years of experience in the Information Technology industry. Before joining PolyU SPEED in 2002, he had worked for international companies such as Acer, Philips, Hewlett-Packard, and PCCW. His professional experiences include system development, database support, and electronic-commerce and project management. He obtained his Doctor in Business Administration and MSc in Strategic Planning from Heriot Watt University, MSc in Information Engineering from the Chinese University of Hong Kong, and BSc from the University of Hong Kong. He has over 10 years of teaching in various areas covering strategy, human resources management, research workshops, computer programming, computer security and e-commerce; from undergraduate to master programmes; from local universities to overseas universities. He is a full member with the HK Computer Society, a Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer, a Certified Java Programmer. His research interests are the use of information technology in training and education, and digital marketing.

David W. C. Wong got his Engineering Doctorate degree at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University in 2013. His current research areas cover sustainable transportation system, green logistics, and vehicle engine formulation.

Yen-Chun Jim Wu (Ph.D, University of Michigan) is Professor of Business Management Department at National Sun Yat-Sen University, Taiwan. His papers have appeared in Academy of Management Learning and Education, Sloan Management Review, IEEE Transactions on Engineering Management,

Chi-Hung Yuan is a PhD candidate of National Sun Yat-Sen University, Taiwan.

Muhammad Zahid is currently pursuing his Ph.D in Management at the Department of Management and Humanities, Universiti Teknologi PETRONAS Malaysia. Earlier he got his M.Com and MS in Management Sciences degrees from Pakistan. Besides a vast experience in industry, he has also published numerous papers in banking, finance, corporate social responsibility, sustainability, and strategic management.

Haixia Zheng is a professor of environmental and natural resource economics at Agricultural Information Institute, Chinese Academy of Agricultural Sciences. She worked at College of Management at the Beijing Union University and as head of Institute of Capital Economy and Enterprises Development (ICEED), Beijing Union University from September 2006 to October 2016. She was a visiting researcher at School of Economics and Business at the Norwegian University of Life Sciences (2011-2012). She got her Ph.D from Institute of Geographic Sciences and Natural Resources Research, Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS) in 2004. Her research specialty is on applied environmental and resource economics, with special emphasis on economic valuation of environmental impacts from air and water, ecosystem services and ecological compensation; transfer non-market economic values in time and space (i.e. benefit transfer / value transfer), and cost-benefit analysis. She has published more than 30 journal articles as well as 3 academic books. She also serves as review editor for Resources Sciences and Journal of Management Sciences.