About the Contributors

Ümit Hacıoğlu is an assistant professor of Finance at Beykent University, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Istanbul, Turkey. Dr. Hacıoğlu has BAs in Business Administration and International Relations (2002). He received PhD in Finance and Banking with his thesis entitled “Effects of Conflict on Equity Performance.” Finance and banking, strategic management, and international political economy are the main pillars of his interdisciplinary studies. He is the executive editor of International Journal of Research in Business and Social Science (IJRBS) and a founding member of the Society for the Study of Business and Finance (SSBF).

Hasan Dinçer is an assistant professor of finance at Beykent University, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Istanbul, Turkey. Dr. Dinçer has BAs in Financial Markets and Investment Management at Marmara University. He received PhD in Finance and Banking with his thesis entitled “The Effect of Changes on the Competitive Strategies of New Service Development in the Banking Sector.” He has work experience in the finance sector as portfolio specialist, and his major academic studies focus on financial instruments, performance evaluation, and economics. He is the executive editor of International Journal of Finance and Banking Studies (IJFBS) and a founding member of the Society for the Study of Business and Finance (SSBF).

* * *

Ulas Akkucuk is an Associate Professor of Quantitative Methods at Bogazici University Department of Management, Istanbul-Turkey. Dr. Akkucuk has a BS in Industrial Engineering from Bilkent University (1997), an MBA from Bogazici University (2000), and a PhD in Management Science and Information Systems from Rutgers University (2004). His research interests lie in the methodological development of multivariate techniques such as Clustering and Multidimensional Scaling and novel applications into fields including global competitiveness, CRM, and technology management. He has taught Statistics, CRM & Data Mining, and Global Marketing Research courses, among others, at both graduate and undergraduate levels. He is in the editorial board of International Journal of Research in Business and Social Science (IJRBS) and has been an ad hoc reviewer for journals such as Journal of Multivariate Analysis and Bogazici Journal. He is a member of the Classification Society and Turkish Quality Foundation (KALDER).
Benjamin Chijioke Asogwa is a Lecturer in the Department of Agricultural Economics, College of Agricultural Economics and Extension, University of Agriculture, Makurdi, Nigeria. Dr. Asogwa has B.Agric in Agricultural Economics and Extension (First Class Hons) and M.Sc in Agricultural Economics. He obtained his PhD degree in Agricultural Economics. He is the author of several articles published in reputed international journals and international conference proceedings. His special research interest include: production economics, agricultural marketing, farm management, agribusiness, agricultural policy, and development economics. He is currently the College Examination Officer, College of Agricultural Economics and Extension, University of Agriculture, Makurdi, Nigeria.

Peter Iornum Ater holds a Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D) degree in Agricultural Economics. He is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Agricultural Economics at University of Agriculture, Makurdi, Benue State, Nigeria. Dr. Ater received his B.Sc. and M.Sc. degrees in Agricultural Economics from Ahmadu Bello University, Zaria, Nigeria and Doctoral degree in Agricultural Economics from University of Agriculture, Makurdi, Nigeria. His research interests are in the areas of production economics, project monitoring and evaluation, farm management and agribusiness. Dr. Ater’s primary responsibility is teaching and research. He has therefore taught undergraduate and postgraduate students and carried out several researches, an activity he enjoys very much. Dr. Ater has taught Production Economics and other related subjects in some other disciplines. Dr. Ater has published many research papers and books in both local and international research outlets. He has authored several articles published in reputed local and international journals and conference proceedings. He has also consulted for a number of local and international organizations, UNDP inclusive. Dr Ater was the Director of Project Monitoring and Evaluation Unit of the Benue State Agricultural and Rural Development Authority (BNARDA) for several years. Currently, he is the Head of Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Agriculture, Makurdi, Benue State, Nigeria. He loves listening to Christian music, reading current affairs, watching football, etc. He is happily married with children.

Aysha Karamat Baig is an independent researcher. She has earned her Ms (Marketing) from Riphah International University, and prior to that, she did BBA from GC University Faisalabad, Pakistan. She has been involved in teaching at Riphah International University – Faisalabad for some time. Currently, she is a PhD candidate at Swinburne University of Technology, Sarawak Campus.

Uzma Karamat Baig is a researcher. She is recently doing her MBA from GC University Faisalabad, and prior to that, she completed her BSc from Punjab University Lahore, Pakistan.

Nursel Bolat graduated from Radio-Television and Cinema Department of Koçaeli University. She completed her MA at Koçaeli University Social Sciences Institute. She worked as an assistant director at STV channel and worked as a lecturer at Koçaeli University. She has been working as a lecturer at Istanbul Areli University since 2010. She published her book Medyada Milliyetçilik ve Şiddet “Medyada Milliyetçilik ve Ötekinin Yaratılması: Mc Carthy Döneminde Amerikan Milliyetçiliğinin Hollywood’a Yansması ve Türkiye’yı Etkileme Süreci.” Her article, “Visual Discourse of the Clove: An Analysis on the Ottoman Tile Decoration Art,” appeared in International Journal of Research in Business and Social Science, and she has presented her works of “Gelişim Süreci İçinde: Televizyonun Çocuklar Üzerindeki Etkileri,” “Mitoloji ve Sinema: Türk Sinemasında Kadın Oyuncu Rol Maskeleri,” “Mizah ve İkna: Televizyondan Reklamlarda İkna Aracı Olanak Mızah” both in national and international workshops.
About the Contributors

Nevin Ozgur Cambaz is currently an instructor of English at the School of Foreign Languages, Celal Bayar University, Manisa, Turkey. She studied Foreign Language Education at METU, Ankara, and has a degree of MA in Translation Studies at Dokuz Eylül University. The main focus of her thesis was a pragmatic analysis on certain translated works. She previously taught English to young learners at a private school in İzmir. Her main interests are language teaching, literature, and translation studies.

Hilal Çelik is an assistant professor of Business Administration at Beykent University, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Istanbul, Turkey. Dr. Hilal Çelik graduated from university with a first graduate degree of Bachelor’s in 2004. She received PhD in Department of Business Management and Organization at Faculty of Business Administration in Istanbul University (2011). Her thesis was entitled “Information Technologies’ Effects on Organizational Performance at Higher Education Institutions.” The main pillars of her interdisciplinary studies are strategic management, information technologies, organizational performance, competitiveness, and service quality.

İsmail Erkan Çelik is an assistant professor of Finance at Beykent University. He received PhD in Finance and Banking with his thesis entitled “The Role of Investment Banks in Development.” He is the editor of International Journal of Finance and Banking Studies (IJFBS) and International Journal of Research in Business and Social Science.

Solaiman Chowdhury is involved in teaching and research at the Department of Management Studies, University of Rajshahi, Bangladesh. He received MBA (Management) in 2005. Mr. Chowdhury is the author of one book and has published research papers in international journals. His research interest lies in the area of CSR, entrepreneurship development, and innovation management.

Dilaysu Çınar is lecturer at Beykent University, teaching international marketing, total quality management, and introduction to business at Vocational Studies. She has an MBA degree and completed her thesis entitled “Technical Analysis Methods for Stock Market: An Application on ISE.”

Ramesh Chandra Das has done Masters degree in Economics at Calcutta University. He has obtained the M. Phil degree from the same university. He has also obtained Ph.D award from the University of Calcutta on the aspects of allocation of commercial bank credit in Indian states. He is presently teaching economics at Katwa College, West Bengal, India, for about fourteen years and designated Associate Professor in the department. He has carried out several research projects in the field of banking. He has made several publications in different areas of environmental economics and the economics of banking and finance, governance, etc., including a book on Microeconomics. He has been one of the honorable members in the international editorial board of the Society for the Study in Banking and Finance (SSB-FNET) and acting as editor-in-chief of Asian Journal of Research in Business Economics and Management published by Asian Research consortium, India.

William R. DiPietro is professor of economics in the Business Administration Department at Daemen College and holds a Ph.D. in economics from the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. DiPietro has written extensively on a variety of topics in economics, business, and the social sciences, and has over 80 professional journal publications to his credit. His articles appear in journals housed in countries

E. M. Ekanayake earned his Ph.D. in Economics at Florida International University, Miami, Florida, USA, in 1996. He is an Associate Professor of Economics at the School of Business, Bethune-Cookman University, Daytona Beach, FL, USA. He taught both graduate and undergraduate level courses in Statistics, Quantitative Methods, Business Calculus, Mathematics, Econometrics, Mathematical Economics, Engineering Economics, and International Economics. Dr. Ekanayake has numerous publications in the areas of international trade and finance, foreign direct investment, and economic growth. He has published nearly 50 journal articles in peer-reviewed academic journals, few book chapters, and more than 30 conference proceedings. He is on the editorial board of The International Journal of Business and Finance Research and serves as a reviewer for several academic journals.

Jacqueline Adaku Ezihe holds a Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D) degree in Agricultural Economics. She is a Lecturer in the Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Agriculture, Makurdi, Benue State, Nigeria. Ezihe received her B.Sc., M.Sc., and Doctoral degrees in Agricultural Economics from University of Nigeria, Nsukka, Enugu State, Nigeria. Her research interests are in the areas of Resource and Environmental Economics, Project Analysis and Agrimarketing. Ezihe’s primary responsibility is teaching and research. She has taught undergraduate and postgraduate students and carried out several researches. Ezihe has published many research papers in both local and international research outlets. She has authored several articles published in reputed local and international journals and conference proceedings. She loves listening to Christian music, reading current affairs, watching football, etc. She is happily married with children.

Pinar Altiok Gurel is an assistant professor at Beykent University, Istanbul, Turkey. Her undergraduate degree is in finance from Istanbul University, the School of Economics, 1989. Her post-graduate degree is in finance from Istanbul University, The School of Economics, 1991. In addition, her Doctorate degree is in finance from Istanbul University, The School of Economics, 2003. Post Graduate Thesis is “Outward-Oriented Growth and Revenue and Budget Policies Applied in Turkey,” Istanbul University, Istanbul, 1991. Doctorate Thesis is “State Economic Enterprises and Privatization.” Istanbul University, Istanbul, 2003. She has given undergraduate and post graduate lectures of Customer Relations Management, General Business Administration, Marketing Principles, Integrated Marketing, Management and Organisation, Human Resources Management, Public Sector – Private Sector Structure and Relationship and Professional Ethics in departments of Business Administration, Public Relations and Advertising, Office Management, Banking and Insurance, Marketing, Accounting and Tax Applications, Computer Programming, Property and Property Management, and in Securities and Capital Markets. Her administrative duties has been continued in Beykent University, Chief (Responsible Head) of the Business Administration Programme.

Munir Hassan received his M.B.A. in Finance with distinction and Ph.D. from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in the United States of America (USA). His area of specialty is Corporate Finance, International Finance, and Banking. For the past two decades, he has taught a wide range of courses in
About the Contributors

Finance and Economics at several American Universities. Dr. Hassan also taught as a visiting International faculty at North South University, Daffodil International University, Bangladesh, Gulf University of Science and Technology (GUST), and Kuwait University, Kuwait, as well as South Dakota State University, University of South Dakota, Gustavus Adolphus College, Truman State University, Fort Hays State University, Southwestern College, Claflin University, Park University in USA. His teaching philosophy and pedagogical skills have earned him several awards as an “Outstanding and Best” Professor of the year in 2006. He has been working as an MBA Director, Finance Program Coordinator, Chairman of the Department of Economics, Finance and Accounting in different academic institutions in USA. His last appointment was Chairman of the Division of Business Administration and Professor of Finance at Allen University in Columbia, South Carolina, USA. At present time he has been appointed as a full professor of Finance at Kuwait-Maastricht Business School (affiliated with Maastricht School of Management, The Netherlands). His active involvement at professional meetings resulted in numerous presentations, publication of a book, and several paper publications in reputable journals in USA and abroad. His ongoing research continues in the field of International Finance and his productive scholarship is further integrated into his coursework. He has been appointed as a consultant by the College Board and ETS (Education Testing Services, Princeton, New Jersey, USA). He has served both as a teaching faculty member and as an administrator in different educational institutions. As an administrator, he has played a major role in developing academic curriculum for finance majors and developing a full-fledged Master in Business Education Program. Dr. Hassan’s service to his profession, department, institution, and community continues to be extensive. He is an active member of a number of professional organizations and since 2006 has been serving as a board member for National Social Science Organization (www.nssa.us).

Marwa Hassaan is currently a lecturer in the Accounting Department at Mansoura Business School. She holds a PhD in accounting from Aston University, and MSc in Financial Accounting and BSc in Accounting from Mansoura University. Dr. Hassaan is a fellow of the UK Higher Education Academy, an editorial board member and a reviewer in the International Journal for Research in Business and Social Science (IJRBS) and has 12 years of teaching experience in higher education in the UK and in the Middle East. Marwa participated as an editor or author in a number of international publications. She has been awarded the ARE Prime Minister’s excellence award in 1999, Mansoura University’s excellence award in 1999, and Mansoura Governorate award for distinction in 2000. She is a member of the British Accounting and Finance Association (BAFA) and of Beta Gamma Sigma Honour Society. Marwa successfully completed many training courses at Nottingham University, Birmingham University and Aston University, which include Experimental Design, Structural Equation Modeling, IFRSs Updates, Consultancy, and Aston Certificate for Teaching in Higher Education. Marwa teaches various courses in Financial Accounting, International Accounting, Management Accounting, and Auditing. Her research covers the governance and financial reporting practices. Other interests include compliance with IFRSs and other international best practices in emerging stock exchanges particularly in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA).

Osarumwense Iguisi is a professor of Cross-Culture Management and the Executive Director of Euro-African Capacity Development Centre, Essex, UK. Osarumwense Iguisi holds a Higher Diploma in Construction Technology, Master’s degree in General Management with emphasis on Cross-Cultural Management and a Doctorate degree in Management with research focused on Cultural Dynamics in
About the Contributors

Osarumwense Iguisi combined his engineering and management training and experience with his academic interests in cross-cultural management with the aim of providing an insightful cultural awareness and knowledge both to the academic, mainstream, corporate, and voluntary organisations across cultures.

Badir Iqbal holding Ph.D the DAAD, Fellow at German Institute of Economic Research; Berlin, Kiel Institute of World Economics; Kiel, South Asia Institute, University of Heidelberg; Germany; Ford Foundation, USA; Fulbright Visiting Professor; US; Institute of Developing Economies; Tokyo; Fulbright Visiting Professor; USA. Adjunct Professor; Monarch Business School; Monarch University; Switzerland; Visiting Professor at University of Rennes1; France; University of South Africa; Johannesburg; International Islamic University; Malaysia AIMA Accredited Management Professor; New Delhi; International Accredited Organization's Professor; USA; Chief Associate Editor-in-Chief; International Journal of Management and Innovation; Taiwan; Member Advisory Board, Africa and Brazilian Studies; Editor-in-Chief, Advances in Arts and Social Sciences; Nigeria; Member, Global Council of Peer Reviewers; USA; Chief Reviewer, Global Journal of Strategy and Governance; Canada; Reviewer of World Finance Congress; Brazil. Special Advisor and Guest Editor; Transnational Corporations Review; Ottawa; Canada. Member, International Advisory Board; Ellta; Malaysia; Editor; Global Review of Economics; USA; Member Editorial Board; European Scientific Journal; European Scientific Institute; UK.

Elżbieta Janczyk-Strzała is an assistant professor of finance at Wroclaw School of Banking in Wroclaw, Faculty Finance and Management, Wroclaw, Poland. She received PhD in Finance with her thesis entitled “State and Growing Trends of Controlling in Production Companies in Poland.” She is the author of numerous publications in the field of finance, controlling, strategic management, and ERP systems. Dr. Janczyk-Strzała also has many years of experience in the field of finance. Currently she holds the position of CFO in Wroclaw School of Banking in Wroclaw.

İzzet Kılınç is an associate professor of management at Düzce University, Faculty of Business, Düzce, Turkey. Dr. Kılınç has BAs in Tourism Management at Sheffield Hallam Universities (England, 1997). He received PhD in Tourism Management with his thesis entitled “Strategic Planning and Financial Performance Relationship” (2003). Tourism and Strategic Management are the main pillars of his interdisciplinary studies. He is the co-editor of Journal of Research in Travel and Hospitality Management (JTHM).

Fulya Kıvılcım is a research assistant at Istanbul Kultur University, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Istanbul, Turkey. Dr. Kıvılcım graduated from Department of International Relations in 2004. She received PhD in International Economics with her thesis entitled as International Political Economy, Globalization, Nation State are the main pillars of her interdisciplinary studies.

Isaac Koomson is an Mphil. Economics student at the Department of Economics, University of Cape Coast, Ghana. Mr. Koomson has a BA in Economics (Social Sciences) degree which he obtained in 2011. He was a Teaching Assistant in the University of Cape Coast in the 2011/2012 academic year. His areas of interest are microfinance, international finance, and development economics.
Lucyna Kornecki is an associate professor at the Department of Economics, Finance and Information Systems, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, Daytona Beach, Florida, USA. She is an accomplished scholar in the field of economics and Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in the United States. She is the lead author of a book, 5 book chapters, and lead author and a co-author of 35 journal publications, and 29 conference proceeding publications. Dr. Lucyna Kornecki has been cooperating with the Vale Columbia Center on Sustainable International Investment, Columbia University in the City of New York on the U.S. inward foreign direct investment profile.

Ebru Nergiz is an assistant professor of foreign trade at Beykent University, Vocational School of Higher Education, Istanbul, Turkey. Dr. Nergiz has a Bachelors degree from Istanbul University in International Relations (1999). She has a Masters degree from Bournemouth University, UK, in International Business Administration (2002). She received PhD in European Union from Istanbul University (2011) with her thesis entitled “Foreign Direct Investment in the European Union and Turkey.” Her main pillars of her interdisciplinary studies are European Union, foreign trade, international business, and international marketing. She is head of Foreign Trade Programme and member of Board of Directors at Beykent University, Vocational School of Higher Education.

Mehmet Akif Öncü is an assistant professor of finance at Düzce University, Faculty of Business, Düzce, Turkey. Dr. Öncü has BAs in Business Administration (1993). He received PhD in Finance and Banking with his thesis entitled “Effects of Conflict on Equity Performance.” Tourism finance, tourism accounting, and business finance are the main interest areas of his interdisciplinary studies.

Burcu Pekduyurucu is the lecturer at Istanbul Aydin University and graduated from Gaiz University in 2008 from Office Management Training Department. She has Masters degree and thesis entitled “The Role of The Front Office Persons: At the Customer Relationship Management in Hotels.”

Simon T. Penda is a lecturer in the Department of Agricultural Economics and is former Head, Department of Agribusiness, University of Agriculture, Makurdi, Nigeria. He obtained his PhD degree in Agricultural Economics. He is the author of several articles published in reputed international journals.

James Atta Peprah is a Senior Lecturer in Economics at the Department of Economics, University of Cape Coast, Ghana. He holds MPhil in Economics and Bilingual MBA (Banking and Finance). His areas of research include development economics, financial market and institution in developing countries, microfinance, growth and development as well as small scale enterprise studies. James has a number of publications that focus on SMEs, microfinance, and poverty in Ghana. He is currently writing his PhD thesis on the topic, “Income and Non-Income Outcomes of Microfinance in Ghana.” He is also a member of the Ghana National Microfinance Forum. Professionally, James is a partly qualified accountant.

Golam Rabbani (MSS, MPPG) is currently teaching at the Department of Public Administration, University of Rajshahi, Bangladesh. His main research interests include social policy (health, education and social protection), governance (central and local governance, and governance issues of NGOs), social and policy issues of environment and climate change, seasonal poverty, monitoring and evaluation, and early childhood development. He is the author of two books, and a number of research articles and book chapters that have come out in different international journals and edited books having international reputation.
Munazza Saeed is a PhD scholar at University of Malaya, Academy of Islamic studies, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. Prior to she was a lecturer in marketing at Riphah international university Islamabad Pakistan. She received Master degree in Business Administration with her thesis entitled “Effects of Fashion on Customer Satisfaction: An Exploratory Analysis of Pakistani Consumer.”

Upinder Sawhney is the senior most professor in the Dept. of Economics at Panjab University, Chandigarh. She has a teaching and research experience of nearly 30 years. Her areas of research include public policy issues of the Indian economy including service sector development, urban issues, fiscal issues, etc. She has done considerable work on the economy of Indian Punjab. She has been on the advisory and consultancy bodies of various government departments as well as industry associations. She writes regularly for professional journals as well as popular press.

Engin Sorhun is an assistant professor of international economics at Dogus University, Istanbul, Turkey, and at University of Strasbourg, Bureau of Theoretical and Applied Economics, Strasbourg, France. Mr. Sorhun has BAs in Transition Economics from Sorbonne University Paris I (2003). He received PhD in International Economic with his thesis entitled “Integration of Turkey to the EU in the Light of Three-Regularity of Geographical Economics.” Dr. Sorhun is preparing a postdoctoral thesis entitled “Turkey between Potential and Reality: Are the Arab World and the Shanghai Fives Alternative to the Integration with the EU?” Economic integration, geographical economics, international political economy are the main pillars of his interdisciplinary studies. He is a member of European Economics and Finance Society (EEFS).

Nasim Sydee is an Economist currently working at the Labour Program of the Federal Government of Canada. Dr. Sydee taught Economics at Carleton University in Ottawa for almost 7 years until he joined the Government in 2010. He received his MA and PhD in Economics from Carleton University. His research interests include access pricing, applied micro, monetary economics, and time series analysis.

Yunus Emre Taşgit is a lecturer of Tourism and Hotel Management at Düzce University, Akçakoca Vocational School, Düzce, Turkey. Taşgit has BAs in Tourism and Hotel Management with his thesis entitled “Competitive Strategies applied in the Airline Travel Companies: A Qualitative Research towards Turkish Companies.” Taşgit is currently a PhD student at Gebze High Technology Institute, Department of Management and Organization. Strategic management, competition, business environment, organizational strategies in hospitality industry are the main interest areas his interdisciplinary studies.

Nurdan Oncel Taskiran has been working for Kocaeli University, Kocaeli, Faculty of Communication, Radio Cinema and Television Department since 2001. She has been an Associate Professor in Applied Communication Sciences since 2007 December. She has written two books, one of which is on media literacy researches in Turkey, and the other, which proposes some scriptwriting methodologies for television serials, is titled “Aliye: The New Image of Contemporary Female Minds.” Her researches are primarily on popular culture products and media literacy. She also has researches on Semiology as a means of communication and advertising communication and decoding visual arts via Iconography. She is interested in distance learning as well, as a way of communication related with semiotics, as a part of human perception and signification. She has a keen interest on animal communication. She has papers, articles, and translations published in national and international journals. She has been giving courses on graduate and post graduate levels at Kocaeli University.
About the Contributors

Kerem Toker is a lecturer of logistics at Beykent University, School of Vocational Studies Istanbul, Turkey. Toker received a BSc degree in Business Management from Trakya University, Turkey (2005). He received MSc degree in Business Management and Organization from Trakya University in 2007. He studies on his PhD thesis about Supply Chain Integration at Istanbul University since 2010. His research interests include organization management, networks, supply chain management and logistics.

Gazi Salah Uddin is a PhD Candidate in Applied Financial Economics, Department of Management and Engineering, Linköping University, Sweden. He has received a post-graduate (Master’s) degree in Finance from the University of Skövde, Sweden. He has received his MSS and BSS (Hons.) degrees in Economics from the Shahjalal University of Science and Technology, Bangladesh. Before joining the Linköping University, he worked with Financial Consumer Agency, Government of Canada, Carleton University, IFC (World Bank), UNESCAP East West University (Bangladesh), Dhaka, Bangladesh. Mr. Uddin has attended various international seminar and conferences and has publications in international refereed journals. He has presented papers at the Harvard University, UNESCAP, University of California, Berkeley, etc. His research area is concentrated on applied macroeconomics and times series analysis and financial market development, etc.

Joseph C. Umeh is a Professor of Agricultural Economics and Dean, College of Agricultural Economics and Extension, University of Agriculture, Makurdi, Nigeria. He obtained his PhD degree in Agricultural Economics. He is the author of several articles published in reputed international journals and conference proceedings. He is a member of different international working groups.

Sani Madi Yakubu is a postgraduate student in the Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Agriculture, Makurdi, Nigeria.

Nurten Yılmaz is currently a teacher at Ministry of Education, Istanbul, Turkey. She studied Guidance and Psychological Counseling at Dokuz Eylül University, Izmir, and has a degree of MA in Education Management at Hasan Kalyoncu University. The main focus of her thesis was the perception of female managers as leaders. She is currently working in Haci Ilbey Primary Schools. Her main interests are leadership, business administration and analytical psychology.

Recep Yılmaz is a lecturer in Vocational High School of Beykent University, Istanbul, Turkey. He is a graduate of PR and Publicity Department of Konya Selcuk University and got his MA degree from Journalism in Kocaeli University with his thesis titled “Illocutionary Impacts of the Newspapers in Construction of Social Reality” in 2008 and now has been studying for his doctoral thesis in Communication Sciences at Kocaeli University. His studies are primarily on communication philosophy, advertising communication, public journalism, visual culture, and discourse analysis methodologies. He has given courses on Decoding Advertisements, Advertising Language, Discourse Analysis, Media and Media Strategies, Scriptwriting for Advertising and Film Production, Public Relations, Scriptwriting for Public Relations, Photography and Basic Optics, Visual Graphic Design, and Visual Communication Applications. He aims to bring up fellows to be employed in communication related fields.