Index

A
anaclitic depression 107, 108

B
buy-in 58

C
call centers 53–60
CAPITA framework 130, 133
ClientLogic 57, 58
commitment-based value networking 29 cultural differences 44
values 41, 44
culture 41–51, 325
customer relationship management (CRM) 227–252 definition 343–345
global strategy 342–355, 344–346
agency theory 345–346
findings 348–351
implementation 240–242
and cultural considerations 241–244
measurement 242–243
origins 229–231
strategies 231–234, 343–350
technologies 234–240

D
data analysis 88–89
collection 88
diffusion 29

E
electronic customer relationship management (e-CRM) 239
employee behavior 108–112
enterprise systems (ES) 256–270 administrative structure 261–262, 264–265 control scheme 262, 265
implementation 258
outcomes 267–270
management involvement 262, 265 organizational structure and culture 262–263, 265–267 vision 259–261, 263–264 explicit dimension 277

G
global diversity 64–65
knowledge
integration 129
Index

management 168–177
technologies (GKMTs) 131
globalization 168

H
host country workforce (HCW) 172–177
human resources 3
management (HRM) 1–27

I
in-group/out-group relationships 41–51
innovation 29–37
intellectual capital 196–198 accounting policies 201–206 measuring tools 197–198 balanced scorecard 197–198 intangible assets monitor 197
Skandia navigator 197
statement 200–201
international engineering, procurement, and construction (IEPC) industry 127–128

K
knowledge
content 325
culture 325
disclosure 29
dispersion 280–281
diversity analysis 277–278 diversity management 276–293 diversity management tools 278–280 exchange (KX) 173–177
infrastructure 325
management (KM) 63–78, 84–103, 105–116, 138–151, 276–277, 300–301 and competitive advantage 128–129 approaches 84–85
aspects 123–124
communities 93–94
cultural impact 91–92
global strategies 126–135
intranet projects 89–90 knowledge creation 302–303 knowledge transfer 303–305 leadership roles 306–309 Lotus Notes 90–91
organizational devices 284–288
performance 301–302
perspectives 213–216
practices 324–338
finding analysis 334–336
in Israel 328–329
in Silicon Valley 327–328
in Singapore 329–330
in The Netherlands 330–331
processes 76
projects 114–116
solutions 120
evolutionary approach 120
hybrid approach 120
product-based approach 120 success 299–309
factors 304–306
systems
architecture 119–125
components 120–121
maturity 124–125
technologies 106–107
tools 56–59, 152–166
characteristics 154–156 decision tree 57–58
key trends 159–162
online help tool 57
overview 156–159
networks 283–284
success factors 291
process 325
resources 76
sharing 40–51
project 183–185
approach 185–191
results 185–191
transfer process 210–211
worker 55, 60
management 314–317, 317–318
retirement problem 318
Kontext Aware FRAmework (KAFRA) 65–78
framework 69–76

L
Leavitt's diamond organization model 66 local responsiveness framework 129

M
matrix multinational organizations 311–322 background 312–313
Index

multinational corporations (MNCs) 1–5, 9–17, 21–22, 170–177, 183–192 and academic involvement 192 and customer relationship management (CRM) 245–249 and knowledge management (KM) 245–249 culture of cooperation 191 intellectual capital statements 195–206
knowledge
flow 198–199
resource measurement 199–203 resource reporting 203–204 openness 191
multinational enterprises (MNEs) 208

N
nearsourcing 55–56

O
organizational change (OC) group 93, 95
management 107–108
culture 85–87, 97–100
perspective 138, 140–143, 147–148
innovation 3–5, 23
knowledge 106
learning 3–5, 257–258
loss of effectiveness (LOE) 107–113
politics
perspective 143–146, 147–148

P personnel 3–5

R
research
joint venture (RJV) 207–223
taxonomic foundations 211–215 taxonomy 215–221
research and development (R&D)
projects 282–284
resource-based view 168

S
service-oriented architecture (SOA) 121–123 Singapore 329

socio-technical systems 65–66
successful diversified knowledge management 289–291

T
tacit dimension 277
team rooms 93
technological alliances 282

U
utilization 29

V
value
networking
model 32–35
strategy 30–32
closed source adaption 31 open source innovation 31–32 vital teams 299–300

W
wireless access protocol (WAP) 239
customer relationship management 239–240