

Acknowledgment

The editors would like to acknowledge the help of all persons involved in the collaboration and review of this book. The authors did a remarkable job of ensuring high quality chapters were created. Many served as reviewers for chapters written by other authors. Thanks to all of you who provided constructive and comprehensive reviews. The editors extend a note of thanks to the IGI Global staff for guidance and professional support throughout the process. A special thanks to family and friends for their unfailing encouragement and patience.
