

Acknowledgment

I am highly indebted to Honorable Justice R. Basanth, former judge, Kerala High Court, India, Mr. George C., former Country Desk Officer-Intelligence, USA, Mr. D. K. M. Kartha, USA, Mr. M. K. B. Nambudiripad, Former District Judge, Kerala, India, Mr. P. V. S. Giridhar, Intellectual Property Lawyer, Chennai, India, Lt. Dr. S. Santhosh Baboo, Associate Professor, Post Graduate and Research Department of Computer Science, D. G. Vaishnav College, Chennai, India, and Dr. T. P. Sasikumar, Former Deputy Director, Directorate General of Security, Cabinet Secretariat, Government of India, for all their encouragement, assistance, and guidance, particularly in connection with my data collection as part of this work.

My special thanks are extended to Prof. Marcus Rogers, Department of Computer and Information technology, Purdue University, USA, Dr. Glenn S. Dardick, Associate Professor, Information Technology, Longwood University, USA, and the Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Digital Forensics, Security, and Law, Dr. Ibrahim Baggili, Assistant Professor of Computer Science (Cyber Forensics), University of New Haven, USA, Prof. Aimeur Esma, Directrice de l'axe informatique de la Maîtrise en commerce électronique, Université de Montréal, Canada, and Dr. Manar Abu Talib, Assistant Professor, College of Information Technology, Zayed University, Abu Dhabi, UAE. Although they have not directly contributed to this book, they have been helpful to me at different stages of the publication of my research included in this book.

The contributions of Honorable Judge John Mercer Walker, Jr., United States Court of Appeals for the second circuit, Prof. Randall Davis, Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA, and Prof. Lee A. Hollaar, School of Computing, University of Utah, USA, to the forensic research and practice of software copyright infringement have always been great sources of inspiration to me to contribute more to this field and have also been key motivations for writing this book. Although I have never communicated with any of these three doyens in this field, I owe a debt of thanks to all of them.

I have absolutely no words to express my gratitude to my wife, Sudha, and daughter, Indu Chanchal Polpaya, for being accommodating, obliging, supportive, caring, and patient, and thus helping me to successfully complete this work.

Vinod Polpaya Bhattathiripad
G J Software Forensics, India