

Acknowledgment

We would like to express our gratitude to CNPq (part of the Brazilian Ministry of Science and Technology) and Fundação Araucária (State of Paraná research funding agency) for sponsoring the studies coordinated by us, which indirectly contributed to form the ideas and stimulate the efforts that help us put this book together. We are grateful to the members of the editorial board and all contributing authors, but especially to Professors David Lyon, Peter Taylor and André Lemos, for kindly agreeing to write the papers that became the three thematic reference-chapters. Professor Rob Shields gave us the pleasure and the honour of having his words narrating the presentation of this book. And finally, our task would have been much more arduous if it was not the constant and competent help of Mr. Joel Gamon, Development Editor at IGI Global.
