

Acknowledgment

As Editor, I would like to acknowledge the help of those involved in the collation and review of this book, without whose unstinting support the project could have not been completed. A further special note goes to all the staff of IGI Global whose contribution throughout the whole process has been invaluable. Thanks to all those who provided constructive and comprehensive reviews.

Special thanks go to Mario Spiler for having accepted the invitation to write the foreword of this book and to Alexandra Albuquerque for her valuable comments and for editing the editor's contribution.

Thank you all.
