

Acknowledgments

The editors wish to acknowledge the many people who have contributed to this encyclopedia project, and say how much we have enjoyed collaborating with you all.

First, we acknowledge the hard work, cooperation and help of the authors of the articles in this book. Clearly, without their work and their preparedness to share their intellectual property with us, this book could not have been written. But we would also like to thank the authors for willingly sharing ideas with and making constructive comments on the work of their fellow authors through the peer review process.

We would also like to thank the staff at Idea Group Reference for recognising the worth of this project, for their tremendously helpful and well written guidelines, and for their invaluable assistance throughout the process (including those occasional reminders about outstanding tasks). Our special thanks go to Jennifer Sundstrom, Jan Travers, Renee Davies, Sara Reed and Mehdi Khosrow-Pour for their help throughout the project.

Of course, all this would not have been possible without the love and support of our families throughout the process. So special thanks go to our wives and children, Margaret Mase, Desmond Mase, Rondha Taylor, Zhenwei Yu, Alice Yu, and Kettie Yu, for their support, devotion, and patience. Thank you for sticking by us.

Last, and by no means least, we would like to thank our Editorial Assistant Megan Hoodcamp for the many hours she has spent communicating with all the stakeholders to ensure that all the articles were written, reviewed and edited to the highest possible standard. Thank you Megan for bringing it all together with such patience and good humour, sometimes under very trying circumstances.
