

Acknowledgment

Deep gratitude goes to the contributing authors who generously shared their work in this handbook. Their response to our call for chapters demonstrates the power of electronic collaboration to bring together people from across the globe and accomplish outstanding results. This handbook would not have been possible without the contributions of Panaena Bina, who managed the complexities of the double-blind peer review, compiled a comprehensive glossary of terms and generally helped to facilitate the completion of this book. We thank Cole Keirse for much needed editorial and technical advice.

We are grateful to the many peer reviewers, whose careful reading and constructive comments enabled the authors to improve and develop their chapters. We appreciate the interest and support of the editorial board.

The enthusiasm of the IGI Global staff for this Handbook of Research encouraged us to keep the project moving forward.

Finally, we thank you, the reader, for giving this book your attention. We hope that after reading this handbook you will be motivated to use and study new collaborative approaches with your colleagues, learners and friends. We hope that when a future call for chapters goes out, you will be ready to share your discoveries by contributing a chapter.

*Janet Salmons, PhD
Vision2Lead, Inc and Capella University
Boulder, Colorado*

*Lynn Wilson, PhD
OSSIA and SeaTrust
Olympia, Washington*