

Acknowledgments

I wish to recognize contributions made by reviewers and associate editors in bringing this scholarly book to fruition. I thank them for their due diligence in reviewing and critiquing the manuscripts included in this volume. My sincere thanks to the authors for being highly responsive to the reviewers' and associate editors' comments and promptly meeting the deadlines imposed on them. They have made outstanding contributions to this publication.

I express my special thanks to Grace Silerio at the Information and Decision Sciences Department at the University of Texas at El Paso who was instrumental in keeping this project on track. Her effort and dedication to the project are truly appreciated. I also thank Jan Travers and Michelle Potter at Idea Group Inc. for their help towards this project.
