

Acknowledgment

We would like to express our gratitude to the many people that helped us in developing this project. From the book proposal to the distribution to libraries and scholars, an endeavor like this involves so complex set of activities that, without the support from those people, it would not have been possible to carry out.

First, we want to thank the authors that submitted their contributions, accepted or not, by putting their efforts and commitment in this project. At this point, it is important to say that, in face of the competitiveness and space limitations, some good chapters could not be included in the final manuscript. We also wish to thank the research colleagues that spent their time and effort by reviewing and evaluating the contributions, offering an important and invaluable feedback for improving the final versions of the chapters. Yet, we would like to thank the colleagues that helped us in reviewing the subsidiary texts. We are especially grateful to the team at IGI Global that during the entire process offered a worthwhile support and infrastructure that were fundamental for conducting the project. Finally, we are grateful to our families by their patience and care during the time that we had involved with the many activities necessary to accomplish our objectives.

Hércules Antonio do Prado and Edilson Fernalda