

Acknowledgment

The editor would like to thank all the authors who have submitted chapter proposals, and all accepted authors and reviewers from a variety of fields for their excellent contributions and insights, without which this book would not have been possible. I particularly appreciate Professors Drs. Yasushi Kiyoki and Yoshiyasu Takefuji. Both of them were my doctoral supervisor and advisor at Keio University. I definitely appreciate Professor Dr. Gregory Silverman at Seattle University School of Law. In his cyberlaw class of 1999 at the University of Chicago Law School, an idea to publish this kind of book flashed in my mind. Special thanks go to the excellent staff at IGI Global for the opportunity to publish this book focusing on the multidisciplinary studies of intellectual property and multimedia information technology. I am grateful to the Microsoft Research Trust for Intellectual Property Studies, for its generous financial grant on my study. I am very happy and proud to have the great chance to publish this book with the marvelous friends and fellows around me this time.

Again, thank Lord and all of you who have helped and supported me.

I dedicate this book to my best friends, Dr. Terrence C. Bartolini, his wife, Dr. Carol Braun, their children: Alyssa, Lindsay, and Kyle, and, Jim Wyse, and all the Rotarians of Omiya (Japan) and Oak Lawn (Illinois) Rotary Clubs, who have helped and supported my stay of happiness and joy in Chicago with their kindness and gentleness, generosity, and patience.
