

Acknowledgment

I would like to acknowledge the assistance of the following individuals and institutions who have provided me with support and assistance throughout this project: McGill University and McGill Library for granting me sabbatical leave so that I could pursue this project, my colleagues at the McGill Education Library and Curriculum Resources Centre for keeping things running smoothly in my absence, the authors and peer reviewers who contributed and critiqued the chapters that make up this volume, my parents who acted as sounding boards for my ideas and babysitters for my son, and my husband Gil and son Jack who are sources of love and inspiration every day.
