

Acknowledgment

Our sincerest gratitude and appreciation go out to the many people who helped us make this book a success. These types of endeavors are truly the culmination of many people working towards a common goal. It has been a true pleasure working with such a talented and courteous group of individuals. We send our deepest thanks to all the contributors to this book. Without your hard work, insight and dedication, this project would not have been possible in its current form.

We would also like to thank the members of the Editorial Advisory Board for their hard work and advice and for lending a helping hand in the review process. We would like to also convey our appreciation so all of the reviewers. Many colleagues, peer researchers and friends volunteered their time to assist and were a significant help, offering very detailed and constructive comments to strengthen the content of this book. For the many anonymous colleagues that helped us spread the word about this book and its initial call for chapters, we would also like to acknowledge your work and our appreciation for you help. The publishing team at IGI Global has been a tremendous help and we would like to thank them for all of their efforts, assistance and guidance throughout the entire process.

Last but certainly not least, we would also like to also thank our families, friends and colleagues for their support and patience throughout this project. Thank you to everyone who made this book possible!

Giovanni Vincenti
Towson University, USA

James Braman
Towson University, USA

January 2010