

Acknowledgment

There are several people that I would like to acknowledge who were involved in this process. I would like to thank all of the authors and contributors to this book for their insightful and well executed chapters.

Many thanks to my editorial board: Dr. Brenda J. Allen-University of Denver; Dr. Mark P. Orbe-Western Michigan University; Dr. Clifton W. Scott- The University of North Carolina at Charlotte; Dr. Tyler Harrison-Purdue University; Dr. Stacey Connaughton-Purdue University; and Dr. Gaelle Picherit-Duthler-Zehid University, UAE.

I would like to thank the numerous reviewers who blind reviewed each of the chapters and offered insightful and instructive feedback to the contributors. Special thanks to my research team- Rachel Widener, M.A., Richie Goodman, M.A., and Jamon Flowers, M.A.. I would also like to thank Dr. Richard Leeman and Dr. Steven Rogelberg for their important insights on this project.

The support of the Department of Communication Studies and Organizational Science Program at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte has been invaluable in completing this project. The intellectual and interdisciplinary climate at this vibrant institution makes working a pleasure.

Special thanks to IGI Global and the competent and energetic team with whom I worked closely with to complete this project. A special thanks to Elizabeth Ardner and Joel Gamon for their expert guidance and support throughout this process.

Finally, and most importantly, I wish to thank my family and friends for their ongoing and tireless support of me in all of my endeavors and lending a willful ear and support to this project.
