

Acknowledgment

Our indebtedness goes to the Editorial Board of the IGI Global for offering the opportunity to edit this casebook focusing issues of practical importance related to open innovation in the aspect of the small and medium entrepreneurship. Our thanks go to the expert supporting staff of IGI Global to make this a project a successful one. We are also thankful to Editorial Advisory Board Members and all contributing Authors of this casebook for their cooperation, contribution and collaboration. Our indebtedness extends to all Reviewers, especially Ana - Cristina Ionescu and Cândida Silva for their extended support during the tiring review process.

It would not be easy to complete this work in time unless continuous support came from our family members.

Finally, we are grateful to the colleagues at the Department of Information Systems of the University, especially João Alvaro Carvalho, who were helpful throughout the entire project.
