

Acknowledgment

This book would not have been possible without the cooperation of many people: the authors, the reviewers, my colleagues, the staff at IGI Global, and my family.

To the authors who have each spent a lot of time and energy writing, editing, and rewriting their chapters over the last year, without you there would be no book. To the reviewers, many of whom were also authors and therefore did double duty, your constructive feedback has made each and every chapter the best it can be. We appreciate the time you spent reading and discerning the chapters.

To all my colleagues not directly involved with the writing or reviewing of chapters, without your ideas, discussions, and support, this book would have remained just an idea. A special thank to my colleague, Alberto, who helped me many times during the last year.

To all of the staff at IGI Global, in particular Allyson Gard and Alyssa Sweigart, I thank you for your continued support, advice, and assistance with all aspects of the project from its initial proposal up through the final publication approvals.

To my parents, my grandmother, my wife Maria and my dog Sophie, without your love and support, there would be no book. This book is devoted to you!
